Discuss Plan to 'Adopt' Peru Village

Local Support Is Required

Arlington Heights has a month to decide whether it wants to "adopt" the community of Pompa di Coman, Peru.

Wayne Brennan, director of the Chamber of Commerce project, Monday asked local organizations to indicate interest in the proposed "adoption" by October 23.

Pompa di Coman is an underprivileged community of 50,000 people living at the foot of the Andes mountains, just outside Lima.

Brennan has proposed that Arlington Heights citizens share friendships, technical experience, and possibly food and clothing with the Latin American community.

Representatives from a number of village organizations Monday heard CBS television news commentator Frank Reynolds and Peruvian Consul Oscar Benavidas encourage Arlington Heights to support the project.

BOTH attended a meeting held in the Lauterburg and Oehler meeting room.

Reynolds recently produced and narrated a television documentary which discussed the plight of Pompa di Coman and other underprivileged Latin American communities.

That production prompted Brennan to look into ways in which Arlington Heights could aid Pompa di Coman.

Monday Reynolds described Pompa di Coman as "one of the ugliest-looking cities I have ever seen."

"BUT WHILE the area is a slum," Reynolds commented, "it has few of the earmarks of a slum. The children are well-adjusted; the parents are proud. I saw no beggars. They had an unusual dignity about them."

"They don't want their children to have to live in Pompa di Coman."

"That is why," he continued, "we decided to devote considerable time to Pompa di Coman in the documentary."

Reynolds noted that the entire community is served by one school. The school has three teachers and 600 students, he said.

He commented that the director of the school was doing an "unbelievable" job, considering the obstacles.

"AND THE children," he continued, "were delightful. They greeted us, total strangers, like friends. I'll never be able to forget them."

Benavidas, the Peruvian consul, told the audience that most of the residents are farmers of Spanish-Indian descent who have migrated from the mountains. Those who are lucky find jobs in Lima, but many are unemployed, he added.

The community has no running water. Shacks are built of wood, tin, and any other materials the dwellers can find, according to Benavidas.

THE CONSUL remarked that the Peruvian president's wife has organized a committee to help the people of Pompa di Coman.

"However," he noted, "the government has so much to do that it has little time to look into the plight of these people."

He concurred with Reynolds that the people of Pompa di Coman would be grateful for any help Arlington Heights could offer.

"They need some kind of encouragement, so they know they aren't alone," Benavidas told the audience.

BRENNAN remarked that he was interested in helping the people to help themselves rather than conducting a charity program.

He told the audience that, until he knew he had the village's support, he was not going to propose specific projects to aid Pompa di Coman.

He asked organization representatives to poll their groups to find if he had backing for the project.

A meeting was set for October 23, at Lauterburg and Oehler. At that time Brennan will gauge the interest and decide whether to go ahead with the project.

Three preliminary steps were outlined—

—Benavidas will contact Peruvian officials to find their reaction to the proposal.

—Reynolds will forward some slides and film he took of Pompa di Coman to Brennan. The film will be used to familiarize residents with the Latin American community.

—Brennan will send a letter to the director of the lone school, asking for her suggestions.

According to Reynolds, three of the most vital needs of the community are food, clothing, and books.

SOME 160 American communities have adopted similar neighbor-to-neighbor programs, under the auspices of the American Municipal Association.

Study Monday Store Opening

Monday evening store hours is the current No. 1 project of the retail committee of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce.

Several merchants have indicated plans to inaugurate Monday evening hours. Others are continuing such hours for their stores.

Retail committee is polling local merchants on their thoughts regarding Monday evenings, and hope to come up with some definite trends within another week.

Mental Health Group to Meet

Arlington Heights Chapter of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health association will hear two reports at a meeting Thursday, Aug. 31 at Pioneer park.

The meeting, to be held in the fieldhouse's east room, will begin at 8:30 p.m. Donald Tynell and Marion Rumpf, representatives to the association's personnel and clinical practices committee, will make the reports.

WOODS FORESEES TAX STABILITY

Mayor Cites Added Acreage

Mayor John G. Woods Tuesday termed the annexation of 215 acres to Arlington Heigths' southern boundary an "important step" in stabilizing village taxes.

He further stated that the annexation will remove a threatened overburdening of the school system.

Village trustees last week approved the annexation, which covers an area located east of the Nike site and bounded by the toll road and Arlington Heights road.

A Des Plaines firm, Reddy Property Investments, Inc., controls most of the presently undeveloped area.

dy Property Investments, inc., controls most of the presently undeveloped area.

Woods anticipates that some commercial and light-research-type establishments will some day occupy the site.

He explained that, if the area were used strictly for residential purposes, village taxes would rise because of the increased facilities required for the school system.

"THE MORE children added to our schools, the bigger the tax burden," Woods added. He noted that schools take the biggest chunk of the local taxpayers dollar.

"With a mixed development, such as we anticipate," he said, "the village will gain income. The only way to reduce taxes is to control land."

"Since we now control the land," Woods continued, "we eventually should be able to stabilize and then lower taxes."

WOODS' CAUCUS party had called for a vigorous land annexation program in its successful bid for village offices in last April's election.

For a time, village expansion was threatened when William A. Alter, developer of Arlington Gardens subdivision, refused to annex to Arlington Heights. The subdivision is located south of Central rd.

The village maneuvered around this threat by annexing the Nike site this June.

THIS ALLOWED Arlington Heights to annex the 215 acres, which is located adjacent to the Nike base.

The village otherwise would have been unable to annex the land because it was not contiguous to Arlington Heights boundaries.

Cook county approved the annexation August 10, and forwarded its decision to the village board.

Melvin L. Kurtz, a former trustee, heads the village annexation committee. Woods credited the committee with playing an instrumental part in acquiring the land.

Ask Report On Foliage

"With weeds about seven feet high at Pratt and Nicholas, how could I see that stop sign? was the argument of Charles Look, 47, 1008 N. Fernandez, Arlington Heights.

After assessing a fine of $5 and $2 court costs Judge H. A. Ahlgren suggested a report be made to the village board by the police department regarding the overgrowth of foliage.

Mobil Station Now Under Way

The Mobil Refining company has announced the start on construction of an ultra-modern service port at the corner of Kensington and Dryden sts. in Arlington Heights.

The enameled metal structure will be ready for leasing and operation the first part of November according to company officials.

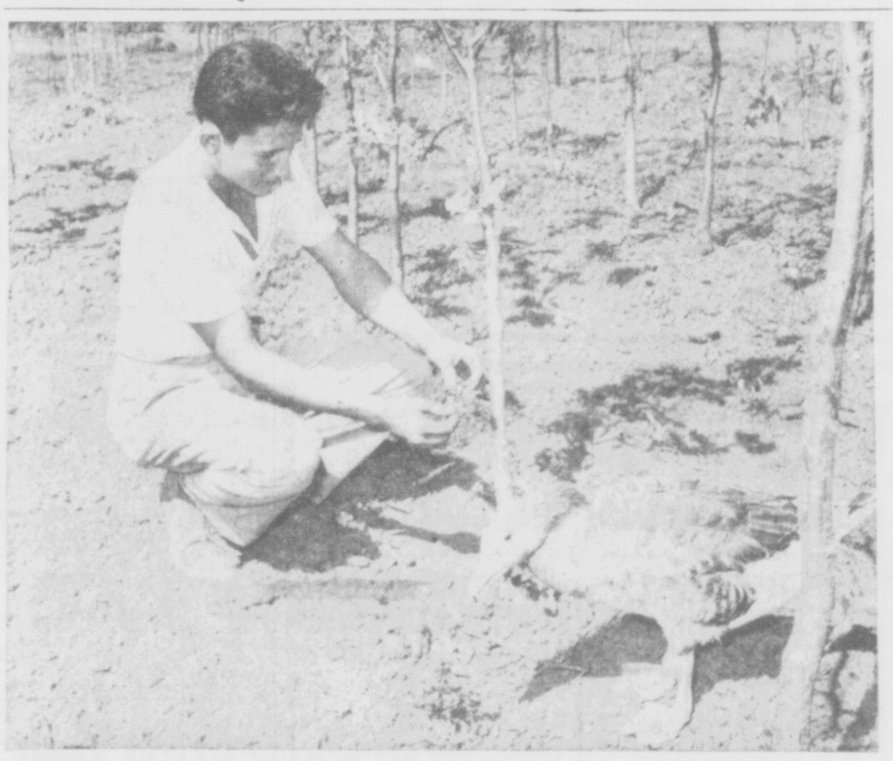
R. E. Clabaugh Schedules Talk

R. E. Clabaugh, superintendent of Arlington Heights school district 25, will discuss the philosphy and policies of the district Thursday morning, Aug. 31.

Clabaugh will speak in the South Junior high school gymnasium at 9 a.m. before the teachers and administrators of district 25.

First Dictionary

The first American dictionary was published in Worcester, Mass., in 1788.



CHECKING on the progress of one of the Klehm "weeder geese" is Jaun Romero, 16, a laborer on the Charles Klehm and Son nursery in Arlington Heights. The nursery is currently employing three of the special geese on an experimental basis.

Hoe That Row!

Trio of Geese Weed Klehm Nursery Crop

by BILL HOGATE

From an early age most farmers have learned to pull, hoe, or cultivate weeds from their rows. But an Arlington Heights college lad refuses to succumb to these age-old ways.

He's got a trio of geese to do the job.

The lad is Carl Klehm Jr., 22, of the Charles Klehm son nursery at State and Algonquin rds. in Arlington Heights. The geese are three "weeder geese" recently purchased on an experimental basis.

The geese are a White Chinese strain developed by the Hearts of Missouri poultry farm. There, they were trained to systematically walk up and down the rows eating only weeds — leaving nursery stock and other crops alone.

YOUNG KLEHM originally purchased six Weeder geese in the spring for $2.40 each. On the first night a fox ate two of the animals while they were still in the shipping crate. One other goose was killed recently, shaving the anti-weed force down to its present strength of three.

Klehm, a graduate student at the University of Wisconsin's department of agriculture, explained that three to five weeder geese are needed to keep an acre of crops clean the first year they are used.

"Because the weeds don't come in as strongly the following years, only two to three geese are necessary to keep an acre clean in subsequent years," he added.

Each goose weighs about 15 pounds, and has his wings clipped so that he will not be able to fly away from the work area. On the Klehm farm, a tender is necessary to accompany the geese and keep them concentrating on one row at a time.

According to Klehm, the biggest problem thus far has been keeping the water-loving geese from a lake on the nursery. The geese have noted that their human counterparts are allowed a coffee break, and only deem it fair that they be allowed a number of "swim breaks."

Actually the use of geese to do the weeding in several crops is not a new thing. Cotton farmers have been using them for years. Also, the geese can kill many weeds in a strawberry patch without injuring the plants.

If shade trees are not near the field that the geese are working, a temporary shelter has to be erected to protect the geese from overexposure to the sun. They also need an abundant supply of water at the end of the rows in order to make them efficient.

Young Klehm stated that "their weed diet should be supplemented, but not enough to satisfy their appetites, or they won't eat the weeds. I usually feed them about a handful of corn a day," he added.

The corn is scattered at the end of the rows that the geese are working. The geese will eat some of the corn, then waddle along the rows to the water, eating weeds as they go.

For Oldest Honor

Can Anybody Top Al Volz?

Most contests are for babies or for young beauty queens. At last, however, there is a contest of sorts for the oldest person — oldest person born in Arlington Heights, that is.

So far Albert Volz, 90, 6 E. Hawthorn, Arlington Heights, has the best chance of wearing the crown for the oldest resident born in Arlington Heights in the 125th Anniversary celebration parade.

However, Virgil Horath, local merchant, is putting out the appeal to all Arlington Heights residents for the oldest resident who was born in Arlington Heights.

The "king or queen" of the oldsters will ride in a convertible with nine members of his court of oldest Arlington Heights villagers in the Anniversary parade Saturday, October 7.

Five other octogenarians are currently slated for a seat in one of the parade convertibles, Marie and Adeline Miller, both in their 80's; George Volz, 87; Mrs. Josephine Seiburg, 85; and Mrs. Henry C. Meyer, 83.

VIRGIL HORATH has put out the call for genuine oldsters to complete the court. He pointed out that contestants must have been born and raised in Arlington Heights. "I know lots of people who can top Al Volz for age, who were not born in Arlington," Horath stated.

Interested oldsters or sponsors with a "hot tip" should contact Horath at 392-4141.

Skating Rink Opens Its Doors Tonight

Triangle Roller Skating Rink, 1000 W. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, opens to area residents at 7 p.m., tonight, Aug. 31.

The air-conditioned rink, with a capacity of 300, is run by brothers Ben and Abe Linderman. The Linderman's Furniture Town formerly occupied the site.

It will be open every night, with matinees on Saturdays, Sundays, and holidays.

GRAND OPENING festivities will climax a three-month rebuilding and remodeling program. Lyon and Healy of Arlington Heights has installed an organ and high fidelity sound system.

A lot with 36,000 sq. ft. of parking area has been paved. Attendants will supervise the lot. A snack bar will offer sandwiches and refreshments.

Don Scott is the rink's professional organist. Bob Taylor, a professional skater, will conduct classes for beginners at other levels of skill. He will instruct both class and private skating classes.

THE LINDERMAN'S plan to emphasize group and family skating. They have scheduled family night for Tuesday evenings, and plan to hold at least one club night each week.

STUART R. PADDOCK

When we asked a local restauranteur why he did not turn down his blatant radio during the luncheon hour, he replied "the noise it makes prevents the people at the next table from hearing the conversation of their neighbors."

Frankly, we have rather enjoyed listening in on tales of private lives that are so often discussed over the luncheon table.

The new route that No. 53 will take through Palatine township has been definitely settled. We do not know who won or lost until after Monday night's board meeting.

Whether or not you agree with the decision of the highway department, you must admit the state certainly spent a lot of time in hearings.

At least the building developers through whose land the road must pass, will be off the waiting seat.

The pressure placed on the legislature by Mt. Prospect and Des Plaines to get recognition of Weller Creek troubles was successful. Governor Kerner has agreed and signed the bill.

We congratulate the groups which brought it about with the help of Legislator William Carroll and the bill's co-sponsors.

Those, who through the years have attended county zoning hearings, will agree with us that Cook County Zoning Board will miss its able secretary Walter Popjoy who died suddenly last week.

He was always fair in his questioning, and recorded without prejudice the evidence presented by each side of a zoning controversy. When the contestants got out of hand he would promptly shut them off.

His position was non-political. The County Board had reappointed him for a new term a few hours before he died.

A personal relationship existed between Mr. Popjoy and members of the press.

Fiftieth wedding anniversaries are becoming more and more prevalent due to lengthening of the life span. When the man and wife celebrating such event have been residents of one community for the greater part of their life together, its observance interests the entire community.

Thus, in behalf of Arlington Heights, we congratulate Mr. and Mrs. William Annen, 922 N. Highland, who will celebrate their 50th anniversary on Sept. 17th.

We, and probably many others, have never taken time to visit Hull House, 800 S. Halsted, Chicago. We did so last Friday and urge others to visit the home before any part of the time-honored buildings make way for the new Chicago campus of the University of Illinois.

Holding a place on the bulletin board is a copy of Paddock Publications telling the personal experience of Howard Faber, an Arlington Heights business man, when as a boy he spent his time at Hull House.

In an effort to aid in a drive to save Hull House, he has established campaign headquarters in his office at 10 West Miner.

As Arlington Heights is getting ready to celebrate its 125th anniversary of the arrival of the white man on lands just vacated by the Indians, a member of our staff has asked us for some personal recollections.

They awake in our mind some things of which we are proud as well as instances when we made mistakes. Those were the years when we were cutting our editorial teeth.

Summed up it could have been worse.

Railroad Defends Its Platforms, Shelters

Chicago and North Western railroad is spending $24,000 to improve commuter platforms and to build two shelters at the Arlington Heights station.

Some residents, however, are dissatisfied.

That is what one man indicated this week when he called the Herald to complain that the new shelters are "inadequate."

The resident, who asked that his name not be released, said he knew other commuters felt the same.

"For a two-block long train, we have only two meager shelters. Most of us will get soaked in case of rain," he complained.

HE POINTED out that the two shelters have been built between Dunton and Evergreen, but none between State and Evergreen.

"What happens to the people who get off between State and Evergreen?" he questioned.

He suggested that other Arlington Heights commuters join him in protesting to the Chicago and North Western railroad.

Reached Monday, W. H. Huffman, assistant chief engineer for the railroad, said he does not believe the complaints are valid.

"WHEN PEOPLE get off the train, it's just a matter of getting out of the weather for a short time. Very few people spend more than a few minutes under the shelters. That's the reason we don't provide anything more than we do," he remarked.

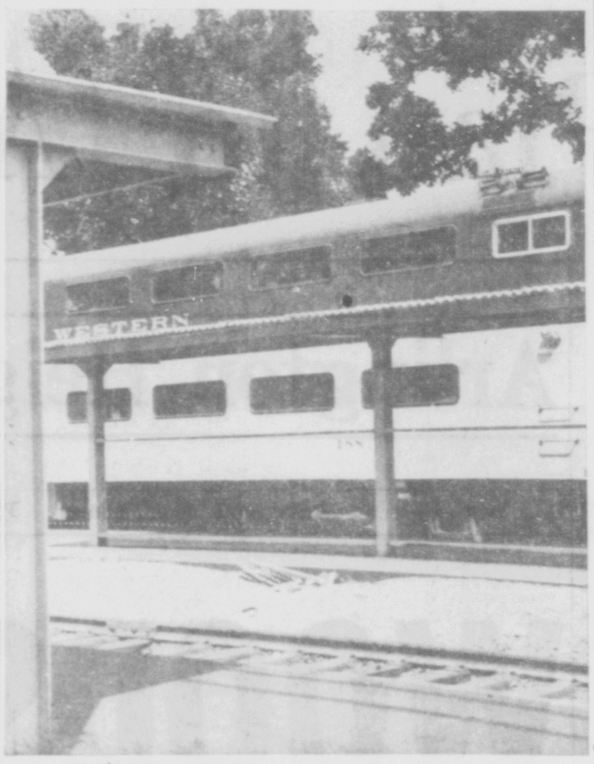
Huffman said two shelters being located in the same place "can't hurt that much."

He pointed out that the trains are becoming shorter, and people are more concentrated than they once were.

Huffman said the railroad does not figure the capacities of its shelters. He said he could not estimate how long the two shelters are expected to adequately serve Arlington Heights commuters.

CURRENTLY, according to Chicago and North Western records, 2,600 people commute to and from Chicago from Arlington Heights each week day.

More people commute from Arlington Heights, according to the railroad than from any other station.



"INADEQUATE?" That is the question an Arlington Heights resident has asked of Chicago and North Western railroad authorities regarding the new commuter shelters built at the Arlington station.

Still Openings In Grid League

There are still openings on some football teams for Arlington Heights boys who will be in either 5th, 6th, 7th or 8th grades this fall.

Practices will begin during the first week of September. For registration information phone Little League President, Leland McKay, CL 3-6670.

District 25 Sets Dual Ceremonies

Arlington Heights district 25 school board has decided to hold two graduation ceremonies next year.

Traditionally, the district has graduated students from Miner and South Junior highs in a single ceremony.

NEXT YEAR, students from South Junior high will graduate June 13. Miner Junior high students will graduate June 14. Both ceremonies will take place in the Arlington high school gymnasium.

According to Assistant Superintendent Robert Campbell, the district is becoming too large for all eighth grade students to graduate at the same time.

Last year, he said seats for the audience were at a premium, and the ceremony was lengthy.

THE DISTRICT expects 500 students to graduate next June, 50 more than graduated last year.

Golf Outing

The Methodist Men's club of the First Methodist church of Arlington Heights will have a golf outing Saturday, Sept. 16, at the Hillcrest Country club. The club is located on Highway 14 between Palatine and Barrington. A day is planned which includes golf, prizes and luncheon for the cost of $6 per person.

Tickets will be available on the morning of the tournament at the course. Reservations should be made on or before Sept. 10 by phoning Walter Dill at CL 3-4768 or Marv Prellberg, Jr. at CL 9-0736. (A

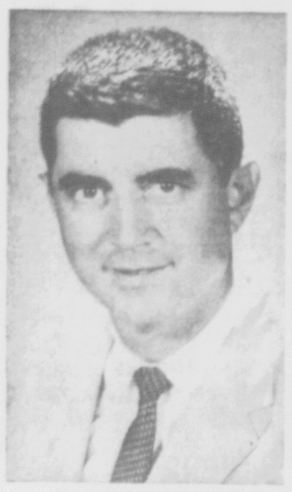
Name Coordinator For Anniversary



ROGER HATHORN

Roger Hathorn, a 37-year-old Chicago resident, has been named general coordinator of the Arlington Heights 125th anniversary celebration.

The appointment of Hathorn, who heads a public relations firm in Chicago, was announced this week by the anniversary committee.

Hathorn will work with chairmen of the 12 anniversary committees, relieving them of some of their tasks.

He will concentrate on promoting the celebration, to be held the first week in October.

"I THINK we will be able to interest people far beyond the local area," he said. "People should come from all over to see the celebration."

He hopes to line up radio and television appearances for some committee members and others people connected with the pageant.

Hathorn majored in journalism at Marquette university. He has headed a public relations firm for nine years.

HE HAS worked with the Highland Park chamber of commerce, trade organizations, and management sales clinics in various projects.

Hathorn, who has been hired until October 10, will work most of the time out of the anniversary headquarters at 1314 W. Northwest hwy. (AF

Wooden Nickels Arrive

The wooden nickels are taking over!

Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce is helping advertise the coming 125th anniversary celebration of the town putting 10,000 souvenir wooden nickels into circulation.

SHOPERS WILL be receiving these as part of their change while shopping in any of 40 stores. Wooden nickels will be good for 5 cents in trade at any of these stores, and are redeemable at face value at any of the three financial institutions in town, until after Oct. 10.

Then, the wooden nickels will be strictly souvenirs. (125

Antiques Needed to Exhibit

He is not looking for something new or something blue, but Bill Neuman, 125th Anniversary celebration antiques chairman, is looking for something borrowed and something old in the true wedding tradition.

Neuman put out the call once again for any and all antiques for display in the windows of local merchants for the 125th Anniversary celebration in Arlington Heights.

SO FAR he has acquired an antique barber chair, an old baby carriage, and a spinning wheel. Neuman promises to return all antiques in good condition when the celebration is over.

Interested residents should contact Neuman at CL 5-9803.

Newcomers Sponsor Contest for Babes

The Arlington Heights Newcomers club will open its "Arlington Heights' Anniversary Baby" contest tomorrow, September 1.

The contest will be extended to September 29, with the eventual first place winner receiving a $100 U. S. savings bond. Runners up will be awarded merchandise prizes.

ENTRANTS must be between the ages of one and three years old. (The child must be one year before September 1, but must not observe his third birthday before October 1)

The parent or guardian of the entrant should enclose a small portrait-type picture of the child along with a 25 cent entry fee in an envelope which may be deposited in one of many contest boxes at local stores.

Finalists will be chosen by the contest committee on the basis of appearance and personal appeal. On Saturday October 7, the baby receiving the most votes in the polling will be awarded the $100 bond.

PICTURES OF the finalists will be on display at Newcomers' "125th Anniversary Social." (A

Children Miss Injury In Bus-Car Collision

A busload of children from Minnesota narrowly escaped serious injury when the bus they were riding collided with a car Aug. 26 on a suburban highway.

Orin Peterson, 55, of Grove City, Minn. was attempting to make a left turn on Illinois 53 at U. S. 12 when the car, driven by Richard Boudreau, 21, of 1318 Carrol, Park Ridge, smashed into it.

STATE police said that Boudreau was proceeding at a fast pace when his vehicle ran into the side of the bus, which was almost completely turned onto Illinois 53.

Four of the passengers were taken to Northwest Community hospital for a checkup when the accident occurred at 1:20 a.m. However, no injuries were discovered, and they were discharged. Youngsters were from 14 to 18 years old and were accompanied by several adults.

Boudreau was charged with failure to yield right of way.

Damage to the bus was $850; to the car, $800.

IN TWO other accidents, individual motorists went off the road.

One, Gail A. Braun, 16, of 139 S. Quentin road, Palatine, was traveling down the old Northwest highway, at Quentin road when the accident occurred at 5:15 p.m. on Aug. 22.

His car went onto the shoulder of the roadway, and when he attempted to pull back onto the road, he lost control and the car struck a tree. The injured driver was taken to Northwest Community hospital.

A passenger, Robert C. Braun 10, was unhurt. Damage to the car was listed at $200.

In the other mishap, David K. Raysby, 17, of 2703 Geneva, Melrose Park, was driving east on Grand avenue, near Lander drive, three blocks west of U.S. 45 when the accident occurred at 1:50 a.m. on Aug. 23.

When he attempted to make a right turn onto Lander, his car slid on the wet pavement and went into the ditch. Injured, he was taken to Elmhurst hospital. Damage was listed as $200.

State police charged Donald A. Dennis, 31, of El Paso, Texas with driving too fast for conditions and disobeying a traffic light on Illinois 53 at Illinois 72.

THE ACCIDENT occurred at 7:50 a.m. on Aug. 25.

When, according to police, Dennis disobeyed a traffic light at this scene, his vehicle was struck by a second car, driven by Leslie Temple, 37, of 117 E. Grove, Lombard.

Dennis' car was spun around and the rear end of his car knocked down the traffic light on the northwest corner of the intersection.

Both Dennis and a passenger in the other car, Donald Hunter, 22, of 341 E. Madison, Lombard, were injured and taken to the Northwest Community hospital.

Damage to each car was listed as $1000.

In another accident, at U. S. 45 at Illinois 194, Maren J. Hallar, 50, of Rockford was making a left turn. The time was 12:10 p.m., the date—Aug. 26.

His vehicle was struck by one driven by Charles Rearick, 21, of 8117 N. Osceola, Niles, who told state police he didn't see the other vehicle.

Injured was a passenger in the first car, Victoria Pizzuto, 43, of Touhy and River roads, Des Plaines. A second passenger in the same car, Toni Lee Pizzuto, 5, was unhurt.

Rearick was charged with having an expired chauffeur's license and driving too fast for conditions. Damage to the first car was $400; to the second $150.

EDWARD Walsh, 21, of 1132 Elgin, Forest Park, was northbound at 5:30 a.m. Aug. 26 on Illinois 83. When his car reached Illinois 72, it left the road, traveling on the right shoulder.

Then the vehicle went sideways across the road and slid into a ditch, rolled over on its side and righted itself.

Walsh, who was injured, was taken to Northwest Community hospital. He was charged with driving too fast for conditions and having no driver's license. Damage to his car was listed at $600.

Patricia A. Ryan, 16, of 512 N. Maple, Mt. Prospect, was traveling east on Seeger road at Douglas road, northwest of Illinois 83 at 3 p.m. on Aug. 22.

Traveling on Douglas was Anthony F. Damiano, 43, of 105 E. Country club, Northlake. Damiano's car struck the rear of the other car.

Injured was Damiano and two passengers in the Ryan car, Marie E. Ryan, 47, a[illegible] Ryan, 567 Earston rd., Kenilworth. They were taken to the Northwest Community hospital.

MISS RYAN was charged with failure to yield right of way. Damage to the first car was listed as $200; to the second as $175.

Francis Karpinski, 41, of Miami, Fla. was backing onto U.S. 14 at 1:25 a.m. on Aug. 27, from a private parking lot when his vehicle was struck on the right side rear by a car driven by William J. Jesser, 62, of 332 N. Smith, Palatine, who was traveling southeast.

Injured was a passenger in the second car, Lenore Messer, 52, who was taken to the Northwest Community hospital.

Karpinski was charged with illegal backing. Damage to the first car was listed as $400; to the second, $500. (B-8

Proposes Bomb Shelters

Suburb Man Develops Sharp Concern for Civil Defense

by JOHN REDDY

The issue of Civil Defense is getting an increased share of public attention. And the interest in CD is more intense as diplomatic notes add fuel to the Berlin crisis.

The cry "Apathy!" has been heard loud and clear as CD officials begin agitating for increased public interest at the grass roots level.

"Give us the answers!"

"Tell us what to do!"

"How do we go about informing ourselves?"

THESE HAVE been the demands of northwest area residents as they call local Civil Defense directors, village halls and newspapers.

An Arlington Heights man, George Fischer, 39, of 644 N. Gibbons, also has contacted his local CD officials. Unlike most callers, however, Fischer is offering some help instead of asking for it.

For his interest in Civil Defense has been growing ever since Berlin first became an issue with the air lift of 1948. And when Russian officials announced "We'll bury you," Fischer's interest in CD became more than just academic.

He started scouting around for all the information he could get on atomic warfare. Not content to forsake his interest when local CD officials were unable to provide the type of information he described, Fischer wrote to the superintendent of documents in Washington D. C.

FROM A list of every recorded article on radioactivity and warfare, Fischer requested he be sent all those brochures and pamphlets he felt would provide the answers.

"Big atom missiles are too expensive to be sent in on a hit-or-miss basis," Fischer believes. "If we are attacked it will be by smaller bombs on jet bombers and we in Arlington Heights will be a prime target with the Nike center located here."

"What I want to see is 7000 families surviving any blast here. Because after the blast it is my opinion the next thing will be paratroopers."

"And I want to see a type of home guard surviving and ready to pick them off as they drop to the ground."

THIS, according to Fischer, means "we've got to survive the blast and it will take more than just fallout shelters." Bomb shelters are his antidote.

How are the resident survivors going to be equipped with weapons, Fischer was asked. "CD authorities could provide access to small arms practice ranges and be ready to distribute rifles in case of actual attack," he stated.

Fischer is a construction engineer. He would like to be able to provide bomb shelters for area residents if enough real interest is shown.

He states he has copies of federally approved bomb shelter plans that could be made a reality for $1,800. Last year he was contacted by one person who was ready to build. But bomb shelter construction would not be economical for him unless there was a volume business.

"I BELIEVE this is the only answer and I'd see them built just for cost if only there was a real public interest."

"We don't have to be wiped out if a bomb comes."

This year Fischer has received a half dozen inquiries. He says he plans to work with local CD authorities and make whatever information he has available to them.

Las Vegas Journey For Card Winners

The Stardust hotel in Las Vegas, Nevada, will be host to the first place winners of benefit card party to be sponsored by the Holy Family hospital October 13 at O'Hare Inn.

Members of the hospital's auxiliary ways and means committee met recently to draft plans for the third annual card party.

IN ADDITION to the round trip United airlines flight for two to Las Vegas, the holder of the evening's lucky raffle ticket will be awarded $100. There are 13 other prizes and an array of door prizes in the offing for the 300 persons expected to attend the affair.

Anyone desiring tickets or further information is asked to phone Mrs. John D. Patterson, 1710 W. Oakton, Arlington Heights. Mrs. Patterson is the area chairman of the ways and means committee. (B8

OFTEN MISUSED

Do not say, "I wish you would let me alone." It is much better to say, "I wish you would LEAVE me alone."

"Convenient TO" should be followed by a person, and "convenient FOR" should be followed by a purpose. Thus: "This arrangement will be convenient TO you," and, "This book is convenient FOR reference."

Do not say, "Can you advise me when the shipment will be made?" Say, "Can you INFORM me?" "Advise" means to give counsel, and "inform" means to impart facts, news or knowledge.

Teaching 'Revolution' Is Controversy

New Approach For Schools

by HELENE BRISTOL

The newest teaching technique, labeled a "revolution in instruction" by educators, is being alternately hailed and criticized by teachers at all levels.

Programed instruction, the single-step learning technique used with teaching machines, is called a new development with vast possibilities to increase teaching efficiency and effectiveness.

Modern programed instruction follows a basic four step cycle. The student —reads a small unit of information which calls for a response on his part by way of an answer to a question;

—composes a response, for example, by filling in a blank or labeling a diagram;

—is informed immediately of the correct answer while the relevant material and his answers are still in view; and —then advances to the next step in the program.

In addition to the short-step and successful-answer system used in programed instruction, the "reinforcement" of an immediate correct answer is a vital part of the technique. This, psychologists say, greatly aids learning.

Each student is able to progress at his own rate of speed. Teachers are freed of routinized drill, giving them extra time to enrich the curriculum or aid individual students who need extra help.

The four-part instruction cycle and modern programed instruction was given its major impetus in the late 1950's by Dr. B. F. Skinner, experimental psychologist at Harvard University.

While educators and experimental psychologists emphasize the values of the "new" teaching method, the basic principles of the system are as old as records of the first public school system.

The same principles were reintroduced more than 30 years ago by a famous missionary-teacher who successfully taught millions of the world's illiterates to read.

Today when educators are beginning to evaluate education on the basis of proven research, the programed instruction method is being slowly accepted as a technique more effective than traditional teaching methods.

ALMOST 2,000 years ago Quintilian, the first public school administrator, advised teachers, "Do not neglect the individual student. He should be questioned and praised . . . he should strive for victory . . . but it must be arranged that he gains it . . . Draw forth his powers with both praise and rewards."

In spite of giving lip service to this advice for 19 centuries, educators have used the threat of failure rather than the arranging of success as a way of inducing students to learn.

Findings of present-day research bear out Quintilian—that students learn best when conditions are arranged for success, when praise and reward are given for answering successfully and when individual instruction is given.

Frank Laubach is famous for his teaching philosophy among the world's illiterates of "Each one teach one." Sent to the Philippines as a Congregational missionary more than 30 years ago, Laubach found the Moro tribesmen without a written language.

He developed a written script and began his now famous system of simple chart and keyword self-teaching. He adapted this system of short steps, successful answers, no examination in teaching reading in 239 tongues and dialects.

Laubach stressed "We must prove to the student that he can learn easily, quickly and delightfully . . . Every step must be so short that any ordinary man can take it easily . . . We must neither push nor retard him for he is happy only when he feels free to take his own natural gait . . . The texts require a maximum of participation by the student."

THESE WORDS could have come from almost any article recently written on the subject of "teaching machines."

While teaching machines are a major development of the technique of programed instruction, a good program presented in book form can teach more simply but just as effectively as a machine.

Programed instruction uses both the advice of Quintilian and the successful technique of Laubach.

IN THE WORDS of Donald Thomas, assistant principal of Prospect high school and a well-known programed instruction advocate, "Programed instruction is a very scientific lesson plan which could release teachers from the work of outlining daily lesson programs."

According to Thomas the "ideal class situation would be where teachers will be able to increase student motivation by using programed instruction for basic fundamental items and use discussion or lecture techniques for the more creative process of learning."

From National Education Association reports and teachers themselves, Thomas pointed out that teachers at first probably only will accept programed instruction as a supplemental method. "They will use it part of the time, use it for special students or use it for students needing special instruction in particular subjects," he indicated.

Programed instruction gives teachers more control and knowledge of whether students are learning or paying attention, according to Thomas.

FIRST USE of programed instruction in Arlington - Prospect district 214 came last year with three experimental English classes at the sophomore, junior and senior level in Prospect high school. Using a programed instruction text known as English 2600 the technique was introduced as a supplemental item.

The same programed instruction grammar book will be used during the 1961-62 school year on a more general basis. The text will not be limited to specific classes but used for special students throughout the school.

A trial program in algebra will be used by Prospect high school mathematics teachers this year. This will be a limited experimental program for students who have difficulty in learning freshman algebra by traditional methods.

Further introduction of programed instruction is under discussion, Thomas said.

THOMAS RECENTLY returned from a special institute on programing techniques conducted by the Public Service Research, Inc., Stamford, Conn. The institute dealt with general learning theory, programed instruction principles as well as techniques and applications of the method to industrial training.

Thomas was the only educator present at the institute which attracted a wide range of industrial leaders. Use of programed instruction and teaching machines is being quickly adapted to industrial training programs, Thomas stated. Schools lag behind industry in application of the technique, he indicated.

Once teachers accept more of the new teaching methods such as programed instruction and team or group teaching, Thomas pointed out daily classes will vary from the accepted set number in the same room each day. On one day there might be 90 students together for a lecture, then classes of 30 or 10 on other days, with days set aside for individual research, instruction or work.

THIS WILL bring a whole new concept of education, completely revising present teaching patterns and school design, educators say.

With Quintilian's advice or Laubach's technique, the "new concept" could have been an "accepted practice" today, eliminating teachers' fears of being replaced by machines or the obsolescence of new school buildings as they are being built.

Elk Grove Is Top Township in New Building Permits

Elk Grove township headed the slate for number of building permits issued during the month of June for the townships served by Paddock Publications.

A total of 56 building permits were issued in Elk Grove for a total valuation of $863,000. Heading the list of townships for total value of permits issued for the month is Maine township with a total valuation of $1,401,500 for 43 permits.

WHEELING township was second in the number of June building permits issued and and third in valuation. Forty-eight permits were issued for a total value of $639,900. Maine township was third in number of permits with 43 issued.

Ranking fourth in number and valuation of June permits was Palatine township. During the month 23 permits were issued for a total valuation of $300,100. Schaumburg township issued four permits for $18,100 in work, while Barrington township issued three permits for a total of $30,400.

TV GRIPES

by ED LANDWEHR

A national organization that checks public reaction to television commercials and programming reports that there is a growing disenchantment about television. Sixty per cent of the men and forty-nine per cent of women have very pronounced gripes about TV viewing. Fewer people thought during 1960 than any other year that television was doing an excellent job.

For example, one half of the people interviewed across the nation objected to many types of programs. One third didn't like commercials and a majority thought there were too many.

However, there was one satisfactory note. TV servicing had improved through better electronic instruments. And we're proud to report that LANDWEHR TV, 218 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, is equipped with the latest types for fast and dependable maintenance of TV, radio, hi-fi or any appliance that has a sound passing through it. Advisory Committee

20 Citizens Named to Study Merits of Suburban College

Twenty area residents have been named to the citizen advisory committee for the proposed north-northwest suburban junior college.

Ten representatives were named by each of the nine participating high school districts. The high school areas included in the proposed junior college district are Arlington-Prospect, Palatine-Schaumburg, Evanston, Glenbrook, Highland Park, Maine, New Trier, Niles and Ridgewood.

THE SURVEY committee will be divided into five major categories, each headed by a university specialist in the field. The five sub-committees include building, curriculum, population, finance and public relations.

Named as advisory committee members Palatine - Schaumburg high school district 211 are: Jack Fiddes, 528 N. Cumnock, Inverness, and Howard Olsen, 547 N. Cedar, Palatine—population; Robert Williamson, 498 Inverway, Inverness, and Marion Jordan, 444 N. Comfort, Palatine — finance; Erie Jones, 262 N. Linden, Palatine, and Vernon L. Dobeck, 270 Webster, Schaumburg — building; Donald Truitt, 718 Morton, Hoffman Estates, and Leonard Pecilunas, 182 Bradley ln., Hoffman Estates—curriculum; Mrs. Fred Nicklas, 450 N. Ayrshire, Inverness, and David Mann, 186 Bradley, Hoffman Estates —public relations.

Choices for the population subcommittee from Arlington-Prospect district 214 were Arthur Kelter, 504 Hillcrest, Prospect Heights, and Vance Folkman, 900 Meyer rd., Mount Prospect. Finance subcommittee representatives named were Carl Hammerl, 1441 W. Lincoln, Mount Prospect, and Arthur Aronson, 2818 N. Schoenbeck, Wheeling.

BUILDING subcommittee members from district 214 are C. Conley Stewart, 401 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights, and Robert B. Vogeler, 3505 Kingfisher, Rolling Meadows. Curriculum subcommittee choices are George Sheppard, 210 E. Marion, Prospect Heights, and M. Edward Smith, 221 Wilshire, Arlington Heights.

District 214 public relations committee representatives are Mrs. R. B. Yadon, 826 N. Gibbons, Arlington Heights, and Mrs. Jack Reinsma, 103 Hillside, Prospect Heights.

The advisory committee members will serve as representatives of their high school districts and advise the professional university survey committee mmbers of the viewpoints of their communities.

A professional survey is a prerequisite to the formation of the junior college district. The study is slated for completion in February, 1962. The university survey committee is headed by Dr. Eric Johnson, administrative assistant to the president of Illinois State Normal University. (B8

Name Coordinator for Mental Health Action

Through a grant by Wieboldt Foundation, the Mental Health Society of Greater Chicago, 20 East Jackson, will undertake a three-year project to improve and coordinate existing services, and establish new services for the mentally retarded in a tri-county area.

The Society will assume the administrative direction of the program which will be co-sponsored by the Illinois Council for Mentally Retarded Children and the Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago.

DIRECTOR OF the project which commenced August 15, is Paul I. Kliger, formerly director of social services at the Minneapolis Rehabilitation center.

He has also been associated with the Hastings State hospital, Hastings, Minn.; the University of Minnesota; the Minnesota Association for Mental Health; and the Peoria Mental Health society.

Author and co-author of publications dealing with mental health education, Kliger received his master's degree in social work from the University of Illinois. He will live in the Des Plaines area.

THE PROJECT was initiated by the Welfare Council of Metropolitan Chicago in 1957 because of the need for community planning responsibility for the retarded, and has been transferred to the Mental Health Society for more extensive development of the program.

In addition to community planning, the Mental Health Society will provide consultation to public and private agencies serving the mentally retarded. (B8

Three of Four People Buy Health Coverage

In the space of 20 years, the number of people protected by health insurance has gone from one out of every 11 persons in the United States to the present figure of three out of every four persons, the Health Insurance Institute said this week.

In 1940 nine per cent of the U.S. civilian population were protected by some form of health insurance, the Institute said, while at the beginning of this year 73 per cent of Americans were so covered. At the midway point, 1950, some 51 per cent of the population had health insurance.

TWENTY years ago, only 12 million Americans were covered by hospital expense insurance. Since then there has been an 11-fold increase and some 132 million persons were protected against the costs of hospital care at year-end 1960, declared the Institute. In 1950, nearly 77 million were insured.

The Institute said this explosive growth can be attributed to many factors, among which is the public's growing awareness of the value of modern health care and its need to find a mechanism to help prepay the costs of such care.

The same type of growth has been shown, said the Institute, by surgical expense insurance, and by regular medical expense insurance, which helps pay for non-surgical care by physicians.

In 1940, five million Americans had surgical expense insurance, but in the following 20 years there was a 23-fold increase and at the end of 1960 more than 121 million persons had protection against the cost of surgical bills, the Institute said. In 1950, some 54 million persons had surgical insurance.

REGULAR medical insurance covered only three million Americans in 1940. However, there was a 29-fold increase in coverage in 20 years so that more than 87 million persons were covered last year. In 1950, less than 22 million persons were so protected.

The Institute said the breadth of health insurance protection was revealed by the fact that 92 per cent of persons with health insurance have both hospital and surgical expense insurance, and 66 per cent have hospital, surgical, and regular medical expense insurance.

THE MENTAL HEALTH CLINIC being proposed for the northwest suburban area will provide services to the above area outlined with dotted lines, it was decided at a meeting of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Association in Palatine August 17. Southern boundary (at bottom of map) is the DuPage-Cook county line; western boundary is Barrington rd.; northern boundary is Dundee rd. (Rte. 68), and the Lake-Cook county line; and the eastern boundary borders the Des Plaines river and the western Des Plaines City limits. Jog in the northern boundary is along Elmhurst rd. (Rte. 83).

Boundaries Proposed Mental Health Clinic

Definite boundaries of the area to be served by the proposed clinic of the Northwest Cooperative Mental Health Association were set at a recent meeting of the seven-community organization.

Southern boundary is the DuPage - Cook county line; western boundary, Barrington rd.; northern boundary, Dundee rd. to Elmhurst rd. and then up to and east along the Cook - Lake county line.

The eastern limit is essentially the Des Plaines River and the western city limits of Des Plaines.

PARTICIPATING villages are Arlington Heights, Mt. Prospect, Palatine, Wheeling, Elk Grove, Hoffman Estates and Rolling Meadows.

Also, it was announced that the association will serve the unincorporated areas within the above boundaries. However, none of the unincorporated areas have yet sought to place representatives on the central committee or form a local chapter.

An area-wide fund drive is slated for September 10-16, with the individual chapters to conduct the drive in their respective communities. A total of $15,000 is the goal. Association attorney, Robert Meersman, noted that contributions are tax deductible.

Matching state funds are available for such clinics at a 2-1 ratio. Therefore, the association will be eligible for a minimum of $30,000 from the state for the operation of a mental health clinic if $15,000 is raised locally.

BY-LAWS for the association have been adopted, and the state has practically guaranteed financial aid if the local fund drive is success. In addition, a state mental health consultant will be available to aid the association.

Wheeling's chapter has set a public meeting at 8 p.m., Sept. 5, at Walt Whitman school. Feature speaker will be Dr. Monte Meldman, psychiatrist and the originator of the clinic idea. Arlington Heights' chapter held a public meeting August 25.

A PSYCHIATRIST, psychologist and a social worker are to be the chief staff members of the proposed clinic. which is to be located at the Arlington Heights Medical Center to begin with Clinic services are to be made available to each participating community on the basis of the percentage of its contribution to the total area fund. (B8

'Learning for Living'

Central YMCA Will Offer 260 Courses

Evening classes in the fall "Learning for Living" program at Central YMCA, 19 S. LaSalle st., will examine Folk Dances of the Western World, Electronic Data Processing and Fundamentals of Space Travel, according to the catalog released this week.

More than 260 courses will be available for the term starting October 2, and the mailing of the catalog is the signal that registration is now open.

New to the program are such challenges as "Editing Magazines and House Organs," "Fundamentals of Digital Computer Programming," "Human Values in Modern Literature," "Emergence of China," "Man and His Fate," "Roman Holiday," "Works of Albert Camus," "The Philosophy of Non-Conformity," and "The Changing Morals and Ethics of Modern Man."

A CLASS ON Gilbert and Sullivan operettas will explore the great favorites, under guidance of impresario Byron Belt, and will be climaxed by a visit to Tyrone Guthrie's production of "Pirates of Penzance."

Adventurous students may also register for a course in Foreign Policy in Action, which will include visits to foreign consulates, or for behind-scene tours of "Chicago: Six to Eight, discussions and tickets to Chicago Opera, Basic Seamanship and Safe Boathandling, or dinners at celebrated restaurants to discover "Food for Gourmets."

Portuguese, French, German, Italian, Russian, Spanish, Japanese and English for the foreign born will be taught with conversational techniques and with special sessions in the electronic language laboratory where students may hear their own voices and perfect their speech.

SUCH LOVED and pleasurable courses as Golf, Oriental Brush Painting, Playing the Recorder, Mosaics in Leather, Cake Decorating, Modeling and Charm, Ski Instruction, Gift Wrapping and Party Planning, Fencing, Hawaiian Ritual Dance, Ballet, and Social Dancing are well represented.

With keen appreciation of two pressing concerns, the "Learning for Living" program will also include courses on "Careers for Mature Woman," and "Selecting the Right College for Your Child."

CLASSES MEET one evening a week for ten weeks. A group of Saturday courses will also be available, including Ski Instruction, languages, Psychology of Salesmanship, Fur Boutique, Portrait and Landscape Painting. "Learning for Living" courses are open to men and women and are conducted on an informal basis, demanding no formal examinations.

For further information and free catalogs, call Central YMCA, 19 S. LaSalle St., CEntral 6-8600. (A-14

Class of 1940 Data Is Sought

The plea has gone out for all information leading to the location of January and June 1940 graduates of Carl Schurz high school for a reunion to be held in October.

Anyone knowing the whereabouts of any of these graduates are being asked to send the graduates' names and addresses to the Schurz reunion committee, P.O. box No. 273, Franklin Park. Girl's maiden names are necessary for identification with records. (A-14

Q. My wife and I have received an engraved card from distant relatives, announcing their golden wedding anniversary. What obligation does this impose upon us?

A. Your only real "obligation" is to send them a message of congratulations and good wishes. (A-14

Round 'N About Westgate

Westgate I

An afternoon party was held August 15, at the home of Mrs. and Mrs. George Rudolphy, 1507 St. James, to celebrate the sixth birthday of their son, Chuckie. On hand for the festivities were aMrsha Hochstetler, Susie and Jan Lazor, Gary Knight and Margie Barry. Annette Mongrain was unable to attend.

Mr. and Mrs. William Bundy and their children, Billy and Mary Beth, of Indianapolis recently spent a 4-day weekend with the Rudolphys.

Renee Johnston and eight girls recently had a cook-out and overnight in the yard of her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Bill Johnston, 1505 Euclid. The girls slept in tents and cooked their own supper and breakfast.

Patricia and Robert Van Bladel returned home last Friday from a week's stay at the home of the grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Joe Van Bladel, Maywood. They returned in time to help their brother, Alan, celebrate his 13th birthday, which was Friday. In the evening his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Liebert, and their two children came to offer congratulations. Invited for a slumber party that night were his brother, Kenneth, Bob Bathgate and Donnie Fiduccia. After partaking of pizza, pop, cake and ice cream, the boys slept outside in sleeping bags.

ANNETTE, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. R. Mongrain, 1504 St. James, celebrated her sixth birthday last Friday. Invited for supper were her brothers, Joey and Bobby, Susie and Jan Lazor, George, Danny and Gary Knight, Marsha Hochstetler, Danny Chalifoux, Chuckie Rudolphy and Joanne Baschleben. Mrs. G. Knight helped serve.

Marvette and Gene Ballou, 1418 St. James, returned home Sunday after a 2-week tour of the east coast. They and their daughters, Kathie, Karol and Kim drove to Buffalo, N. Y., to pick up Karen, who had been staying with her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Grove. Among the cities they visited were Providence, R. I., and New York City, including a stop in Pennsylvania to visit friends.

A cottage at Lake Wawasee near Syracuse, Ind., was where Dot and John Venning, 1607 Johanna terr., spent their week's vacation. Accompanying them were their nieces, Janice and Jeanne Mitchell of Muscoda, Wis. who baby sat for the Venning children, Lisa, Johnny and Bobby. Although the weather was rather cool, they managed to get in some swimming.

Dinner was a special occasion last Sunday at the home of Jackie and George Rudolphy, as it marked the birthday of George's father, Charles Rudolphy, who was present along with George's uncle, Fred Rudolphy.

BETTY AND Frank Conley, 107 N. Reuter, and their children, Pat, Peggy, Valerie and Mike, returned home last Friday after a week's vacation in Euclid, Ohio, where they stayed with Betty's sister, Mrs. Bernice Donovan. They shopping, swimming in Lake Erie, attended an amusement park and Frank and Mike saw a double-header ball game.

Mary Kay Novotny, Jimmy Aldag and Ricky and Nancy Herdrich were luncheon guests Monday at the home of John and Bette Lou Myers, 4 N. Yale, to help their daughter, Janice, celebrate her fourth birthday.

Jane and Charles Kessler, 1608 Johanna terr., and their children, Linda, Barbara and David, recently spent a week's vacation in Kitty Hawk, N. C. They spent one day in Cape Hatteras, one day in Williamsburg and one day in Jamestown.

Westgate II

John Passarelli, 207 S. Illinois, celebrated his eighth birthday Sunday with a family supper. Actually it was a 3-way celebration, as it also feted John's mother, Mary Jane Nicol, and his aunt, Mrs. Elden Walmer. On hand to add to the festivities were John's grandmother, Mrs. Frank Blameuser, and his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blameuser of Park Ridge. Mrs. Walmer and her husband are visiting from La Puente, Calf. John Passarelli is the son of Mary Jane and Cyril Nicol.

A new family in Westgate is that of Lavonne and John Pugsley, 217 S. Yale, who were transferred here from Normal. They have five children: Carol, 15, Michael, 12, twins, Kelly and Kent, 3, and Beth, 1½. John is with Tractor Supply Co.

Laurie, daughter of Theresa and Duke Parsons, ushered in her fourth birthday Sunday with a family celebration at her home, 224 S. Illinois. Present were her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Parsons of Wilmette, and her aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. Raymond Gerber of Villa Park. Monday Laurie entertained several playmates with a party. Those attending were sister, Lynn, Joan Sowers, Dennis O'Connell, Laurel Pribilski, Don Bledsoe, Donna and Debbie Logsdon, Bobby Cunningham and Paul Richard.

PAT AND PAUL Miresse, Miresse, 1414 W. Grove, entertained his niece and nephew, Miss Mildred Calo and Chuck Calo, last weekend as they stopped by on their way to Detroit. Mildred and Chuck live in Fort Lauderdale, Fla.

Darwin, son of Connie and Darwin Townsend, 106 S. Reuter, celebrated his fourth birthday with a dinner for friends and relatives. On hand to add to the festivities were Gloria Kuehn, 116 S. Reuter, son, Mike, and mother, Mrs. Robert Reiter. Mr. and Mrs. William Townsend, Darwin's aunt and uncle and their children, Pam and Pat, all of Arlington, joined in the celebrating.

Connie's sister, Mrs. Donald Bastian, and her children, Dawn, Michael and Nickie, spent last week with the Townsends and left Sunday for their home in Wauwatosa, Wis.

DOTTIE BLEDSOE, 301 S. Reuter, entertained last Friday with a houseware demonstration party. Neighbors present were Dottie Leoni, Grace Linhardt, Patty Clark, Carol Jarm and Barbara Ward.

Melissa Van Wazer celebrated her eighth birthday with a family party. Besides her sisters, Martha, Margie, Mary and Monica, her grandmother, Mrs. F. P. Van Wazer of Lake Forest, was able to attend. Melissa is the daughter of Lorraine and William Van Wazer, 1320 W. Sigwalt.

Lois and Gerald Brask, 104 S. Yale, have an addition to their family. Paul was born Saturday, weighing 6 pounds and 5 ounces.

Jimmy, son of Mickey and Bob Bliss, 119 S. Harvard, celebrated his fourth birthday Sunday with his family.

Roger Hanson, 217 S. Illinois, celebrated his 13th birthday with a family dinner and birthday cake. Roger is the son of Ann and Rudy Hanson. (A

Northwest Orchestra To Begin Rehearsals

Players of all instruments are welcome at weekly rehearsals of the Northwest Symphony Orchestra, Colton Chunn of Arlington Heights announced this week. Violas, cellos, basses —all lower strings are especially invited.

Opening rehearsal will be held Wednesday, Sept. 6, at 7:45 p.m. in Maine township east high school, Potter and Dempster sts., Park Ridge.

The Northwest Symphony Orchest was formed to give those who enjoy music the opportunity to play together. Members come from as far away as Chicago or Crystal Lake.

Perry Crafton of Edison Park, orchestra conductor and first violinist with the Chicago Symphony Orchestra, presents three concerts each year as well as various programs for community organizations.

For further information, call Mrs. J. Pfandner, personnel director of Northwest Symphony Orchestra, at CL 5-9523. (B8

Pick Mrs. Church To UN Delegation

Marguerite Stitt Church, 13th Congressional district representative from Evanston, has been named by President Kennedy as one of five members of the American delegation to the United Nations general assembly session opening Sept. 19.

Mrs. Church, who recently completed a tour of countries which are recipients of U. S. foreign aid, serves on the House Committee for Foreign Aid.

THE UN session is expected to last from six to nine weeks. It is traditional to have two members of Congress on the UN delegation. Rep. Omar Burleson (D., Tex.), is the other member of Congress on the United States' UN roster for this 16th general assembly gathering. Former Illinois Governor Adlai Stevenson heads the U. S. delegation.

Mrs. Church has served as a House member since 1951, after she was elected to the seater husband. Ralph, had held until his death. (B-8

Set Broadcasts of Labor Day Traffic

The Chicago Motor club's Labor Day air observation service will be in operation Monday, Sept. 4, for the 13th consecutive year.

From 3 p.m. to 10 p.m. the club's safety observers will fly over the Chicago area reporting on traffic conditions as hundreds of thousands of motorists pour back into the city following the three-day holiday weekend.

AS IN PREVIOUS years, the motor club's air observation will cover an area bounded approximately by Gary, Joliet, Waukegan, and Lake Michigan.

While the club's traffic engineers are checking highways from the air, other staff members will be in communication with city, county, and state police for the latest traffic reports.

When a traffic tie-up is spotted, this information will be relayed to Chicago area radio station newsrooms for broadcast use as special traffic bulletins. Suggestions for alternate routes will be made when feasible.

The Chicago Motor Club's touring department estimates that approximately 395,000 cars, carrying some 1,365,000 persons, will be leaving the Chicagoland area sometime over the Labor Day weekend for trips within a 350-mile radius of Chicago.

THE CLUB expects about 235,000 to leave the area Friday, Sept. 1; 125,000 on Saturday, Sept. 2; and an additional 35,000 on Sunday, Sept. 3. Adding to the heavy traffic will be 150,000 cars moving about in the Chicago area proper on each day of the holiday weekend, including Sept. 4.

Peak return traffic is expected to come between 4:30 p.m. and 9:30 p.m. on Labor Day, when the majority of the 395,000 cars will be homeward-bound.

Arlington Heights Leads Area in Traffic Totals

Arlington Heights had more accidents and the only traffic death in the first six months of 1961 of all the communities served by the Paddock papers.

For the half-year period ending June 31, Arlington Heights had 193 traffic accidents reported, one of which resulted in a fatality. Twenty-five of the persons involved in Arlington accidents were reported injured.

THIS COMPARES with a record of 445 traffic accidents reported for Des Plaines in which there were 70 injuries. Des Plaines, too, had one traffic death in the first six months of the year.

Mt. Prospect followed Arlington Heights in number of traffic accidents with 136 mishaps resulting in 27 injuries. Palatine was next, reporting 79 collisions and five injuries.

Other communities and their accident records are: Wheeling with 69 accidents and nine injuries, Elk Grove with 58 accidents and 10 injuries, and Barrington with 28 accidents and three reported injuries.

OTHER PADDOCK communities are Schaumburg with 20 accidents and seven injuries, Hoffman Estates with 16 accidents and four injuries, and Barrington Hills with 14 accidents and two injuries.

Buffalo Grove reported six accidents in the six month period. (B8

Eastwood Events

Before entering nurses training in Evansville, Ind. this fall, Mrs. Carl Carlman's niece, Miss Nancy Fox from Worthington, Ohio, spent a week with the Carlmans at 311 N. Lincoln lane. Besides spending a day at the Arlington race track, Mrs. Carlman showed Nancy many of Chicago's showplaces.

Three restful weeks with nothing to worry about except fishing and swimming meant vacation time for the Bud Scully family of 212 N. Brighton. Their three daughters, Celine, Claudia and Jeanie shared the summertime fun with their parents in Pembine, Wis.

Picnics and family reunions were the high spots of the Cockrells' recent trip to Frankfurt, Ky., where they visited with Matt's parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Cockrell. On their leisurely trip back home they made a 2-day stopover at the luxurious Brown Suburban hotel, outside Louisville on the Bardstown rd. The children spent many hours in the motel's swimming pool. From Louisville the Cockrells' next stop was in Reynoldsburg, Ohio, where they visited with former Eastwooders, Jack and De Hambene.

For her 12th birthday last Friday, Jo Rogers celebrated in grownup fashion. After dinner at home for her two guests, Carol Cockrell and Mary Hetzel, the girls attended the movies. Jo is the daughter of Jim and Jean Rogers of Lincoln lane.

THE EMIL MEINDL family and their six children, Richard, Eileen, Virginia, Kathie, Emil Jr. and Steven, of 616 E. Euclid, have returned home from a trip to Washington, D. C. The Meindls had planned to camp at East Potomac park, but after battling the 6:30 Washington traffic and several detours, they found the "No vacancy" sign posted at the park. This disappointment proved to their advantage however, when they discovered Timberlake park in Fairfax, Va., which provided swimming and fishing. With this spot as their headquarters they drove into Washington each day and saw everything that our capitol city offers, returning at night to a campfire, where the children enjoyed popcorn and marshmallows. From Washington the Meindls went on to Sandusky, Ohio, where they camped for three days before returning home.

Wakan Teepee resort in northern Wisconsin was the vacation spot of the Kenneth Manchees and their children, David, Linda and Peter. They stayed in a cabin right on South Two lake and swam and fished and rode. Watching for deer and bear was another pastime, and although they did spot several deer, the only bear they saw was stuffed and had been captured several years ago. The Fred Millers and their son, Brad, of Arlington Heights, and grandparents Mr. and Mrs. Fred Miller Sr. of Park Ridge, were the Manchees' companions on their Wisconsin holiday.

OTHER WISCONSIN vacationers were Nina and Norm Hoym. Lang's resort in Ephraim, Door county, was their headquarters, and delightful weather every day added to the enjoyment. Fishing, swimming and seeing the Peninsula Players do "A Majority of One" added up to a perfect vacation. Cousins, Mr. and Mrs. Paul Leason and their three daughters were visitors at the resort while the Hoyms were there.

Gay lanterns and a big round August moon added to the pleasure of the Emil Hanners' shish kabob party Saturday night. A real do-it-yourself party—the guests concocted their own kabobs from the assortment Mrs. Hanner had provided and each cooked his own. After the feasting, neighbors Norm Hoyms, Stewart Schultzes, Herman Mells, Dick Kozakiewiczes and Jack Andersons joined in community singing. (A

How to Treat the Blister Problem...

A remarkable new development of Du Pont Research now gives you greater protection against moisture blistering than traditional linseed oil paints.

SIMPLY DO THIS: 1 — If the old paint has blistered, remove old paint down to bare wood. 2 — Prime bare wood with Du Pont 49 Blister Resistant Primer. 3 — Cover with one or more coats of Du Pont "Lucite" House Paint. Dries in one hour. Clean up hands and brushes with water.

Result—a rich, lovely, low-luster finish of significantly longer life than ordinary linseed oil paints!

Get St. Viator Open!

Fight On To Ready School For Opening

Dawn to dusk work crews are battling their enemy — time — in a full-fledged effort to complete the new St. Viator Catholic boys high school in time for opening Tuesday, Sept. 5

More than 350 freshmen and sophomore boys are slated to start classes at the Arlington Heights school. In addition, 150 freshmen girls of the new Sacred Heart of Mary high school will be attending classes in the building.

The two schools will be operated in separate wings with no joint classes slated. The girls will attend classes in the St. Viator building for two years pending completion of their own school in Rolling Meadows.

BECAUSE OF an anticipated delay in the completion of the school cafeteria, half-day sessions will be held from September 5 to 8.

To date, the most finished sections of the building are the first-floor classrooms. Second floor classrooms are nearing completion, but the auditorium, chapel and swimming pool are not slated for finishing until October 1.

The third floor living quarters for priests and brothers teaching in the school should be ready in a couple of weeks according to school spokesmen.

PRINCIPAL OF St. Viator is Rev. Francis E. Williams. Fr. Williams formerly served as pastor of St. Patrick church, Kankakee, and principal of Bishop Gorman high school, Las Vegas.

Principal of the new Sacred Heart of Mary Catholic girls high school is Mother Mary Loyolla of the Religious of the Sacred Heart of Mary. Mother Loyolla was formerly stationed at Sacred Heart Academy in New York City.

Faculty for the girls school will include five nuns plus lay teachers. Faculty for the boys school will number 14 priests and brothers and three lay teachers.

CLASSES FOR GIRLS will center on general academic subjects. These include English, science, foreign language, mathematics, religion, economic geography and world history, music, art appreciation and physical education.

The boys school will emphasize college-preparatory work, with some classes for a terminal high school education. Classes set for this year include world history, algebra, plane and solid geometry, Latin, Spanish, biology, English, religion, physical education, mechanical drawing and economics.

The curriculum will be enlarged next year to include subjects normally offered during the junior high school year as well as the addition of French and Russian to the language schedule.

A FROSH-SOPH football team and a swimming team will enter competition this fall. Other extra-curricular activities the first year will include chorus, newspaper and speech activities.

Most students in the two new schools come from the Arlington Heights, Mount Prospect, Prospect Heights and Palatine areas. Some students have registered from Carpentersville, Wauconda and Libertyville. Five bus routes will be operated jointly by the boys and girls school.

LAST CALL MOVERS COMing Saturday. Whirlpool electric dryer $30. 22" Pincor rotary power mower $25. Round redwood picnic table $2. Miscellaneous pictures. 218 Pleasant Hill, Palatine. FL 8-2816.

Converted School Bus: Travel for Family

Livable Quarters Emerge from Idea

by BOB SETLIK

A crowded car, restless kids, nowhere to eat, "no vacancy". . . .

The romance of an on-the-road vacation.

The family comes back needing another vacation to recover from the last one.

Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gosch, 2001 S. State rd., south of Arlington Heights, have come up with an answer that may prove a boon to large-family travel.

The Gosch's, with four children and their grandmother, saw 7,462 miles of America this summer. They avoided the usual headaches of traveling by using a converted school bus as their home-on-the-road.

Eating, sleeping, and looking at the scenery, all was done from the bus.

GOSCH, OWNER of the nursery at the same address, explained that he had been looking for a bus for a number of years.

"With a family our size," he noted, "a long trip was almost impossible."

Last year he bought one from the same outfit that supplies the high school buses.

After tearing out the seats, the Gosch's set themselves to converting the bus into livable quarters.

Mrs. Gosch made curtains for the 43 windows, linoleum was laid, two fold out beds, four bunks, a three-burner gas stove, a sink with a 30 gallon reservoir of water, refrigerator, chest, closet, chairs and cabinets were installed.

A test run in June to Wisconsin eliminated the rattles.

THEY LEFT July 17 for a 33-day trip that took them to 18 states in the western part of the country, and a part of Canada.

"Everywhere we went," Mrs. Gosch explained, "people couldn't believe what they saw."

Her husband estimated that 150 people took a tour of the bus during the trip. He and a son, Chuck, 17, did the driving.

According to Gosch, the bus handled easier than a car, even on mountains.

MRS. GOSCH was quick to outline the advantages of taking the family for a vacation in the bus.

—A saving of $750-$800 on motel expenses.

—Traveling as long as they wanted into the evening without having to worry about motel accommodations.

—Home-cooked meals rather than eating at restaurants.

—A splendid view afforded by 43 windows.

WHEN ALL the windows were open, she explained, the bus was completely air-conditioned, even when they drove through deserts.

Biggest advantage, Mrs. Gosch said, was the room that the bus allowed three husky boys, Chuck, Ron, 13; Roger, 10; a young daughter, Joann, 5; the grandmother, Mrs. Adolph Gosch; and she and her husband.

"We weren't squashed together, like we would have been in a car," she said.

The only difficulty came in Arkansas. The motor burnt out, and a new block had to be put in.

ANOTHER TIME, on the west coast, one of the boys almost fell through a top bunk when the bed springs broke after the bus hit a bump.

Cost for the 33-day trip, according to the thorough accounting system superintended by Chuck, was $1571. Over $600 went for gas and oil. Food cost $228.

Chuck points out that expenses actually would have been much lower if the block hadn't busted in Arkansas.

GOSCH, AFTER taking the bus for a short trip during the Labor Day holidays, plans to sell the bus. The running of the nursery requires too much time for him to take another trip for a while, he explained.

The 59 travel stickers, plastered on the windows, will be included in the sale price. (B8

ACCORDING TO RAY GOSCH, the size of the family made it necessary that something larger than a car be found for the 7,000 mile vacation.

HEADS SPUN in 18 states and a part of Canada this summer when seven members of the Gosch family toured in a converted school bus. Mr. and Mrs. Ray Gosch, 2001 Arlington Heights rd., took the trip with their grandmother, Mrs. Adolph Gosch, and their four children.

THE BUS sleeps seven.

Retarded Children to Find Surprises at Countryside

When the school bell rings on September 7 for the annual opening day at Countryside Farm school, the group of retarded children enrolled will find new and enlarged facilities. Approximately 20 children are registered for fall, and it is anticipated that many more will be accommodated during the coming year. The school is located on Shirley rd. near Palatine.

An enlarged staff is giving these children the greatest opportunity they have ever had for social training, physical development and the learning of crafts.

THE SCHOOL staff this year consists of Mrs. Letha Hammond, principal; Mrs. Marilyn Bunton, in charge of crafts and handwork, and Mrs. Marcella Morton, in charge of nursery and primary departments. The staff expects to have another full-time assistant in the latter departments very soon.

In the workshop building Mrs. Ray Lindemer, Mrs. Matt Larson and Mrs. B. J. Grigsby will head the group of volunteers in charge of weaving, which has become an important project in the school craft program.

LAST YEAR was the first year that the staff was supplemented by Mrs. Willard Koch and Mrs. Mary Hurych as volunteers one day a week for a 3-hour program of physical education. This proved to be such a help to the children that this year a room has been remodeled for use as a gym and also for woodworking. The new room was made possible by Countryside Auxiliary for Retarded Children.

The school is still in need of a carpenter or woodworker who can donate some of his time to assisting the boys at the school. Anyone in the community who desires to offer his services will be greatly appreciated.

A special invitation is extended by G. E. Goodmonson, president, and Mrs. Hammond, principal, to all parents of retarded children to visit the school and make inquiry regarding registration. The phone number is GE 8-3192. (B8

Red Cross Appeal for Spare Time, Talents

"If you have a desire to help others, Red Cross can put your spare time and talents to good use," according to area Red Cross public information representatives.

Local representatives are Mrs. Richzrd Weber, 909 W. Green, Bensenville; Mrs. George Bochum, 202 S. Edward, Mount Prospect; Louis E. Pearce, 212 E. Colfax st., Palatine; and Mrs. Leo B. Larson, 2406 Park st., Rolling Meadows.

ANNOUNCING that September is the annual Red Cross volunteer recruitment month, one representative said that "Red Cross performs many vital services for the community, such as assisting servicemen and hospitalized veterans, and rendering aid to helpless victims of disaster.

"Since most of these services are performed by volunteers the help of many people with different skills and abilities is constantly needed."

Nineteen different types of assignments are available to interested volunteers.

IN THIS community, volunteers are needed to serve as instructors in first aid, water safety and home nursing; others are needed to help distribute Red Cross aid to victims of fires and other calamities. People interested in youngsters are needed to work with schools active in Junior Red Cross, in addition to volunteer public speakers to present the Red Cross story to the civic, church and business organizations in the community.

Throughout Cook and DuPage counties, volunteer drivers are needed to transport servicemen and veterans to and from hospitals, deliver supplies and rush vitally needed eyes to their destinations.

People are needed to make surgical dressings, to sew and to knit garments and other items for hospitalized veterans and disaster victims. Other volunteers at chapter headquarters, veterans hospitals and four suburban offices, are needed to type, file and prepare office mailings.

IN THE TAX-supported hospitals where Red Cross is active, there is ample opportunity for volunteers to do many types of work. Performing personal services such as letter writing and reading to patients, aiding registered nurses in some of their duties, and conducting parties, group discussions and hobby classes are just a few ways in which a volunteer can participate.

Red Cross volunteer activities are open to both men and women, and the amount of time spent on the job is up to the individual. Some assignments require a small amount of classroom training, which is accomplished before the volunteer is assigned to duty.

For more information about this interesting and rewarding work call the DuPage county or North Cook county regional office at MO 5-2346, and UN 4-9000 respectively. (A14

Township Levy

New Bill Makes Year Road Plan Mandatory

The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois pointed out this week that under provisons of legislation passed by the 72nd Illinois General Assembly, the highway commissioner in township organization counties does not have as much authority as he formerly did in determining the amount of the township levy for general road and bridge purposes.

House Bill 543 (now law) states that two weeks before the first Tuesday in September of each year, the highway commissioner of each township shall present to the township board of auditors or the highway board of auditors, a program of improvement and maintenance of district roads for the ensuing year. Along with such program, he shall also present the amount he estimates will be necessary to be levied or raised by taxation for raod purposes to carry out the program.

THE TOWNSHIP board of auditors or the highway board of auditors, as the case may be, has the duty of approving the levy of all or any part of such estimated amount as such board deems necessary.

Then on the first Tuesday in September, under the new law, the highway commissioners shall certify the amount so approved to the county board as the necessary amount to be raised by taxation for road purposes in such road district.

IT SHOULD be remembered that the budget and appropriation ordinance, the basis for the levy is subject to the same regulations as in the past. The budget and appropriation ordinance is prepared in tentative form, made available for public inspection for at least 30 days before final adoption, and is subject to a public hearing (usually held in most townships on the last Tuesday in August).

The Taxpayers' Federation of Illinois urges taxpayers to watch for newspaper or posted notices of such hearings, attend them and voice their opinions. (A-14

Q. When eating a soft-fried egg, is it all right to put a small piece of bread on the end of the fork and use this to dip up the yolk?

A. This is quite all right.

Worker's Skull Fractured By Catching Head in Mixer

by JOHN BURGERMEISTER

Northwest Community hospital came up with a good justification of the high wages earned by construction workers last Thursday, August 24.

Steve Gereg of Chicago gave an illustration of the hazards involved in his work by catching his head in a cement mixer. Gereg received a skull fracture while cleaning the machine when a fellow worker accidentally turned it on.

Listed in serious condition last week, he is now reported to be "much improved."

Critics received a new angle on the harmful effects of television on the nation's tots when a portable TV set fell from its stand, and toppled 5-year-old Mark Gentuso, 241 Milan lane, Roselle. Young Mark was released from the hospital after treatment for a three-inch laceration on his forehead.

In another bizzare mishap, Mr. Jerome Kiolbassa, 21 Pamela road, Lake Zurich, was treated for a monkey bite last Thursday.

Trees, ladders, and monkey bars gave way under a total of six unfortunate climbers last week.

JOHN BENCIC, 932 N. Ridge, Arlington Heights, was reported in serious condition following a fall from a ladder that left him with multiple head injuries and in shock.

Judged in satisfactory condition following abdominal surgery resulting from injuries sustained in a tumble from a tree was Randall Swartstad, 10, of 614 W. Rockwell, Arlington Heights.

Aspirin proved to be an unpleasant snack for three-year-old Phillip Basak, 132 N. Forrest, Arlington Heights, and Teri Ehard, 108 N. Waverly, Mount Prospect, as the two youngsters were taken to the hospital for stomach washings.

MICHAEL Janson, 291 Laurel, Elk Grove, broke up a Sunday outing by downing an unknown amount of barbecue starting fluid. His stomach was washed before he was released in good condition.

Gordon Von Bergen, R.R. 1, Box 261, Roselle, outdid himself in trying to outdraw his opponent, accidentally discharging his pistol and wounding himself in the right thigh. His condition was reported as good August 24.

Automobile accidents claimed their usual toll of injuries during the week, but no fatal results were reported.

Glen Marshall, 3603 Wilke, Rolling Meadows, was treated for bruises after a collision at Kirchoff and Meadow.

RECEIVING a possible neck injury following an auto accident at Hale and Wilson in Palatine, Mrs. Mary Smith, 217 N. Hale, Palatine, was released in good condition.

Judged in satisfactory condition despite a back injury sustained in a collision at Wheeling and Seegar roads is Anthony Damanio, 105 Country Club, Northlake.

Following a mishap at Quentin and Old Northwest highway, Gail Ann Brown, 139 S. Quentin road, Palatine, was treated for multiple lacerations and bruises.

State Police brought in Edward Walsh, 1132 Elgin ave., Forest Park, suffering from a fractured rib as the result of an accident at the intersection of route 83 and Oakton.

LENORE Messner, 332 N. Smith street, Palatine, was involved in an automobile accident at route 14 and 68, receiving contusions on the forehead and a laceration of her little finger. Miss Messner was X-rayed, examined and released.

Falling out of a moving car, Kyle Lunn, 612 Maple court, Mount Prospect, was released after treatment for bruises and lacerations of the forehead and arms.

Football claimed an early victim in Steve Hadland, 16, of 702 E. Park, Arlington Heights. Steve received a scalp laceration while practicing the grid game with friends. He was released after the wound had been cleansed, sutured and dressed.

Treated for dog bites during the week were Sharon Burger, 715 N. Wille, Mount Prospect; Daniel Charnota, 2304 Robin lane, Rolling Meadows; and Cheryl Umbdenstock, 531 W. Hellen road, Palatine.

A bee took time out from being "busy" to sting Linda Richardson, 5311 Oak Park ave., Chicago. Linda was released following treatment for the sting.

Q. When a house guest wishes to give his hostess a little gift of appreciation, when should he present it?

A. He may bring it along and present it soon after his arrival, or send it to her soon after his return home. This, of course, does not excuse him from writing that all - important bread-and-butter letter to his hostess as soon as possible after his return home.

Set Bid Date on New Mental Unit

Advertising date for competitive bids on the new institution for the mentally retarded at Centralia will be Sept. 12, Gov. Otto Kerner announced this week. The governor said formal bids should be received approximately five weeks later and construction contracts will then be awarded.

Funds for the project will be provided for by House Bill 127 which appropriated $11,500,000 of the Department's $150-million-dollar bond issue for the construction.

The new institution will be located on a 120-acre plot immediately west of Centralia on Ill. 61. The land was donated to the state by the city of Centralia. (A-14

Ridge Park–Sherwood

RIDGE PARK

The Eugene Schlickman family recently returned home to 712 N. Fernandez after a camping vacation in Peninsula State park near Fish Creek, Wis. There was a nearby golf course ideally suited to the inclinations of the head of the household, swimming, hiking and pan-fishing to occupy the children and for Mom, lots of leisure time to absorb the peace and quiet of the north woods. A boat trip to Washington and Chambers islands provided the whole family with a one-day treat and change of scenery.

A 3-way birthday party at the junior Henry Inselbergers a week ago Saturday night served to celebrate the August 19 birthday of the host, the ninth birthday of his daughter Susan and the August 22 birthday of a cousin, Jackie Pichler of Hoffman Estates. Susan and Jackie share a mutual birth date. Forty friends and relatives in the area extended triple congratulations to the celebrants over a buffet supper that was the halfway point in the afternoon and evening party at 640 N. Salem.

MR. AND MRS. Charles Egli, 814 N. Patton, recently spent three days in St. Louis on a combination business and pleasure trip. All of the pleasure came from visiting old friends and former neighbors in that city where the Eglis formerly made their home. The Eglis' son, Teddy, was at Camp Hastings near Mundelein during his parents' absence and returned home over the weekend. While Jeanette enjoyed the three days with former Ridge Parkers, the William LaGraves, now of 516 S. Walnut.

The Eugene Frikers, 713 N. Patton, are home again after an extended vacation in Eagle River, Wis., where the weather left little to be desired and the fishing left just enough to keep things interesting. Mrs. Friker preceded her menfolk by a week and was here to welcome them upon their return.

Lots of young campers are crossing paths as the final no-school weeks dwindle away. Last Saturday Richard Geisler was on his way for a week at Camp Kaskitowa near South Haven, Mich., as a trio of Camp Napowan-ers pulled into town from Wild Rose, Wis. Rich, son of the Lawrence Geislers, 816 N. Ridge, returned over the weekend. The returnees who had two weeks away from home were John Vetter, 931 N. Fernandez; Ken Koeneman, 908 N. Fernandez, and Dale Kluesing, 905 N. Salem.

WORD FROM the Ridge Park bridge group is that it can use a few more couples for the winter season. Anyone interested is invited to call Mrs. Clarence Loechl, CL 3-2838.

Among local advocates of the increasingly popular vacation-at-home trend are members of the Edward Merges family who enjoyed a week full of excitement without straying far from 834 N. Harvard. One day was spent in Burlington Wis., where they toured the St. Francis monastery, then stopped at Brown's lake for a swim and dinner. There was a trip to the Museum of Science and Industry for education's sake, neatly balanced by the tense excitement and final joy at Wrigley field a week ago Sunday afternoon, when the Cubs finally won an 11-inning thriller. Best of all, there was no need for a vacation to rest up from their vacation.

Echoing the Merges' sentiment are the John Lightners, 921 N. Harvard, winding up a leisurely stay-at-home vacation. Their enjoyment of locally available fun included an airplane ride, a tour of the Museum of Science and Industry and a day of fishing at Lake Delavan for the men in the family while the ladies lounged at home, looking forward to another dinner-out evening. Another day the little Lightners were treated to kiddie park fun and the bigger one to a loop movie and dinner at Matt Eigler's. Saturday night meant bowling for the whole family and another night off for the head chef of the house.

RECENTLY returned from a restful two weeks in Land o' Lakes, Wis., are the Martin Saidikowski family, 828 N. Salem. They combined a fishing-and-swimming schedule with visiting friends and members of Mrs. Saidikowski's family in Land o'Lakes, her home town.

Libby Anne Gustason is home again at 918 N. Princeton after two weeks at Hickory Hill camp in Edgerton, Wis.

The James Kunners returned home to 1016 N. Fernandez early last week after a week and a day in Alexandria, Va., where they visited Mrs. Kunner's sister and family, the Robert Rotroffs. During their stay in that historically famous area they toured many of the battle sites and picturesque landmarks. Returning with the Kunners were Mrs. Kunner's parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. E. Maxwell of Muncie, Ind., who will visit here the rest of the week.

MR. AND MRS. Harry Phillipp and Marjorie, 644 N. Salem, are home again after two weeks of sightseeing in Illinois and visiting relatives in Wisconsin. They toured Springfield and the New Salem state park, rich with Lincoln memorials and museums, and returned along a Rock river route to enjoy the picturesque scenery.

In Wisconsin the Phillipps had fun reuniting with Mrs. Phillipp's brothers and sisters, and with their mother, Mrs. Elmer Nelson in Marshfield. The 2-week vacation ended with a relaxing few days in a cottage in the Chequamegon National Forest.

Fourteen neighborhood friends feted Mrs. Robert Kapish last Wednesday evening at a baby shower given by Mrs. J. J. Shaffer, 917 N. Harvard. The occasion was planned as a surprise fun-night for the honor guest and was a success on all counts. The expected increase in Kapish population at 911 N. Harvard is scheduled for mid-September.

The John Hauris' son, David, returned to 930 N. Harvard Saturday after a well-filled week at a church camp at Druce lake.

ANDREA Polites, 944 N. Salem, was 7 August 10 and celebrated two days later at an afternoon party. Eight neighborhood friends shared the outdoor fun and party fare, adding their best wishes to Andrea's brother, Jimmy, along with their happy birthdays to the hostess. Jimmy Jr. parted company with his tonsils two days after the party, still full enough of birthday cake to tide him over his convalescence.

The recent schedule of the R. G. Shawhan family, 948 N. Ridge, included a week of resorting in Rhinelander, Wis., with a visit to friends in Amherst prior to that and hosting a farewell party since their return home. They came home from Rhinelander a week ago Saturday. Last Wednesday night Gary entertained six buddies, among them Earl Stout, the farewell party guest of honor, who leaves soon for a new home on the west coast. The all-male group played pool and other male-type games and exerted man-sized efforts at the refreshment table. Earl was presented with a savings bond, the farewell gift of remembrance from the group. The Stout family, 620 E. Clarendon, will leave for a home in the San Fernando valley in time for Earl to begin school there.

The Norman Wall family, 936 N. Ridge, recently returned from two weeks of sightseeing and leisurely touring in Colorado. They spent most of their time in the Colorado Springs area.

MR. AND MRS. Edward Elenz, 1008 N. Ridge, are home from a 4-day business and pleasure trip east. Their time was divided between Greenwich, Conn., and New York City, with a former navy buddy as escort for their New York tour. Although the four days included two "firsts" for Mrs. Elenz—her first jet flight and her first trip to New York—she reports that their meeting with her husband's ex-shipmate, Charles W. Wiley of Flushing, was equally exciting. Wiley, a free lance writer and world traveler, was newly back from an extended tour of many of the political "hot spots" in Africa, and his views on the subject accounted for a fascinating evening for the Elenzes.

While their parents were east, the Elenz children entertained their Mom's sister, Miss Gwen Kauphusman of Chicago.

Kristi Nelson, 1415 W. Oakton, celebrated her August 27 birthday a few days early with five neighborhood friends Thursday afternoon. Terry Trummer, Mark and Karen Peterson and Barbara and Susie Lumpp accompanied Kristi and her Mom to Hawthorn-Mellody farm for an afternoon of fun at the zoo and frontier village there. They all watched the remarkable way cows cooperate with the dairy to provide milk for Ridge Park birthday parties, then left for the Nelson home and party refreshments.

Sunday Kristi was honored at a family dinner party that included her grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. John Nelson and Mrs. C. E. Chapman and her uncle and family, the Frank Chapmans and Mark, all of Chicago. Kristi was five.

THE ROBERT Johnsons, 932 N. Salem, recently returned from a week at Moore Springs resort in Akeley, Minn., with two Chicago couples who are longtime friends.

Weather was perfect, fishing was good and other water sports were daily fun for the William Broadfoot family who returned to 936 N. Kaspar Saturday after a week at Shell Lake, Wis.

A guest this week in the David Bone home, 704 N. Salem was Liberty Mhlanga of South Rhodesia, en route Worcester, Mass. where he will attend Clark university. Mhlanga is an agricultural graduate and will take a post graduate course in biology. He came to the Bone home Tuesday night for a 2-day stay under the sponsorship of the International Hospitality Center of Chicago which places overseas visitors in the homes of its members. Mhlanga leaves tonight for Worcester, having visited several places in the Chicago area of special interest to him.

Ridge Park residents who will require bus service for kindergartners in Ridge school are asked to contact Ellen Sottung, CL 5-2343, for information.

The Baron Zoellick family, 912 N. Kaspar, recently returned from a 3-week vacation in their summer cottage at Paddock Lake, Wis. During their swim-fish-boat and sun session they enjoyed a day at the Milwaukee fair.

Mr. and Mrs. Russell Rathsam and Nan, 905 N. Patton, came home Sunday from a 10-day tour of the Colorado Springs area and visits with relatives in Auburn, Neb.

SHERWOOD

Recent visitors in the Jack Zeisler home, 1144 N. Harvard, were Mr. Zeisler's nieces, Sharon Williams and Martina Harvey of Marion, Ohio. The girls returned here for a week of fun and Chicago area sightseeing when the Zeislers came home from two weeks in Marion with the Williams and Harvey families.

The John Aulds, 1009 Watling, came home last Thursday from a relaxing week in South Haven, Mich., where they were guests in the summer cottage of former Sherwoodites, the Max Hagens. The Hagens now reside in Okemos, Mich.

Also returning here with greetings from the Hagens are the Robert Jakubiecs, 1014 Watling, who enjoyed a 4-day 'round-the-lake trip last week. They spent one day on Mackinac Island and, returning home, stopped for a day's visit with the Hagen family at their South Haven cottage.

ALMOST immediately upon their return from Michigan Thursday Mr. and Mrs. Auld attended "A Night at the Races," sponsored by the Wheeling Township Republican club. Also in the local party at Sportmans Park were the Nat Burfeinds, 1130 N. Harvard, giving the occasion a dual purpose by celebrating Mr. Burfeind's August 24 birthday.

Tim Conner is home agian with the rest of the family at 1117 W. Burgoyne after five weeks in Pompano Beach, Fla., with his grandmother, Mrs. Ceil Franz, and his aunt, Mrs. George Peters. Mrs. Franz and Mrs. Peters, both former Sherwood residents, relay greetings via Tim to their friends here.

Mrs. Harold Witt, 1138 N. Patton, was recently hostess to six Sherwood friends at a cruise luncheon aboard the Witt craft "Kanaloa." Enjoying a leisurely trip from Fox Lake to Wisconsin and back were Mrs. Larry Anderson, Mrs. Nat Burfeind, Mrs. Rodger Ryden, Mrs. James Wood, Mrs. Paul Wollerman and Mrs. George Thieman.

Mrs. John Hodgson Jr. and Barbara Ellen of Montgomery, Ala., left here Saturday after a 3-week visit with Mrs. Hodgson's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Carl E. Schmitz, 1300 Clarendon. Ten days of the three weeks Mr. and Mrs. Schmitz, their daughter and granddaughter enjoyed at the Big Sand Lake club in Phelps, Wis.

Mrs. Thomas Specht, 1118 W. Watling, is convalescing at home after recent surgery in Presbyterian-St. Lukes hospital, Chicago.

THE DOORWAY at 1112 N. Harvard was happily jammed Friday night as Dwight Pate returned from a summerlong NROTC cruise almost at the same moment the rest of the family came home from a week in Akron, Ohio. The family is only temporarily intact, however; Dwight leaves early next month to return to college.

Mr. and Mrs. David Kenyon, 1226 Clarendon, returned late last week from the Wisconsin Dells, where they intended to have a time of complete relaxation following the excitement of being "parents of the bride." Vacationing in the midst of a man-hunt detracts a little from one's total repose, report the Kenyons, but even the Nutley-Welter search did not keep them from enjoying their stay.

Among the out-of-town guests who were here for the August 12 wedding of the Kenyons' daughter, Catherine, were Mrs. Kenyon's sister and nephew, Mrs. Ernest Kellner and Robert Broussard of Lafayette, La. Mrs. Kellner and Mr. Broussard remained here for a week's visit with the Kenyons after the nuptials.

The Warren Nelsons, 1105 N. Patton, returned Saturday night from two weeks of fine weather and relaxing in Birchwood, Wis. (A

VIRGINIA TERRACE

To the average suburban woman, "double talk" merely means two kaffee klatsches in the same day. However, this week it could mean new neighbors so named . . .

For instance, the Neibuhrs, Kenneth and Kathleen, who have recently moved to 1309 N. Illinois. Newlyweds, married July 29 in St. Peter Lutheran church, they are both Arlington Heights residents. Ken is employed at his father's Prospect Heights service station.

Last Saturday afternoon Gary, son of Doris and John Gabel, 1252 N. Yale, celebrated his fourth birthday with a patio party. Participating in games and enjoying refreshments were Janet and Cindy Pendelton, Doug Larson, Chris and Mark Anderson and Kathy Zare.

WHEN THE Norwegian Old People's home in Norwood Park held its 66th annual picnic recently, two Terrace youngsters, Susie Shields, 1256 N. Race, and Marianne Crouch, 1228 N. Chicago, performed with a local dance group for the picnickers and guests.

Tom Lussier, 1216 N. Chicago, 7 August 15 and was feted at two celebrations. The first was a barbeque at home attended by his brothers, Bob, Jim, Eddy and Joh, along with grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Beahan of Evanston and Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Lussier of Glenview, and uncle, Bob Lussier of Glenview,

The second part of Tom's celebration was held a few days later at Deer Grove, when his parents, Ed and Jean, supervised a cook-out party attended by their sons and Doug Brown, Edward Paul, Jim Brown, Wayne and Gordon Heise and former Terrace playmate, Eugene Dougerty.

A neighborhood potluck picnic was recently hosted by Jack and Donna Garland, 1317 N. Chicago. Enjoying dinner and games with their neighbors and children were the Ralph Wiederholds, George Dyes, Martin Corleys, Ted Miceks and the George Rogers.

Doug, son of Frank and Julie Fietsch, celebrated his fifth birthday last Friday with a luncheon party attended by playmates Mike Stein, Tommy Stanley, Jackie Funk and brother, Mark, and sister, Wendy.

LAST FRIDAY on his fourth birthday, Robert, son of Kenneth and Joan Herrmann, 1443 N. Race, was guest of honor at an afternoon party attended by his brothers, Kenny and Tommy, and sister, Lori, along with Billy Nickas, Andy, Jenny, Laura, David and Nancy Staubitz and Frankie, Lia and Gay Precilo. The following day Robert was feted again at a cook-out attended by both sets of grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Theodore Johnson of Palatine and Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Herrmann, with his aunt, Mrs. Marcy Prestiana, and cousins, Carol and Molly.

St. Peter Lutheran church August 20 was the site of the baptism rites for Richard Gordon, youngest son of Alice and Guy Eisenhuth, 1321 N. Chicago. Pastor Robert Bartz officiated and Walter and Robert Heinemann were sponsors. Later the Eisenhuths were hosts at a dinner attended by friends and relatives, including Richard's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Guy Eisenhuth Sr.

Donald, son of Walter and Florence Skantze, 1400 Clarendon, celebrated his third birthday with an outdoor party for Timmy Borland, Nancy and Bobby Ostler, Buster and Anna Marie Zendejas, Victor Edwards of Prospect Heights and Sharon Parker of Palatine.

ELLEN SOTTUNG, 1722 Oakton, wishes to contact parents of Terrace children entering kindergarten at Ridge school this fall, in an effort to arrange for bus service. Interested parents are asked to call Ellen at CL 5-2343 as soon as possible.

Ronnie, son of Leonard and Ruth Stanley, 1408 Oakton, celebrated his eighth birthday at a family dinner August 20. Attending was his grandmother, Mrs. W. Batchelor, aunt, uncle and cousins Mr. and Mrs. L. Marshall, Mrs. D. Peterson and daughter, Marion, all of Chicago, and brother, Timmy, and sister, Diane.

Last Saturday night Melody, daughter of Gloria and Joe Kalous, 1236 N. Chicago, celebrated her 12th birthday with a costumed "Beatnik" party. Enjoying the dancing and supper, along with strawberry tarts, each holding a birthday candle, were Kathy Taylor, Gayle Guderly, Janie Hult, Lonna Linneweh, Kim Wiederhold, Bruce Weber, Rex Andrews, Steven Connelly and George Carlson.

Jo and Les Rozdalovsky, 1321 N. Race, and daughters, Shirley and Mary Jo, enjoyed a leisurely vacation trip through Nebraska and South Dakota. In Nebraska they visited Les' parents and then traveled on to the Black Hills, where they toured Wind cave, Dinosaur park and Mount Rushmore, along with stopovers at Rapid City and Hill City, S. D., where the girls enjoyed riding in an 1890 steam engine.

The Rozdalovskys returned home briefly, then proceeded to Milwaukee, where Shirley celebrated her eighth birthday with her grandparents and cousins at a picnic and swim party held at Tery Andrae park.

A HAPPY birthday was wished Jean Millhouser, 1702 W. Oakton, at a luncheon held August 19. Attending and helping to extinguish the 10 birthday candles were Jandy Warner, Linda Fluhrer and Nancy Sorensen.

A luau, with an international flavor, was recently hosted by David and Marlene Pendelton, 1240 N. Yale. While the decorations were in keeping with the island theme, dancing included the traditional Hawaiian hula and the Polish hop and entrees ranged from mandarin ribs and Chinese rice to more familiar turkey, ham and lobster.

Terrace guests, bedecked with leis and native costumes, included the Taft Lowells, John Gabels, Donald Sanbergs, Walter Zares, Richard Larsons, Gordon Lichtblaus, Bob Andersons, William Guderleys, Walter Skantzes, Linton Mousakises, John Kennedys and the Bill Borlands. Also attending were Marlene's sisters, Jean and Diana Modjeske, and her dad from Prospect Heights, who took movies, along with couples from Chicago, Mount Prospect, Sherwood, Palatine and Arlington Heights.

SATURDAY afternoon Kurt, son of Dick and Pat Davis, 1255 N. Race, celebrated his sixth birthday with an outdoor party. Joining in the balloon games and peanut hunt were playmates Daniel Herndon, Paul Hacker, Chris McGrath, Danny Neiman, George Wilmot, Ricky McCabe, Randy Lechelt and Larry Van de Merkt.

Kenny Koser, 1327 N. Illinois, celebrated his seventh birthday recently with a backyard cook-out. Party guests included Frankie and Stevie Pircher, Johnny Fairfield, Tommy and Danny Reed and David Polarek.

When Bob and Betty Schilling arrived with their children, Sharon, Gordon and Rob, to visit Bill and Pat Ross, 1252 N. Chicago, last week, they were continuing the last visit the Rosses made to them in March. Bill and Pat were formerly the Schillings' neighbors in Long Island, N. Y., and have, over the years, managed to see each other frequently.

Jimmy, son of Jim and Rose Marie Amann, 1409 N. Wilke, celebrated his second birthday recently with a family party. Attending were his sisters, Catherine and Dawn, and brother, Bob, his great-grandmother, Mrs. Marie Nolting, grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Edward Amann and the Leonard Weidmers, all of Arlington Heights, along with his godparents, Mr. and Mrs. Richard Amann of Rolling Meadows.

ON A RECENT Sunday afternoon, Jack, son of Jo and Bob Hult, 1108 N. Chicago, celebrated the first part of his ninth birthday at a family dinner attended by his grandmother, Mrs. A. J. Hult of Park Ridge, aunt, Mrs. E. Booth of Chicago, and aunt and uncle, the Ray Booths of Northbrook. A few days later he was guest of honor at a party attended by his aunt and uncle, Mr. and Mrs. David Larson of Grosse Pointe Shores, Mich., and cousins, Ann, Linda and David.

A birthday party was held recently in honor of Cheryl Bloom, 1345 N. Illinois, who was 6. Guests included her sister, Wendy, brothers, Marty, Eric and Lars, playmates, Alan Moore, Cheryl Lynn Speers and Kathy Altman, cousin, Debbie Dahlberg of Rolling Meadows, and visiting cousins, Phillip and Peter Hansen from Lincoln, Neb. Neighbor Anne Marie Zendejas was unable to attend.

Pat Davis, 1255 N. Race, recently returned from a vacation trip with her sons, Kurt and Glenn, and her mother, Mrs. T. Bujalski. They spent a week in Thorp, Wis., visiting Pat's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. M. Zaborowki. (A

School Enrollments Here Total 8,700

Arlington Heights elementary schools will open their doors to some 8,700 students next week.

They will be attending the village's 10 public, two Catholic, and one Lutheran school.

Public school district 25 estimates an enrollment of 5,550 students when doors open September 5 for grades three through eight and September 7 for kindergarten through third grade.

THE ENROLLMENT, highest in the district's history, represents an increase of approximately 450 over last June's figures.

District 25 is employing 231 teachers and 15 administrators this year. Last year 208 teachers and 13 administrators were with the district.

The district is opening a new room at Kensington school for pre-school deaf children.

Wilson school, which was formerly in the now defunct district 24, will begin its first complete year in district 25. It joined the district in January of this year.

THE VILLAGE'S two Catholic schools, St. James and Our Lady of the Wayside both show enrollment increases over last year.

Our Lady of the Wayside, 432 S. Mitchell, expects 1130 pupils to attend the first day of classes September 6. This is an increase of approximately 100 students over last year.

The school is conducted by 12 sisters and nine lay teachers, the same as last year. Ar art instructor also holds classes every week.

St. James, 821 N. State, will begin classes September 6 with an enrollment of 1,516 students, an increase of 100 over last year.

THE SCHOOL is employing six new teachers, three of which are lay instructors.

St. James advises students to follow opening day instructions as laid out in the parish bulletin.

St. Peter Lutheran school will begin its 97th year in Arlington Heights September 5 in a new building at 111 W. Olive.

On that day students in grades one through eight will attend school from 9:15 a.m. to 11:45 a.m. Kindergarten sessions will begin September 6.

REGULAR school hours are from 9:15 a.m. to 3:30 p.m.

The record enrollment of 525 pupils will be taught by a staff of 15 teachers. Last year the school employed 13 instructors.

Registration day is Thursday, Aug. 31, from 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3:30 p.m. Students will be paying fees then.

Girls Write Hymn For Publication

A group of Arlington Heights church school girls have authored a hymn that Presbyterian children throughout the country are seeing in the "Day-by-Day" section of their current junior workbook quarterly.

During the 1959-60 school year these youngsters, then the fifth grade group of Mrs. David Bone, 704 Salem, Arlington Heights, began work on words and music.

THEY NAMED it "Let All the Family Go To Church," submitted it early in 1960 and soon were notified that their lyrics would be published.

Mrs. Bone, an amateur composer, said credit for the hymn belongs solely to the girls.

Dr. Paul Louis Stumpf, pastor of the church, says, "The whole church family shares the pride of our nationally featured young lyricists."

Ploetz Named CD Director

Lester H. Ploetz, 1004 N. Mitchell, has been appointed deputy director of the Arlington Heights Civil Defense organization, with responsibility for the training, public information, and legal-administrative divisions of the program. His appointment was announced this week by Wallace B. Daughtry, director of Civil Defense for Arlington Heights.

The first of a total of five deputy directors to be selected, Ploetz is owner of Ploetz, Inc., Chicago advertising firm. He served as a first sergeant with the U. S Army infantry during World War II.

In stressing the importance of those areas of the effort headed by Ploetz, Daughtry said:

"EVERY informed projection indicates that damage to our community would most likely be due to fall-out rather than due to a direct hit.

"While fall-out striking an unprepared community could result in the loss of 80 per cent of lives there is absolutely no need for the loss to be this high if a community is adequately prepared," he declared.

"However, most people do not realize how greatly family survival would depend upon personal responsibility.

"WE ARE all so accustomed to relying on governmental agencies, such as our armed forces, police and fire departments, and others to cope with disaster problems that it is a shock to most people to realize the extent of individual family responsibility involved in a nuclear disaster.

"For example, there is the possibility of confinement to a home shelter for periods of as much as two weeks.

"IT IS OUR intention to prepare Arlington Heights as rapidly as possible for every eventuality. However, in any event this will require months of effort and be impossible without the personal interest of every resident and individual acceptance of family responsibilities.

"The implementation of an organization wing for administration, public information, and training seems the logical first step in our program."

Daughtry is still asking volunteers to call the village hall at CL 3-8601 and list their name, address, phone number, and type of work preferred.

New Minimum Wage Is Set

Employers across the nation are reminded that amendments to the Fair Labor Standards Act become effective September 3.

The reminder comes from Clarence T. Lundquist, administrator of the Wage and Hour and Public Contract divisions in the U.S. Department of Labor.

Lundquist said that employees previously covered by the law will be entitled to a minimum wage of at least $1.15 an hour. The law continues to apply to employees engaged in interstate commerce or the production of goods for interstate commerce, unless specifically exempt.

COVERAGE OF the act has also been extended to employees of large enterprises engaged in commerce or the production of goods for commerce, Lundquist said. These newly covered employees, mostly in the retail and service trades, will be due a minimum wage of at least $1 an hour. Also covered are employees of some gasoline service stations, local or interurban transit systems, and construction enterprises.

The administrator said the act's overtime provisions will continue to apply to workers who are already covered. They require time and one-half for all hours worked over 40 in a work week. For employees who are newly covered under the act, overtime pay will not be required until 1963.

EXEMPTIONS continue to apply to such establishments as hotels, motels, restaurants, hospitals, movies, and a few other service establishments. Lundquist pointed out that the retail or service establishments exemption now in effect will continue to apply to establishments which are not in a $1 million enterprise or, if in such an enterprise, have less than $250,000 in annual gross sales.

If employers or employees have any questions on how the amended act applies to them, Lundquist urges them to contact the nearest wage-hour office of the U.S. Department of Labor. These offices are located in principal cities across the country.

Expect Year's Corn Yield to Exceed Record

There seemingly is no doubt that this year's corn crop will produce the highest average yield ever attained. Based on present conditions, the national average could well be 60 bushels per acre, which would beat the previous record by five bushels.

This, in contrast to the 25 bushel per acre averages of pre-hybrid days, shows how far hybrid corn, fertilization, and favorable weather have advanced production. Only three times in the period from 1866 to 1940 did the national corn yield average exceed 30 bushels per acre. Those years were 1905, 1906 and 1920.

THE HIGHEST of the three was in 1906 when the United States produced its first three billion bushel crop on 95 million acres with an average yield of 31.7 bushels. This year's crop of approximately four billion bushels will be produced on 66.6 million acres.

Most of DeKalb's crop observers report the corn crop condition in their areas as "excellent" to "very good." This applies particularly to the heavy areas of corn production in the central corn belt. In Iowa, Illinois and southern Minnesota the crop is tall, dark green and luxuriant with an adequate moisture supply and is well advanced.

ONLY NEGATIVE reports are from areas on the edge of the corn belt. In central and northern Wisconsin, it has been a little too dry; in Ohio some concern is expressed over maturity; northern Minnesota and the eastern parts of the Dakotas have been on the ragged edge of insufficient subsoil moisture.

Reports from Iowa, the great corn state, are delightfully monotonous—for example: "Growing conditions ideal in north central section"; "Corn looks as good as any crop ever looked," in Audubon Co.; in Cedar County, corn "looks as good as it has ever looked"; 'Corn prospects for the southwest part are for a record crop"; 'The southeast will have one of its best corn crops in history."

Oats harvest is now completed and many high yields are reported as the cool, rainy early season was ideal for oats. Wisconsin, Iowa, Minnesota, Pennsylvania and Michigan have all reported top yields of up to 100 bushels per acre. Harvest-time rains in many areas, though, resulted in weathering and lower quality grain.

Child Labor Law Affects Farmers

Illinois farmers hiring workers for harvesting the fall crop were reminded today that the Fair Labor Standards Act sets a 16-year age minimum for the employment of children in agriculture during school hours.

"The Federal law provides children with a priceless commodity — time to go to school," says Earl F. Halverson, Regional Director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts Divisions, the agency which enforces the Act.

THE CHILD-LABOR provisions protect local youngsters and children of migratory workers alike, Halverson pointed out. There is only one exception to the rule prohibiting children under 16 from working in agriculture during school hours of the school district where the child lives while working, he added. The exception is for the farmer's child working on his parents' farm. He also added that children may lawfully work on farms before and after school hours, and on weekends and other days when there is no school.

"The farmer can easily make sure of the age of any young worker if he asks for an age certificate. A certificate showing the young person is old enough for the job serves as proof of age for purposes of the act," Halverson said. These certificates can generally be obtained from local school officials.

The child-labor provisions apply to farmers who engage in interstate commerce or ship produce in interstate commerce or to dealers in the same state who ship the produce in interstate commerce.

REGIONAL Director Halverson said persons who want more information about the application of the Act to children working on farms should get in touch with the Wage-Hour Offices at Room 1100, 105 W. Adams st., Chicago 3.

Award Medals for Tractor Operation

During the next few months thousands of 4-H Club members will be recognized for doing an exceptionally good job in maintaining and operating the farm tractor.

Medals will be awarded to members who are outstanding in their counties. The top boy or girl in the state will be named delegate to the National 4-H Club Congress opening here November 30, according to the National 4-H Service Committee.

MORE THAN a million 4-H'ers have participated in the national 4-H tractor program since its inception nearly two decades ago, reports the National 4-H Service Committee. In addition, some 50,000 adult volunteer club leaders have been trained to better carry out the program's objectives.

Progress and skill of the 4-H members themselves are measured in various ways. Two annual events bring together the top tractor contestants from more than 40 states to demonstrate their abilities.

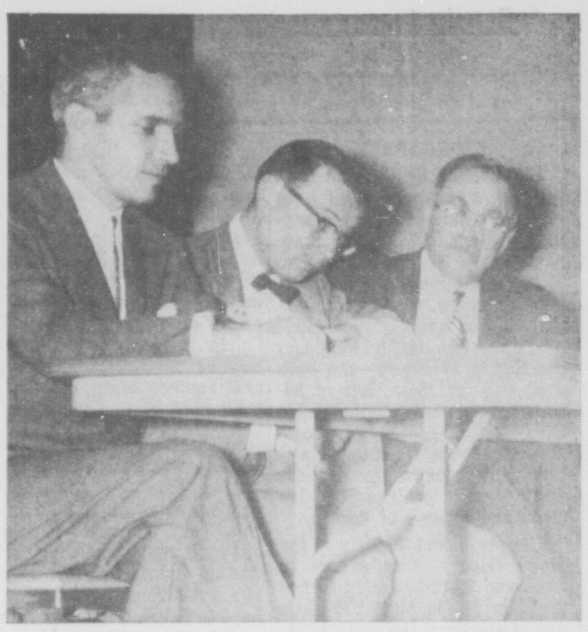
One is the Eastern United States 4-H Tractor Operators' contest which this year will take place September 26 at the Virginia State Fair in Richmond. The other is the Central and Western contest to be held October 15-17, during the Texas State Fair at Dallas. Driving skills, mechanical know- how and safety practices are scored.

THE STANDARD Oil Foundation, Inc., Chicago, which sponsors the program in 14 midwestern states, provides $400 scholarships for national champions in addition to medals and 4-H congress trips.

At a recent conference of 4-H tractor sponsors, Kenneth H. Anderson, associate director of the 4-H Service Committee, had this to say: "It is a program that has helped bring about more efficient agricultural production and has led to tremendous savings in fuel and repairs. Parents and neighbors have benefited because 4-H members have shared their practical skills and knowledge."

Agricultural surpluses notwithstanding, today efficiency is definitely the key to making farming profitable, he added.

With five million tractors on American farms today, efficiency is just what the 4-H tractor project aims to teach. The work is under the supervision of the Cooperative Extension Service.



WAYNE BRENNAN, center, director of the proposed Latin American "adoption" program, is flanked by CBS commentator Frank Reynolds and Peruvian Consul Oscar Benavidas. Reynolds and Benavidas encouraged Arlington Heights residents to adopt Pompa di Coman, a Peruvian community of 50,000 poverty stricken people, at a meeting Monday.

Talented Medinah 'Maid' Competes At State Fair

A Medinah Merry Maids 4-H club member, Susan Landrum, was chosen to compete at the State Fair in Springfield recently because of a high rating given her handmade garments at the county achievement show and dress revue.

Susan, the first club member selected to participate in the state-wide event, is a freshman at Lake Park high school, Medinah, and is in her third year of 4-H clothing projects.

AT THE 4-H achievement show July 31 in Arlington Heights, area club members modeled their own creations and were rated A, B and C with the nine highest being invited to show them again at a dress revue in Park Forest August 2.

The talented Medinah teenager's outfit, a toast color checked skirt and matching jacket, earned her an A at county achievement. At the dress revue her skill was again recognized when judges asked her to compete at the State Fair.

At Springfield she represented Cook county and the local 4-H club.

Feeding Margin Is Cattlemen's Boon

More and more cattle feeders are finding that feeding margin is their only source of profit, observes A. L. Neumann, head of the University of Illinois beef cattle division.

He explains that prices of feeder cattle are still relatively high. Yet prices for finished or slaughter cattle are not climbing in comparison. On the average, the price that farmers pay for feeder cattle and the price they sell them for as slaughter cattle have been almost the same in the past year.

THEREFORE cattle feeders must be shrewd enough to produce cheap gains that cover all costs and still provide some profit. This means feeding calves or light yearling cattle on rations containing a lot of cheaply produced roughages.

What's keeping the price of feeder cattle up? First, more feeder cattle from the west are being fed in the west. Second, more midwest farmers are feeding cattle. And, third, already established cattle feeders are increasing the size of their operations.

The combination of these reasons has created a shortage of feeder cattle and kept the price up. Neumann says these trends do not seem to be temporarly. They may continue for years.

Our Saviour Charters Buses for Huge Rally

Buses have been chartered to take members of Our Saviour Lutheran church, Arlington Heights, to the Lutheran rally to be held at McCormick Place September 10 a. 3 p.m. Dr. Franklin Fry, president of the ULCA and Lutheran World Federation, will be the speaker.

Buses will leave at 2 p.m. with a round trip fare of 75 cents. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. James Garrison or the church office.

For the small members of the congregation Mrs. Jerome Downing is forming a choir. Children in the first, second and third grades are eligible. Rehearsals will be held on Wednesdays, 3:45 to 4:30, starting September 6.

SEVERAL babies have been baptized in the church within the last month. They are: Lynn Holle, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Windhorst; Christopher William, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. William Danaher; Geoffrey John, infant son of Mr. and Mrs. John Codd; Julie Ruth, infant daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Byron Fanselow.

Young Republicans to Hear Carroll Address

John 'Bill" Carroll, state representative from the sixth district, will be guest speaker at the monthly meeting of the Wheeling Township Young Republican club, to be held Wednesday, Sept. 6, at 8 p.m., in the community room of the Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan association building.

ACCORDING TO George Coker, program chairman, Carroll's presentation will be entitled "Comments on the Last Session of the Illinois General Assembly." A question and answer period will follow his comments.

Although Rep. Carroll's appearance is being sponsored by the Young Republican club, the public is invited to attend and to listen to their state representative.

Joining Coker in extending an invitation to all township residents were Thomas J. Houser, president and Gerald A. Moe, first vice president.

THE CLUB, organized 11 months ago, meets the first Wednesday of each month. Township residents between the ages of 18 and 36 are eligible to become active members.

Membership chairman is Joseph Tolson, 1 S. Dryden pl., Arlington Heights. (ACM

Blackhawk Scouts Have Big Camping Year at Napowan

Vance Folkman, 900 Meyer rd., Mt. Prospect, chairman of the Blackhawk Boy Scout district camping committee, has announced a record camping year for the district.

Folkman stated that 272 boys attended the Northwest Suburban Council's Camp Napowan at Wild Rose, Wis., for a period of 14 days. They enjoyed boating, canoeing, swimming, nature, handicraft, cooking, camping and all of the other crafts and skills of Boy Scouting.

The Blackhawk district led the Northwest Suburban Council in the number of boys participating in camp this summer. Twenty-two boys from the district served on the camp staff for 35 to 70 days assisting Scoutmasters in giving instructions to the other Scouts.

Those on the permanent staff for the whole season were:

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS: Bill Edelblute, Craig McDougall, Ron Oas, and Terry Witt;

MT. PROSPECT: Bob Sabey, Tom Salken, James and Willis Weiler, and Steve Whitesel;

PROSPECT HEIGHTS: Bill Kist; and ELK GROVE: Don Ross and John Stafsnes.

The following boys served for part of the season as counselors in training: Mack Borgen, Bill Hemsley, and Bob Schulte, all of Arlington Heights; Ron Sessions, Prospect Heights; Lyle Gomm, Scott Peterson, Rick Sawyer, and Terry Taylor, all of Mount Prospect.

Boy Scouts and Senior Scouts in the four villages spent a total of 4541 days in long-term camping this summer. Folkman stated that it would be impossible ever to compute the number of days spent in overnight and weekend camping but that the figure would be astronomical. In the last year short-term camping by Boy Scouts in the four village district has nearly doubled. (ACM

New Scout Troop Formed by Church

John H. Dunham, 100 E. Marion, Prospect Heights, chairman of the Blackhawk district organization and extension committee, has announced the organization of a new Boy Scout troop at the Cumberland Baptist church, 2 N. Stevenson, Mount Prospect.

The unit was organized by Albert E. Smedley, 503 S. Pine, Mt. Prospect, who is a member of the district committee.

The over-all program of Scouting within the church will be supervised by Allen McKay, who was named institutional representative by the Rev. Frank Doten, pastor of the church.

THE NEW troop will be administered by chairman Carl Quackenbush of Des Plaines, and his committee. The other members of the committee are Richard Engstrom and Jerry Garmanian, both of Mt. Prospect, and Walter Peterson and Herbert Nelson, both of Des Plaines.

Vernon E. Anderson of Des Plaines, who has had many years of experience in the Chicago Scout Council, will serve as Scoutmaster, and will be assisted by Walter J. Miller, also of Des Plaines, as Assistant Scoutmaster.

The troop has been organized to serve both the members of the church and those in the local neighborhood. This is the first of 18 new troops that the Blackhawk district plans to organize this fall in Arlington Heights, Elk Grove, Mount Prospect, and Prospect Heights.

ROLLING MEADOWS

During August troop 17 enjoyed getting together for a trip to the Salerno cookie bakeries and a swim at the home of one of the brownies. On the tour through the bakery, they were shown the baking procedure of crackers, pecan crescents and marshmallow cookies. Each member of the group, including the leader, Mrs. Emmett Anderson, and co-leader, Mrs. Lloyd Livingstone, received three sample boxes.

On another summery day the group assembled at the home of Mechele Penkofer for a swim and lots of vacation discussion.

Several troops, including 633, 312, and 666, have been meeting through the summer to make plans for overnight cookouts in September.

SCOUTS ON TOUR

July 16 began two exciting weeks for nine girl scouts and their three chaperones. After two years of careful planning and earning half of their expenses, the girls traveled to the Mexican International Girl Scout House in Cuernavaca.

The trip included a 6-day encampment and a 4-day tour of Mexico. Local girls included Diane Sargol and Louise Richardson of Palatine and Marilyn Yardon of Arlington Heights.

When asked for their impressions of the trip the girls had these comments:

Louise Richardson: "During our stay at the Girl Scout Hostel we mingled with scouts from the U. S., Canada and Guatamala. Cabana activities consisted of touring, arts and crafts, swimming and friendship making. From this type of International scouting comes the G. S. law, 'A friend to all and a sister to every other G. S.'"

DIANE SARGOL: "Beautiful land of a friendly people is most certainly a perfect description of Mexico and the spot I will most remember is Mexico City. There was never a dull moment in this tourist's paradise from the first day at Maximillian's summer home, Chapultepec Palace, to the last day spent at the bull fights. Nothing could have been as colorful as Xochillimo, the floating gardens, nor as inspiring as the shrine of Guadalupe.

"Nor could any people be as friendly or as hospitable as the Mexican people we encountered. It is their belief that if you see the Volcano Po Po on your last day in the country you will return. It was a beautiful sight and we anxiously await the fulfillment of Mexican belief."

Monticello Coin Club To Meet

Monticello Coin club members will gather for their first fall meeting on Friday, Sept. 1, at 7:30 p.m. in Oak Street school, Palatine. This is the first meeting back at the school after a summer change in schedule.

All those interested in coin collecting are invited to attend a meeting and get acquainted. There will be a coin auction and display as well as a business session. (B8

Sharp Increase Noted In '61 Tax Cheating

Criminal cases involving would-be tax cheats investigated by its Intelligence Division increased sharply in the 1961 fiscal year, the Internal Revenue Service reported this week.

The Department of Justice obtained indictments against 1,669 individuals in tax fraud cases referred by IRS Intelligence in this year ended June 30. This compared with 1,194 indicated in the previous fiscal year.

H. ALAN LONG, Director of the Intelligence Division said special agents investigated over 16,500 cases, of which 3,677 became full-scale investigations. In initiating these investigations, the Intelligence Division screened and evaluated almost 116,000 leads, or information items relating to possible tax evasion.

Persons brought to justice during this period included representatives of almost the entire range of professions and businesses, from gravedigger to steeplejack.

Unreported dividend and interest cases comprised a sizeable portion of the cases successfully prosecuted.

Persons prominent in the nation's news came under court action during the year.

They included: Massachusetts industrialist Bernard Goldfine, found guilty of individual and corporation income tax evasion and sentenced to prison for one year and one day and a fine of $110,000; Goldfine's secretary, Mildred Paperman, guilty of income tax evasion, sentenced to four months in prison, suspended, two years probation and fined $12,500; former Illinois state official William W. Downey, sentenced to three years in prison, suspended three years probation and a $5,000 fine for income tax evasion; "Goose" Tatum, professional basketball star, sentenced to prison for three months, and three years probation for failure to file income tax returns; and Joseph Netro, manager of a former world champion boxer, fined $5,000 for failure to file income tax returns.

IN THE RACKETS field, actions were taken against Tony Accardo, Chicago, sentenced to prison for six years and fined $15,000 for making and subscribing to false income tax returns under penalties of perjury; Mickey Cohen, Los Angeles, found guilty of income tax evasion, concealment of assets to defeat collection of taxes and making false statements, sentenced to prison for 15 years and fined $30,000; Anthony Coppola, New Jersey fined $2,500 and sentenced to six months imprisonment for failure to file returns; and Abe Minkler, Reading, Pennsylvania, found guilty, but not yet sentenced for evasion of wagering excise taxes.

In the wagering and coin-operated gaming device enforcement area, three nationwide coordinated raids were staged during the fiscal year. These raids resulted in 421 arrests by service personnel, plus a large number of arrests by cooperating local police. Approximately 335 different locations in 160 cities were involved; more than $270,000 in cash, 6 automobiles, 57 coin-operated devices, as well as a number of weapons, adding machines, typewriters, etc., were seized.

Seek Teenagers To Re-Register Voters for GOP

Serious, responsible teenagers are being sought by Richard B. Ogilvie, state chairman of the voter re-registration drive being conducted by the Republican Citizens League of Illinois.

He wants to enroll as doorbell-ringing volunteers urging eligible voters, especially Republicans and independents, to be sure to be qualified to vote in upcoming 1962 elections.

"Not only do we need capable volunteers in all age brackets, literally thousands more of them," said Ogilvie, "but we feel that a responsible role in practical precinct politics is good for young people, a form of preparation for their voting years of tomorrow."

Ogilvie explained that many voters in Chicago and Cook county are not aware, despite widespread publicity by the many voters in Chicago and Cook county are not aware, despite widespread publicity by the League and others, that their prior registrations are erased because of an Illinois General Assembly act of 1959.

Every eligible voter now must re-register.

Civic-minded teens will be given proper training for their volunteer work in a short course conducted by the League. They are asked to write to or call the League at 67 E. Madison st. Chicago, RAndolph 6-1961.

Form Organization to Run Simon for Senat

A move to promote State Representative Paul Simon of Troy as the Democratic nominee for U. S. Senator in the race against Senator Everett Dirkson was announced this week by two Illinois civic and political leaders.

Announcement of the formation of a Paul-Simon-for-Senator Committee was made by Walter Johnson, chairman of the history department of the University of Chicago and head of the "Draft Stevenson" movement of 1952, and State Senator Robert McCarthy of Lincoln, prominent member of the state legislature.

Treasurer of the committee is Robert Schrayer of Lake County, an insurance executive with offices in Chicago. Stanley Weinberger, a Chicago attorney, is secretary.

Simon is the publisher of several Illinois weekly newspapers. He is serving his fourth term in the Illinois House of Representatives, and in past terms has received awards for his legislative service, including the "Best Legislator" award from the Independent Voters of Illinois.

SIMON HAS traveled in five continents and has visited with many of the world's leading statesmen, his backers point out.

Simon first achieved recognition when he began fighting organized crime in his home county through his newspaper in Troy, they add. He became the publisher of the Troy Tribune at the age of 19, at that time the youngest publisher in the country. His battle with the professional gamblers received national attention, as a result of which he was called as a witness before the Kefauver Crime Investigating committee.

In the state legislature Simon has been responsible for several major pieces of legislation, such as the "Open Meeting" bill, which made it the public policy of the state that meetings of all governmental units must be open to the public. A commission which he sponsored was responsible for a new adoption code for the state. He has also had proposals of his enacted in the civil rights field, and Governor Kerner recently signed a conditional release bill to rehabilitate prisoners which Simon sponsored.

PAUL SIMON

DURING THE last three legislative sessions Simon wrote a column for more than 300 Illinois newspapers, with a weekly circulation of more than two million. For this column he received an American Political Science award "for distinguished reporting of state and local government."

He has also written for national publications and is completing a book on Lincoln's four terms in the Illinois House of Representatives.

Simon served for two years with the Counter Intelligence Corps of the U. S. Army along the Iron Curtain in central Europe.

He attended the University of Oregon and Dana College in Nebraska.

He is married to a former legislator, Jeanne Hurley of Wilmette. They met in the legislature, and when they married they became the first man and wife team in Illinois history. Mrs. Simon did not seek reelection following their marriage. They have one daughter, Sheila Jeanne, who is five months old.

HEADQUARTERS for the Paul-Simon-for-Senator Committee have been opened at 189 W. Madison in Chicago.

"Every sounding we have taken shows wide support for Paul Simon throughout the state," a committee officer stated. "The recent poll of newspaper editors, conducted by Paddock Publications, showing that Paul Simon is their first choice by a wide margin, is just one of many indications. We believe that we can offer the Democratic organization a winner in the candidacy of Paul Simon, and more important, we believe that we can offer the state and nation the kind of U. S. Senator who should join Paul Douglas in Washington."

Lohman Bids Illinois Politics Goodby

Treasurer Off To California

by CHARLES HAYES

State Treasurer Joseph D. Lohman visited northwest suburbs last week. He came to say goodbye and to leave some sobering words of wisdom and warning.

Lohman departs Friday for the University of California, where he will become dean of the school of criminology. A university professor prior to his debut in politics in 1954, the State Treasurer resigned in mid-term this week to return, a sadder but wiser man, to the groves of academe.

In a farewell interview with editors of Paddock Publications' suburban newspapers, the last of the Democratic eggheads had some trenchant observations:

—On state finances: "You ain't seen nuthin' yet!"

—On metropolitan growth: "We are failing to come to grips with problems at the metropolitan level. You get the impression we are trying to use in 1961 the resources appropriate to 1950."

—ON ILLINOIS politics: "We are still in the middle of the 19th century."

—On Illinois Democrats: "You get too much of this atmosphere of 'stay at home; if we want you, we will call you.' This makes for maximum efficiency for the man who holds the reins, but it does not make for a good party."

—On Illinois GOP: "A lot of new young names are coming to the front. This should be encouraged, and I congratulate the Republicans for doing this. I would like to see the Democrats doing the same thing."

—On race relations: "If things go on, with the systematic sweep of new race problems and the public not being informed about them or doing anything, we could wake up and find we are being destroyed."

—ON PATRONAGE: "If we are dependent upon rewards from government to bring out the vote, we should be sure that that reward will not subvert government. I do not think we have done enough in this respect in Illinois."

His decision to resign as State Treasurer was made after much soul searching, admitted Lohman. "I wanted to continue contributing to the public life of America. I happen to be the kind of person who likes to use more of his talents than it seems possible to make available in Illinois at the present time. I feel I can contribute more to the American democratic system in this new position."

He added: "I cannot stand for things that literally are not the courage of my convictions. If you cannot stand with them, then it's time to get out. I'm getting out."

Lohman is deeply concerned about the lack of leadership in Illinois and about bossism. He believes there should be more rigid separation of legislative and executive functions.

"Legislators do not discuss or vote on a basis of issues or policies," he stressed. "They make the legislature an arena of contests for power. Legislators respond to word handed down from sources of power and influence which make the Assembly a mere pawn. You can't make the constitutional system work when the same man wears three hats—as executive, legislators' boss, and an influence over judicial slates."

He decried the role of legislators as political jobholders, primarily concerned with their position as patronage workers.

One of the first voices raised in concern over Illinois' impending fiscal crisis, Lohman is one of the state's most knowledgeable experts on finance.

Ironically, the 51-year-old Democrat has been pointedly snubbed by Democratic Governor Otto Kerner. Admits Lohman: "I do not know who is responsible for determining the Governor's budget and revenue policies. I am not in the confidence of the administration in this respect."

IN ASSESSING the fiscal future and Kerner's grasp of the needs for revenue reform, Lohman is bleakly blunt.

He declared that "practically no progress was made in the last session of the legislature with respect to revenue problems. I do not feel we have any reason to be optimistic."

He warned that the public is not aware of how desperate is the need for a reassessment of the state's financial structure. Predicting a $106 million deficit by 1963, Lohman said the 73rd General Assembly's revenue-producing problems will include all the negative features of 1961 plus new problems created by population growth and inaction.

A bitter opponent of the sales tax increase, Lohman said the state legislature "merely compounded existing tax inequalities," adding that "most legislators were relatively uninformed on the fiscal problems of this state or any other."

HE WARNED that the sales tax broadening bills may not stand the test of court action, and that such litigation could impound fees and monies, further complicating the finance dilemma.

The volatile professor-politician repeated his earlier recommendation for creation of a commission of experts to make a searching study of the state's sources of wealth and how these are affected by existing taxes. Such a commission could then prepare an equitable tax structure.

"Illinois is not bankrupt," explained Lohman. "We are one of the wealthiest states. What actually is the trouble is we do not have the leadership and inclination of leadership to obtain money in ways that are equitable."

In an obvious slap at Governor Kerner, he said: "There is a need for courage, determination and fairness in high circles of leadership. Someone has to have the guts to say it is wrong to operate needed state services by always going to housewives, small home owners, and farmers. The present state leadership has not yet shown the inclination or determination to bring about the needed change."

Lohman insisted the sales tax increase was not inevitable. "I am convinced that Illinois did not have to become one of the most regressive sales tax states in the nation. When the Governor says, 'I had to do this, I had nothing else to do,' that is government by default. There were other alternatives; they just had no spokesmen."

Metropolitan growth and suburban development is also posing serious challenges for the future, said Lohman, who is particularly conversant with suburban problems.

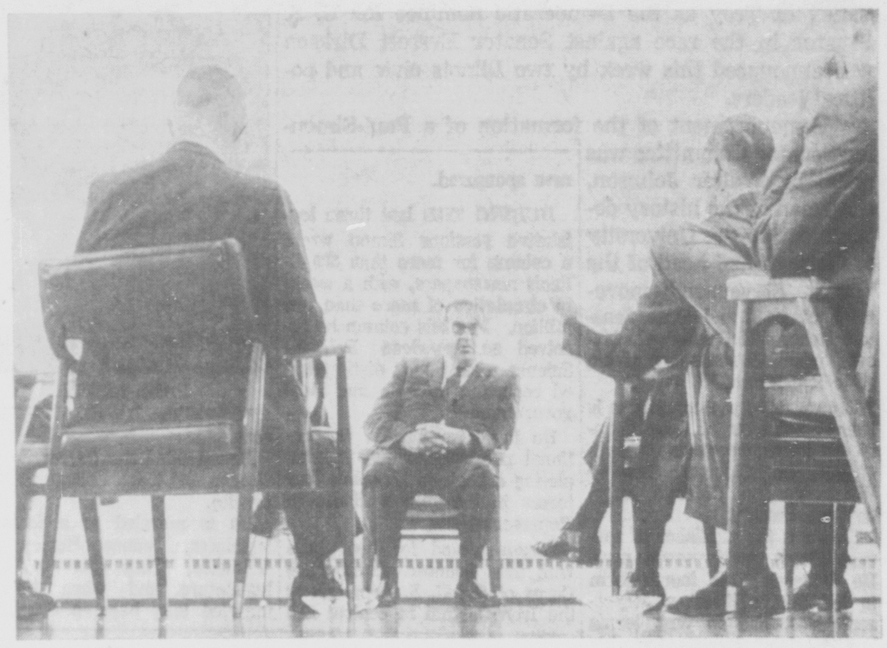
"The balance of power in Illinois is now located in the region which extends 50 miles out from the city of Chicago," he explained. "What happens in that region can determine the future political condition and economic development of the state. Unfortunately, we are not keeping on top of the problems of this region. We have to have imaginative leadership akin to that imagination and resource which everyone expects in producing a program to get a missile to the moon—in finding the way, in finding new propellants, new devices. Public administration is in a dilemma largely because its 'scientists' are sitting back."

Although disenchanted with Mayor Richard J. Daley and his boss rule of Illinois' Democratic party, Lohman is not disillusioned and he's not leaving politics.

He will retain a voting residence in Illinois and keep in close touch with state affairs.

"I have a continuing interest in Illinois," he said. "I consider this my home. No matter what happens, this will be the case. I certainly would enter into anything I felt would be of interest to the people of Illinois."

Lohman grinned, and concluded: "Perhaps the political climate could profit from a change!" (A-14



FACING EDITORS OF Paddock Publications during a "farewell" press conference is Joseph D. Lohman, who resigned as State Treasurer to become dean of University of California's school of criminology. Lohman held the special interview session at Paddock's offices prior to leaving state office August 31. He answered a wide range of questions covering Illinois finance, politics, press, and suburban problems.

State Penalizes 10 Area Drivers for Violations

Ten northwest area residents had their drivers licenses either revoked or suspended by the office of Charles F. Carpentier, Secretary of State.

Two of the licenses were revoked or suspended for driving while intoxicated. The other eight were called in for an accumulation of three moving violations.

FIVE OTHER residents received probationary permits to drive. These persons had previously had their licenses revoked or suspended, but did not have total point accumulation of over 62 points against them.

Ronald J. Hess, 157 N. Hale st., Palatine, had his drivers license revoked as a result of driving while under the influence of alcohol. Robert D. Poole, 717 N. Pine, Arlington Heights, had his license suspended on a similar charge.

The following received suspensions for accumulating three moving violations within one year:

PATRICIA A. Caul, 1905 Fernandez, Arlington Heights; Dennis W. Hagy, 941 W. Higgins rd., Elk Grove; Robert W. Huberty, 2604 South st., Rolling Meadows; and Ronald W. Lewis 1005 N. Hickory, Arlington Heights.

Robert L. McGlynn, 124 S. Hickory, Bartlett; Sidney F. Vance, 329 E. Norman ln., Wheeling; Margaret R. Bunch, 2 N475 N. Villa, Addison; and Thomas C. MacPherson, RR No. 1, Addison.

RECEIVING probationary permits to operate motor vehicles were: Andrew F. Hacker, 306 E. Hawthorn, Arlington Heights; Warren C. Holcomb, 206 Fletcher dr., Wheeling; Raymond C. Schuler, 1007 N. Stratford, Arlington Heights; Elmer J. Kunesh, 615 N. Neva ave., Addison; and Joseph Sorce, 113 Carthage ln., Roselle.

The announcement of revocations and suspensions were among 224 revocations and 471 suspensions issued for the entire state by Carpentier's office on August 22. (A14

Lohman Mark Is Unexcelled

Joseph D. Lohman leaves office today (August 31) with an outstanding record as State Treasurer. In his 20 months of service, he:

—ended the practice of favoring certain banks with interest-free deposits. His policies earned more interest (over $18 million in 20 months) than his predecessors, even though they had more idle and surplus funds at their disposal;

—forced an increase in the interest bid for state deposits;

—cracked down on justices of the peace who had pocketed or misplaced $350,000 in fines dating back to 1956;

—uncovered more than $600,000 in impounded sales taxes paid under protest and apparently forgotten by previous state officials;

—ENACTED economies in the administration of his office and shocked fellow politicians by returning unspent almost 10 per cent of the authorized appropriation for his office; and —sounded the alarm more than three years ago on the state's impending fiscal crisis, which arrived this year with a boom.

Lohman has been replaced as State Treasurer by Francis Lorenz, former Cook county treasurer. (A-14

Classes Reduce Moms' Fear

PRACTICE ON A life size baby doll will make the real thing easy for Mr. and Mrs. Peters, who are attending the 6 week course in Mother and Child Care at Northwest Community hospital. Lessons in formula making, diapering and films on fertilization and nutrition as well as post partum care for mother and child are incorporated into the 12 hour course which is free to expectant parents. The course runs continuously each 6 weeks.

They Make a Difference

Expecting a new baby at your house?

Is mother tearful, self conscious about her figure and letting the housework pile up while she sleeps, sleeps and sleeps?

Are both in the dark about baby's routine, diaper changing, formula, and colic?

An understanding of the emotional and physical problems that the expectant parents have to adjust to can make the difference between a blessed event and an event that is close to being a nightmare.

The free classes in Mother and Child Care offered by the Northwest Community hospital are designed to take many of the fears and tensions out of approaching parenthood. It is open to all couples, but class registrants must receive a letter of certification from their doctor.

Classes meet each Thursday evening at 7:30 for two hours.

THE SIX-WEEK course begins with an explaination of fertilization and during the following weeks classes include nutrition, formula making, labor and delivery, demonstrations of the bath and diapering and a study of what pitfalls can be expected during the first year of baby's life.

Charlene Komay, the registered nurse who instructs the class, is enthusiastic about her teaching assignment. "They aren't a captive audience, the couples are there because because of a common interest, this forms a bond between them," she said, "and gives me incentative try my best to be helpful."

Mrs. Komay is married and the mother of two daughters. She was graduated from Presbyterian hospital in Chicago in 1951 and worked there and at Sherman hospital, Elgin before she and her husband moved to Rolling Meadows in 1955. She worked in the maternity floors of these hospitals and at Northwest Community hospital before the first classes in Mother and Child care were begun in April.

"IN SPITE of being a nurse I've learned a lot from this course," she laughed, "for instance I see that my girls have orange juice everyday for its vitamin C content and I keep a supply of carrots in the refrigerator."

The classes follow a schedule recommended by the American Red Cross and Mrs. Komay was required to take a 40-hour course before she achieved a Red Cross instructors' status. A certificate is issued to couples who complete the course.

The Red Cross has loaned the hospital equipment for the course such as life size baby dolls, sample layette, movie film and a projector until they can afford to purchase their own supplies.

The fathers are serious and intent about the course and ask detailed questions. They prefer the football hold for burping purposes and the new mothers tend toward the neck-nuzzling over the shoulder technique.

Mother instinct and the male awkwardness with dolls are apparent in the demonstration classes, although the prospective mother usually is more concerned about understanding her moods and the physical changes within her.

BACKGROUNDS OF couples who have taken the course have been varied; some of them have other children at home, two had their babies before they completed the course. One expectant father attended the final class in a wheel chair. An appendicitis operaton had made him a patient in the hospital between classes.

"I would like to emphasize the fact that the Mother and Child Care course is free," said Mrs. Komay, "all of the doctors on the staff at Northwest Community hospital know of it and although most of the mothers in the class do deliver at Northwest this isn't a requirement.

"Eight couples make a good size class, although we have had as many as ten in a course. Anyone interested in joining the next course which begins September 7 should first obtain a letter of permission from their doctor and then telephone the hospital, CL 9-1000 extension 521, to register." (B8

A MISTAKE IN putting on a diaper can be disasterous to grownup and uncomfortable for baby. Perhaps that's why Mr. Peters (center) and Mr. Kurie are so intent about following Mrs. Komay's instructions. Practice on life size dolls is a part of the Mother and Child Care course at Northwest Community hospital. The classes follow a schedule outlined by the American Red Cross and are designed to help expectant parents adjust to the problems and routine of a new baby. (B-8

MRS. ROBERT HANNENBERG could be dreaming of the day not too far away when she'll hav ea baby of her own to burp. In the meantime Mrs. Henry Komay shows her one of the "holds" that get satisfactory results. Mrs. Komay, a registered nurse, has been instructing the course in Mother and Child Care at Northwest Community hospital since it was begun in April.

CARE Steps Up Berlin Relief

CARE, the non-profit overseas aid agency, has stepped up relief distributions in West Berlin in response to the recent upsurge of refugees from the east.

Willard Johnson, Chief of CARE's Berlin operation, reported that his staff is providing food, clothing and personal necessities for the refugees, who were fleeing at the rate of nearly 2,000 a day.

JOHNSON described the Marienfelde refugee center in West Berlin as crowded with young parents with babies in their arms. He said, "Most had to flee with very few belongings and are sorely in need of food and clothing for their babies."

Donations marked "Berlin Refugees" will purchase diapers, shirts, jackets, bowls, spoons and food for these needy families. Send to CARE, 1 South State, Chicago 3, Illinois.

In addition, a four-man task force is now in Africa to begin an eight-week survey aimed at developing CARE food and self-help programs in Liberia, Nigeria, Sierra Leone and the Cameroons, announced Charles W. Stinger, CARE's Midwest Regional Director.

THIS PLANNED extension of CARE services to Africe is the natural outgrowth of a private American foreign aid program which, in fifteen years, has progressed from a postwar emergency relief program to a long range action now reaching the people of 28 countries.

CARE's task force, with the full cooperation of each African country, will study the need for food, farm and building rools, well-digging equipment and other self-help items useful in aiding the economy of the African people. (A-14

Arlington Leads Sales Tax Lists

Arlington Heights headed the slate of communities in the northwest suburbs for amount of retail tax returns from the state for the month of June.

The returns are based on provisions of the Illinois State Municipal Retailers Occupation tax act passed by the General Assembly.

ARLINGTON HEIGHTS led communities with $16,035.09 in sales tax returns. Second was Mt. Prospect with June returns adding up to $10,179.63. Third ranking Rolling Meadows with $6,117. Bensenville was next with $5,781 in tax returns, followed by Palatine with $5,238.

Other northwest suburban communities and their tax returns are: Elk Grove Village, $3,078; Addison with $3,203.69; Wheeling with $3,593.99; Roselle with $2,501.01; Hoffman Estates with $1,630.73; Itasca with $1,104; Buffalo Grove with $14.04; and Wood Dale with $560.25.

Du Page county topped Cook county for the amount of tax returns for June. Cook county's totals exclude the city of Chicago. Cook county's coffers received only $34,193 to $49,526 for Du Page county. (A-14

Distinguish between AWARE and CONSCIOUS. We are AWARE of what goes on about us, and we are CONSCIOUS of what we perceive or feel within ourselves. One may be CONSCIOUS of fear, but not altogether AWARE of the dangers about one.

'Shortest Summer on Record' Was Fun While it Last

Sidelights Of Arlington Heights

Dorothy Meyer, CL 3-2298 Elsie Jedd, CL 3-5982

Today's goodbye to August and the vacation season came faster this year than ever before, according to many reports of people who said the same thing last year. This umpteenth consecutive "shortest summer on record" was fun while it lasted and it went out the same busy way it came in, with parties and visitors and vacations.

Mr. and Mrs. William Luehring, 220 N. Dwyer, returned early last week from a too-short, many-miled tour of the west. They spent three weeks sightseeing in Colorado, Utah and Montana and enjoyed visits with relatives and friends all along their scenic route.

In Canon City, Col., they saw Mrs. Luehring's uncle, George Kirk, and reunited with longtime friends, the Stutt Doritys in Salt Lake City. Their stop in Billings was longer and included a hello to cousins, the Joe Gregorys, and a stay with their daughter and grandson, Mrs. Judy Christian and Mark.

On the homeward route they were overnighters in Cedar Rapids with cousins, the Tillman Oswalds. Next time, say the Luehrings, there'll have to be more than 21 days in their 3-week vacation.

ROBERT AMES of Pompano Beach, Fla. was a visitor last week in the home of his sister and family, the Newell Crocketts, 802 S. Chestnut. He arrived with a friend who was driving to Michigan and returned to Florida by plane.

The Arnold Kinsley family, 745 S. Mitchell, is home again after a week with relatives in Wheeler, Wis. where swimming and horseback riding was an everyday convenience and well-used.

Mr. and Mrs. John Angus returned to 101 S. Fernandez Saturday from a 10-day visit in the east with relatives in Vermont and West Hartford, Conn.

Mrs. James Callahan of Minneapolis left here Tuesday after a 10-day visit with her daughter and family, the R. H. Gustafsons, 1146 N. Mitchell. During her stay, Mrs. Callahan enjoyed meeting longtime friends of her daughter's, Dr and Mrs. Paul L. Barber and their daughter, Sally of Aberdeen, who spent a day here.

MR. AND MRS. George Gabreilsen Jr. and Mary Ellen, 705 S Chestnut, came home home Thursday from Bay Village, Ohio with greetings from the Frank Travers family, former S. Chestnut residents. Although the rest of the Gabrielsen children stayed home with their grandparents, the senior Gabrielsens of Chicago, Mary Ellen went along for the 4-day visit to enjoy a reunion with the Travers' only daughter, Cindy. Cindy echoes the sentiments of the whole family who report via the Gabrielsens that they miss Arlington Heights.

Before the Ohio trip the household at 705 S. Chestnut was busy with birthday celebrations. Carol was 10 years old August 8 and entertained a few local girl friends at a cake-and-ice-cream giggle and chatter session.

August 15 Bobby was five and celebrated with a dozen neighborhood friends at a luncheon party in the Gabrielsen home.

THE RAYMOND Raupp family of Mesa, Ariz., here on their first visit in three years, was able to reunite with nearly all relatives and a few friends at a party Sunday in the home of Mrs. Raupp's sister and family, the Joe Murans, 1319 N. Dunton.

There were, as the song goes, "cousins by the dozens" and lots of brothers and sisters, aunts and uncles, 120 altogether, gathered in the spacious Muran backyard for the afternoon and evening reunion. Mr. and Mrs. Raupp and the two littlest Raupps stayed with the Murans for their 10-day vacation here, other aunts and uncles hosting the remaining five Raupp children. Today is back-to-Mesa day.

The Muran family apparently touched off a wave of homesickness in the Mesa branch of the family about a month ago when they visited the Raupps during a 4-week vacation in the west. Mr. and Mrs. Muran and the children also toured the Los Angeles area, had a brief stay in Mexico and about a week in San Francisco. They returned here a little over two weeks ago and were scarcely unpacked when they heard that the Raupps were leaving Mesa for an Arlington Heights visit.

ONE OF THE several local September brides-to-be claimed that she would never be taken by surprise with a prenuptial shower. A group of close personal friends, several of her mother's neighborhood friends and a trio of co-workers have surprised Miss Margaret Sandy, daughter of the George Sandys, 515 S. Chestnut, on three recent occasions.

In July three girls with whom Margaret works converted a once-a-month supper date into a miscellaneous shower. One of the group, Miss Jeanie Box of Arlington Heights who will serve as a bridesmaid at the September 16 nuptials, plotted this initial surprise with complete success.

In mid-August Mrs. Owen Sellers, 520 S. Chestnut, was hostess to 20 women of the block at a miscellaneous shower that assembled literally under Margaret's nose. Since Miss Sandy's nose was then deep in her wedding list and other totally absorbing nuptial plans, this party, too, was an amazingly successful one.

SUNDAY AFTERNOON Mrs. Seller's daughter, Kathy, and Miss Meg Gillon, bridesmaids-elect, finished the disproving of Miss Sandy's claim with a third party, given in the Gillon home, 410 S. Dunton. Here 12 close friends of the bride-to-be awaited her arrival which Miss Sellers deftly engineered.

Adopting a "don't care if we do, don't care if we don't" attitude about going with the surprise victim to the Gillon home, Miss Sellers made the guest of honor insist upon calling on Meg. They went. Miss Sandy's party fare was her own words which she ate with good grace and vows never to make rash statements again.

Mrs. Lewis Brown, 509 S. Chestnut, was hostess Saturday afternoon at a unique "dime store" shower and luncheon for Miss Sandy at the Tally Ho restaurant in Park Ridge. Other guests were the bride's mother and first bridesmaid-elect, Miss Kathy Sellers, who had almost as much fun as the honor guest watching her unwrap the many dime store items, trying to guess what was in each. A correct guess rated a bonus gift.

IT WAS MUCH fun and a little nostalgic, recalling a like shower given by Mrs. Brown for Margaret's sister, Barbara, now Mrs. Garry Kinder. Mrs. Kinder will serve as Margaret's matron of honor.

Miss Sandy will be married September 16 in the First Presbyterian Church of Arlington Heights to Donald Harris, son of the Gene Harrises of East Moline. Mr. Harris is with Chicago Rawhide Co., Elgin, and the couple plans to make its home in that city.

Debbie Helmbold, 646 S. Dunton, was 12 years old August 14 and celebrated with a happy-hectic day at Riverview. Her guests were Karen and Karol McNeeley and Debbie took Mom along for the ride, but not the rides.

Mrs. K. S. Alanne and her daughter, Elizabeth, 1439 S. Belmont, and Mrs. Richard Andrew, 941 N. Salem, returned last Wednesday from two weeks in Florida. They enjoyed sightseeing, relaxing and visiting with friends in Miami and had several short jaunts to nearby points of interest.

DEBORAH YATES, 903 N. Vail, celebrated her 10th birthday Saturday at the family summer cottage in Lake Koshkonong, Wis. Joining the Yates at the barbecue party were Deborah's grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. George Zachariasen of Elm Grove, Wis. and cousins Jean and Neil Zachariasen and local friends, the W. D. Whitesides, 926 N. Dunton. Yesterday Debbie celebrated here with several other local girl friends at an afternoon party in the Yates hme.

Dinner out with the family and two girl friends marked Sandy Huntley's sweet 16 birthday August 22. Lynn Marshall, Carol Jamieson and the rest of the Huntleys from 421 N. Wilshire honored Sandy with a festive dinner party at George Diamond's in Antioch and an appropriate sugar-lump corsage.

THE ROBERT Hall family, 226 N. Derbyshire, returned Thursday from a cool and restful three weeks in the Georgian Bay area of Lake Huron, Ontario, Canada.

Mrs. Edmund O'Brien, 629 W. Campbell, is trying hard to break the habit of packing and unpacking, an addiction acquired in recent weeks. She first readied her daughter, Kathleen, for a vacation with a local friend, Johanna Tribbey, and her family at the Tribbey summer cottage in northern Wisconsin.

Then she packed for the recent eastern trip of herself, her husband and their son, Kevin, which ended with their return here Friday evening. She had not yet finished unpacking when friends of Kevin arrived, announced they were on their way to Florida and, "Why don't you come along, old buddy?" And Mrs. O'Brien began packing again.

Kevin left, will return September 8 when Mom will unpack so that two days later she can pack him off to Dubuque and his third year at Loras college. Between times Kathleen came home but there was only unpacking involved with her return.

The O'Briens' eastern vacation allowed almost two weeks of reunions with Mrs. O'Brien's family. They visited in Saugus, Mass. with her sister and husband, Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Busalacchi; in Boston they were with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. William P. Smiddy.

THE HARRY Bierma family, 15 E. Willow, returned Saturday from two weeks of fun and fine weather in Key Biscayne and Daytona, Fla. with a few days in the Smoky mountains on the way home.

Mr. and Mrs. Lewis Brown, 509 S. Chestnut, recently returned from a 10-day business and pleasure trip to one of their favorite spots, the King and Prince hotel on St. Simon island, off Georgia. In Brunswick they were entertained by longtime friends, the Hugh Tollisons and the Gordon Singletarys. A wild turkey-and-quail dinner was the piece de resistance of their visit with the Singletarys.

The John Farrs returned to 407 N. Drury last Wednesday with their daughter, Charlotte, who had been visiting in Topeka for five weeks with her cousin, Carol Matson, and the rest of the Matson family. Mr. and Mrs. Farr also used their daughter-pick-up trip to visit relatives in Jefferson City, Mo., Manhattan, Kan. and Arkansas.

MR. AND MRS. Walter Clausing and Janice, 406 S. Evergreen, returned early last week from two weeks of resorting and visiting relatives in Minnesota and Wisconsin. In Henning, Minn. they enjoyed a relaxing stay at the Oak Lawn resort and before leaving the state they reunited with former Arlington Heighters, Mr. and Mrs. John Looke, now of Austin.

Mr. Looke taught here in the St. Peter Lutheran school and relays greetings via the Clausings to local friends. The Clausings' tour of Wisconsin included stops in Bristol at the home of her brother and his family, the Elroy Meiers, and in Madison. A few days of vacation-end leisure in a lodge in White Pines, Ill. climaxed their trip.

GUESTS FOR three days early last week in the Albert Hawkes home, 411 N. Carlyle, were longtime friends, Mr. and Mrs. William Paulsen and sons of Kinston, N. C. The two families toured several museums in the Chicago area and had a day in the loop where the women indulged in their favorite indoor sport, shopping.

Saturday, Mr. and Mrs. Hawkes entertained members of the local Toastmasters club and their wives at an evening supper party. Mr. Hawkes is outgoing president of the club. A gala evening with a Haitiian touch entertained the group as they all practiced doing the Haitiian meringue to the music of records brought back by the Hawkes' from a vacation on that island a few years ago.

A Haitiian meringue has nothing to do with pies, but is the typical and only native dance in Haiti. One may waltz or square dance in Haiti, but one does it to the meringue tempo, reports Mrs. Hawkes who also reveals that an amazing number of Arlington Heights toastmasters and their wives do a mean meringue.

MRS. DALE Hauser and Debby, 101 N. Forrest, returned Monday night from four days in Minneapolis and a weekend in Gowrie, Iowa, accompanied by Mrs. Hauser's parents, the C. E. Plotners of Gowrie. The 4-day visit here of Des Moines relatives, Mr. and Mrs. Paul J. Powers and Peggy, preceded the Hauser vacation trip and both were farewell occasions.

The Hausers leave here Labor day for a new home in Warren, Pa. where Mr. Hauser assumes the general management of his company's Pittsburgh area office.

The day after the farewell visit with the Powers, Mrs. Hauser and Debby followed in the Powers' footsteps, weekending in Des Moines where they said goodbye to other relatives and many friends. Next they went to Gowrie, were joined by Mrs. Hauser's parents and left for a fishing trip to Minneapolis.

Fishing was excellent, especially in the opinion of Miss Debby who hauled in the first northern pickerel, a fighting 5-pounder. They returned to Gowrie Friday and the high-point of the weekend for Mrs. Hauser was the 90th anniversary celebration of the Zion Lutheran church which she attended throughout many years of her residence in Gowrie.

A reunion of her Sunday school class brought her together again with many long-time friends.

The Hausers and Plotners left Gowrie Monday and stopped in Rockford where they visited Mrs. Plotner's cousin, Miss Maude Nelson, whom she hadn't seen for many years.

Tuesday afternoon Mrs. Hauser was the guest of honor at a farewell luncheon given by Mrs. Clarence Hendricksen, 743 N. Belmont. Guests were 10 Arlington Heights Womans club officers with whom Mrs. Hauser has served most closely, currently as international relations chairman.

MR. AND MRS. Al Russel, 112 E. Euclid, have returned from a 2-week vacation trip in the east where they visited their sons, Norman, and family in Pennsylvania and Marvin and family in Findlay, Ohio. They also attended Marvin's graduation from Bowling Green State university, where he received a degree of master of education. Marvin is a former student of Arlington high school.

Mr. and Mrs. Burkett A. Davis, 136 N. Belmont, and daughters, Barbara and Ellen, have recently returned from vacationing near Kenora, Ontario. Mr. Davis received an "angler's award" certificate and medal from the Winnipeg Tribune for having caught a 3-pound small mouth bass in Narrow lake, Ontario.

MR. AND MRS. Robert Lockwood, 312 S. Derbyshire, are home from a week's vacation at Gordon's lodge in Door county, Wis. They were accompanied by their daughters, Cynthia and Linda, who graduated this summer from the Brokaw hospital school of nursing of the Illinois Weslyan University in Bloomington.

The Lockwoods are looking forward to the homecoming of their son, Robert, from Africa September 8. Robert, a senior, at Northwestern university, was chosen to go to Monrovia in Liberia where, for the past 10 weeks he has been conducting an economic survey for the bureau of economic research. Before returning home, he will spend two weeks touring Europe.

Out-of-town houseguest at the George W. Rose home, 1300 Mayfair, is Miss Sharon Olsen of Des Moines. Miss Olsen, a former University of Colorado classmate of the Roses' daughter, Jean, arrived Saturday and will visit here until she returns to her classes at the university.

Mr. and Mrs. Rose entertained at a buffet supper Sunday for 15 of their Stonegate neighbors.

MR. AND MRS. E. Allen Kovar, 431 S. Windsor, had as their weekend guests, Mr. and Mrs. C. L. Weber of Fort Wayne. Joining the Kovars and the Webers for an evening in Chicago were Arlington Heights friends, Mr. and Mrs. Charles F. Mosers.

Mrs. C. A. Livingston, 301 S. Windsor, was feted at two farewell parties last week. The Howard Styrons gave a dinner party Friday for 20 guests and Wednesday Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Jurco were hosts to Mrs. Livingston and her sister, Mrs. V. L. Campbell, for dinner at El Grison, after which they attended a performance of the Players at Second City. Mrs. Livingston will leave Arlington Heights September 1 to live in Miami, Fla.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Barton, 321 S. Windsor, and their three children returned Saturday from a 7,000-mile motor trip to the west coast. They visited many of the national parks, stopping to camp in Yosemite and the Grand Canyon. They spent several days in San Francisco and Las Vegas and the children went to Disneyland. Enroute home, they stopped in Wichita for a visit with Mrs. Barton's brother and family, Mr. and Mrs. Stanley Gore.

MISS GINGER Burnett, 317 S. Derbyshire, entertained at a luncheon and linen shower August 20 for Miss Dianne Baumet who will be married October 7, to Dennis Peet in St. James church of Arlington Heights. Guests, many of whom were Miss Baumet's schoolmates, were the Misses Marilyn Rose, Diane Waterman, Glenys Rudd, Karen Lilleberg and Diana Williamson.

Mr. and Mrs. Robert W. Carey, 103 S. Derbyshire, were hosts at a large dinner party and baby shower Saturday given for her cousin, Mrs. James Schmidt of Evanston.

Miss Karen Lilleberg, 322 S. Derbyshire, recently entertained at a barbecue for members of her Round Robin club. The Round Robin club consists of 14 girls who graduated from Arlington high school in 1960 and attend various colleges, but still correspond with one another regularly.

Karen's mother, Mrs. Ralph Lilleberg, returned Monday from a 4-day visit in Dayton with Mr. and Mrs. Jack Loftus.

MISS JUDY Clabaugh, 510 S. Beverly, returned Saturday from a 2-month vacation in Europe. Miss Clabaugh was joined by two Scarsdale friends, Miss Judy Petersen and Miss Judy Johnston and travelled by car through England, France, Austria, Italy, Germany, Spain, Switzerland, Holland and Belgium.

Miss Clabaugh will leave Arlington Heights soon to teach the second and third grades in the Adams school in Washington D. C.

Mrs. Robin Hobart of Tiburin, Cal., and her two daughters, Carey Ann and Megan, are visiting in Arlington Heights with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth Kennedy. 511 S. Pine. They came to attend the wedding of her brother, Dr. Roger Kennedy, to Miss Anita Dean, August 26 in the Methodist church.

Mr. and Mrs. Kennedy gave the bridal dinner Friday after rehearsal at the Hearthstone in Palatine. All out-of-town guests were included as guests.

Shortly before Mrs. Hobart arrived here for the wedding festivities, she and Mr. Hobart and another couple had completed a 2½-month sailing trip on the ketch, "Blue Sea" which took sail from Long Island to Nassau and through the Panama Canal to Acapulco, stopping to visit islands on the way. Because time was running short, the Hobarts left the "Blue Sea" at Acapulco and flew to San Francisco and after a few days' of preparation for the wedding, came to Arlington Heights.

THE JOHN Lindstroms, 824 S. Beverly, and their children, Jack and Linne, vacationed for three and one half weeks in Yellowstone National Park, Jackson Hole in the Teton Mountains, and Salt Lake City.

Young Bill Truax, 720 Burton, had as his guest for the past week, Bill Warren of Grosse Pointe, Mich., former Arlington Heights resident.

Mr. and Mrs. Elten A. Herrick, 501 S. Lincoln, and their two children spent the past five days in Cleveland visiting her parents Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Susen.

Mr. and Mrs. Harry W. Colburn, 535 Burton, flew to Montreal Friday to attend the wedding of her niece.

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Ross of Cordoba, Argentina, were weekend houseguests of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald W. Scheck, 512 Banbury.

Rev. and Mrs. Samuel Keys, 526 S. Pine have their young grandchildren, Katharine and Amy Lynn Keys of Indianapolis, with them for a week's visit.

MR. AND MRS. W. W. Knorr, 405 Bristol, and their children are home from a 2-week vacation in Evergreen, Col. While horseback riding and trout fishing were the favorite vacation diversions of the family, they took time out to tour Rocky Mt. Park and visit Central City in Colorado.

Mr. and Mrs. Charles Ewart, 349 Bristol, and their sons, Jim, Steve and David, took an eastern trip this summer and visited former Scarsdale neighbors, Mr. and Mrs. Donald Shriver, who were vacationing in Marriewold, N. Y., and then went to New Haven. Conn. for a visit with Mrs. Ewart's mother, Mrs. James Roche.

Debra and Susan Graham, 508 S. Lincoln, spent two and one half weeks at the Steamboat, Col. horse ranch of their grandparents, Mr. and Mrs. Clinton Quentin Semotan. Mr. Graham accompanied his daughters to Colorado while Mrs. Graham, who is expecting her fourth baby in February, remained here with their youngest daughter, Mary Pat, and visited with friends in Beverly Hills.

DOUGLAS HUGHES, son of Mr. and Mrs. Jack Hughes, 620 S. Pine, celebrated his 12th birthday Wednesday with a luncheon and swim party at Rolling Green country club.

Mrs. Louis Crouchet of Slidell, La., is spending 10 days in Arlington Heights visiting her sister and family, Mr. and Mrs. Harold Gross, 930 S. Beverly.

Sherri Stauber, 12-year-old daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Stauber, 833 S. Beverly, was awarded a gold medal for achieving first place in the water ballet competition held in mid-August in Pioneer Park in competition with Recreation Park, Mt. Prospect and Lombard performers. (A

Notes from Arlington Acres

Marie Marshall CLearbrook 5-2936

Jimmy Leistikow, son of the Louis Leistikows, is home after several weeks in St. Francis hospital, Evanston, where he underwent major surgery. Anyone wishing to send Jimmy a card, may send it to his home, 512 S. Forrest.

Mr. and Mrs. Gust Hermanson, 437 S. Forrest, entertained his niece, Miss Karen Hermanson of Seattle, who was in Chicago to represent her school at a Jesuit conference for high school students. While here Karen visited grandparents in Evanston and Chicago, and on Sunday the Hermansons held a dinner for the entire family.

On the preceding Thursday, Greta Hermanson had celebrated her ninth birthday by inviting 10 friends for games, cake and ice cream. Greta helped to bake and decorate her cake. Guests included Anitra Lindquist, Wendy Swenson, Patty Chappell, Marcia Longrie, Dana Seestedt, Sally and Peggy Schuck, Mary Ann Niesen, Patty Henrickson and Sharon McGinn.

TERRY KULISCH celebrated his third birthday August 21 with a party held on their porch which was decorated with balloons. Guests who came to lunch were Robbie Zmrzly and Billy, Kathleen and Margaret Kelly. Games were played and prizes awarded each guest. Terry is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Harry Kulisch, 520 S. Prindle.

Mr. and Mrs. Lynn C. Lemons, 504 S. Prindle, have just returned from a camping trip with their sons, Kevin, Murray and Spencer. The first week was spent with Mrs. Lemons' parents, the A. M. Huddlestuns of Olmsted, Ill. Then the family drove on to see Florida, from Pensacola to Key West, stopping enroute to visit Lookout mountain at Chattanooga. Three days were spent at Orlando, Fla., with Mr. Lemons' brother and family, the C. Ray Lemons.

After the Lemons family returned home they entertained house guests, a cousin, Mrs. Thomas Neeley, and daughter, Raelen, of Olmsted and a friend, Miss Roxie Helmig, of Karnak. They will spend the time sightseeing in the Chicago area.

The S. W. Fletchers, 2024 E. Park, are entertaining their son and daughter-in-law for several days. The junior Fletchers are on their way from Toledo to his new position in Los Angeles.

MR. AND MRS. J. R. Schaber, 405 S. Gibbons, are enjoying a visit from Mrs. Schaber's mother, Mrs. Elise Glausen of Milwaukee. Mrs. Glausen enjoys seeing points of interest, so the couple will entertain her by driving around the area.

Last Saturday the F. D. McGuires, 409 S. Gibbons, had as guests for the day Mr. and Mrs. Warren Christiansen of Downers Grove. The two couples spent the afternoon at Arlington Park and later had an outdoor dinner on the McGuires' patio.

Donald, son of the Stanley Merchants, 513 S. Forrest, is back home after a year in Korea with the army. He expects to return shortly to his former position with America Fore insurance company in Chicago. (A

Civic Group Plans First Fall Meeting

Participation in the 125th Anniversary celebration and amendments of by-laws will be discussed at the first fall meeting of the Arlington acres Civic association.

The meeting will take place at 8 p.m., Tuesday, Sept. 5, at Lauterburg and Oehler Funeral Home, 2000 E. Northwest hwy.

Newly organized to stimulate community interest and represent the interests of its membership, the association is open to residents of the area defined by the north side of Northwest hwy., the south side of Grove st., the west side of Waterman and the east side of Gibbons.

Designs for a float to represent the association in the 125th anniversary parade and other proposed forms of participation in the event will be discussed, according to president L. Q. Yowell, 441 S. Forrest ave. (A

Feudin' and Fussin' Here

The Hatfields and McCoys have nothing over two Arlington Heights residents.

According to police reports, the two men have waged three days of warfare, rivaling anything that goes on in the Kentucky hills.

Differences between residents A and B, nextdoor neighbors, began three months ago when B reportedly left a lawnmower running under A's window for a half hour at 8:30 a.m.

At that time A threatened to punch B in the mouth.

Last Sunday police received a call from B, who complained that A was threatening him again.

A denied the charge, and claimed that he hadn't seen B for three months. He passed B when walking the family dog Sunday with his wife, A said, but he denied speaking to him.

The combatants rested Monday, but were at it again Tuesday.

At 2:55 p.m. a car in which B was a passenger stopped in front of A's home.

AFTER AN exchange of words, the driver of the car claimed that A had attacked him.

A, who supposedly attacked the driver because he couldn't get at B, claimed that B had made insulting remarks toward his wife. B had also, according to A, tried to run him over.

The same day, according to A, persons unidentified had thrown a bomb or fire cracker at his home from a car.

A said he sprinted outside and the car turned on him. A believes that the car was directed or driven by B.

BARELY AN hour later, at 3:45 p.m., B called police to complain that 1) A's children were blowing horns 2) A had turned the phonograph player up to an intolerable pitch 3) A was putting derisive signs up by B's house.

B, however, said he would not sign a complaint.

He had another solution. He was going to move.

TUESDAY EVENING B had moved to the other side of town.

He told police that he was prepared to "murder" A should A follow him to his new home.

B noted that he had contacted his lawyers, and knew when he could legally shoot A.

The two men appeared in police magistrate's court Wednesday, too late for the results of the hearing to be published.

EVEN THOUGH B now lives on the other side of town, the question remains —

Is Arlington Heights big enuogh for both of them?

English Appears At Senate Probe

Arlington Heights Police Sergeant Maurice English testified in Washington Tuesday on the attempted suicide of a village resident who had been called before the Senate rackets subcommittee.

English told the subcommittee that Frank W. Lyons, 956 N. Race, Arlington Heights, took an overdose of barbiturates last Saturday because he feared "repercussions" should he testify.

LYONS IS an employee of the Illinois Sports News, a racing wire service which the subcommittee suspects is a front for underworld operations.

English said he had learned from Lyons' wife that syndicate gamblers had warned Lyons to invoke the Fifth Amendment in refusing to answer subcommittee questions.

When Lyons passed out Saturday from the overdose of barbiturates, English and another Arlington Heights officer were called to the home.

Lyons is recovering at the Northwest Community hospital. His condition is described as "satisfactory."

HE AND his wife have refused to talk to reporters.

According to the state's attorney's office, Lyons has promised to testify before the rackets subcommittee when he recovers. (AF

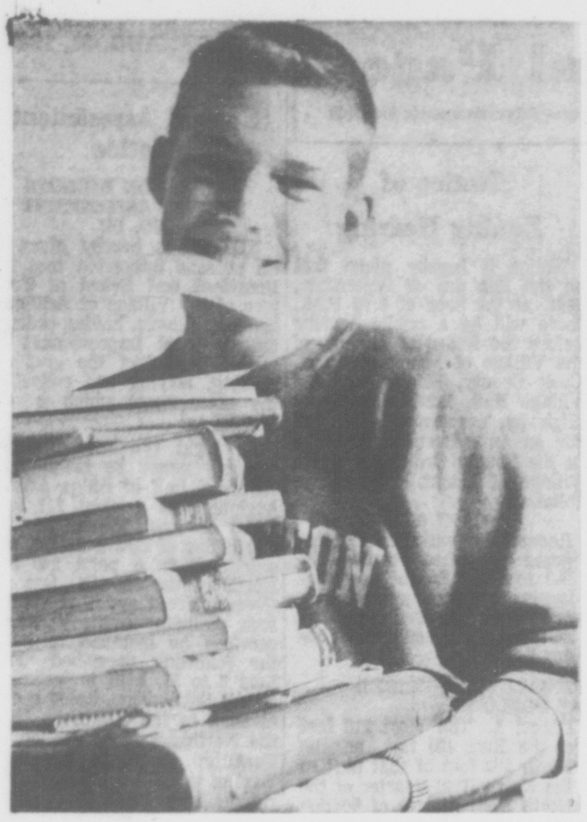
The girl rode away from the that the man suggested that they get married, made a lewd remark, and attempted to lead her to his car.

The girl road away from the man on her bike. The man was described as a white male, aged 30 to 40 years. Police have been unable to locate him for questioning. (AF



WITH A MOUNTAIN of books in hand and class schedule gripped firmly between his teeth, Arlington high school senior Ken Adams leaves the school after registering for the coming school year. Registration for both Arlington and Prospect will end September 1.

Buses Chartered For Dr. Fry Talk

Chartered buses will leave Our Saviour's Lutheran Church, 1234 N. State Rd., Arlington Heights, Sunday, Sept. 10, to hear an address by Dr. Franklin Clark Fry in the 5000-seat theater at McCormick Place, Chicago.

Dr. Fry is president of the United Lutheran Church in America, the largest Lutheran group in the U.S. He will be in Chicago to participate in the triennial convention of the ULCW (United Lutheran Church Women,) to be held at the Morrison Hotel September 9-13.

THIS WILL be the last convention of the ULCW inasmuch as it will be merging with the women's organizations of the other bodies merging with the United Lutheran church in 1963.

Dr. Fry was a main figure in bringing about the merger, resulting in the 3,200,000 member Lutheran Church in America. He almost single-handedly wrote the first draft of the proposed constitution of the church.

Fry's address will not be concerned with the ULCW meeting, but rather will be of general interest.

Buses have been chartered to leave Our Saviour church at 2 p.m. The round trip fare will be 75 cents. Reservations may be made by calling Mrs. James Garrison, CL 3-3091, or the church office, CL 5-8700, by Wednesday, September 6.

Those making reservations need not be members of Our Saviour. (A

Northwest Area Schools Open 110 New Classrooms

When elementary schools in Northwest suburbs open in fall, there will be 110 new classrooms as the result of five new buildings and two additions.

The opening of Palatine high school will add 48 more rooms to the area's school capacity. The increased number of school rooms will be in response to the expected six per cent increase in elementary school enrollment this fall for suburban schools.

SCHAUMBURG district 54 and Elk Grove district 59 lead the slate for greatest number of rooms added to the school system as the result of new buildings. Both districts have new school buildings with 30 classrooms each.

Wheeling district 14 will have a new school building with 14 rooms, Palatine district 15 will have an added 13 rooms, and Feehanville district 26 will open doors to a new school plant with 10 school rooms.

Elk Grove district 59 will also acquire eight more classrooms with a new addition to an existing plant. Mt. Prospect district 57 will gain five new class rooms in a similar manner.

Noble J. Puffer, Cook County superintendent of schools, recently announced the results of a survey of suburban schools. The estimated enrollment in elementary schools this fall will total 220,608 pupils compared to last year's enrollment figure of 208,377, or about a six per cent increase.

SUBURBAN schools will have 511 new classrooms this fall compared to 408 last fall. High school enrollments are estimated to be 83,826, compared to last year's figure of 75,066.

Puffer stated that, "One of the pleasing things this year is that we expect to have only 111 classes on double shift sessions compared with 317 such sessions last year." (B8

Arlington Greens

The Len Brune family of 1110 N. Dryden ended their 2-week vacation on Monday of last week. Visiting relatives nearby and attending family reunion gatherings in their home town of West Point, Iowa, kept their pace a busy one. They were guests of grandmother, Mrs. G. B. Snaadt.

Mr. and Mrs. Mel Stier and their children, Gail and Scott, of 1409 N. Douglas weekended at Devils lake, returning home on Monday of last week. Touring the circus town of Baraboo and the nearby Dells added to the pleasure of their 4-day sojourn.

There was a double birthday celebration in the Langhenry household, 611 E. Olive, August 21. Four-year-old Barbara and three-year-old Jay observed the occasion with a combined afternoon party. Guests were twelve of their neighborhood playmates and their mothers.

The Harold Carlsons of 630 E. Clarendon arrived home last Friday from a 3-week vacation in the east. After several days of sightseeing in New York City, they travelled on to the Cape Cod area and Provincetown to visit Kathy Mitchell, daughter of the George Mitchells, who formerly resided in the Greens. Yachting, swimming and relaxing at a resort on Lake Winnipesaukee in New Hampshire for the remaining 11 days ended the annual holiday.

A 2-FOLD FAREWELL party was held at the Will Sedlak home, 610 E. Clarendon, last Friday. Twenty-one neighborhood children attended the outdoor luncheon observing the end of their vacation season and to bid farewell to Charles Stout and the Hampel children, Cynthia and Bruce will soon be moving from the Greens. The Earl Stouts, who made their home at 620 E. Clarendon for the past seven years, are moving to California this weekend.

The Will Hampels of 611 E. Clarendon, also Greens residents for several years, are moving to Winston Park, Palatine, in the near future.

Mr. and Mrs. Dan Chase of 634 E. Clarendon ave., announce the birth of a daughter, Barbara Rose, in Holy Family hospital, Des Plaines, August 24, weighing 7 pounds 1½ ounces. 15 At Protest Meeting

Housewives Tell Views

by WILLIAM HOGATE

Indifference has apparently set in over the recent milk strike and price differentials for home delivered milk if attendence at a Tuesday night protest meeting is any indication.

Fifteen citizens from the area served by Paddock Publcaitions attended the special meeting sponsored by three adament Elk Grove mothers, Mrs. Murial Glose, Mrs. Mary Hill, and Mrs. Marilyn Quinn.

The meeting, held in the community room of the Arlington lington Heights Federal Loan association, did accomplish several things, however.

Mrs. Quinn was elected by the citizens in attendence as temporary chairman for the "consumers union" for the next organizational meeting to be held September 26.

Several suggestions were offered for further work. An unidentified representative from the teamsters union stated that the women were defeating their own purpose of ellecting lower delivered milk prices by boycotting the local drivers.

HE SAID, "Your are only helping the large dairies by hurting the local milkmen. The big dairies would much rather sell milk to the supermarkets at a much better margin," he added.

He continued, "If you force the local delivery man out of business, he will either be assigned to a wholesale route, which is more lucrative to the dairies, or he will be out of work and you will have gained nothing."

A Mt. Prospect woman told the group that the most effective way to attack the problem "is to contact the local civic groups and enlist their aid. You need a bigger and more influential group if you are going to be heard," she said.

MRS. HILL stated that the milk strike has been effective on a temporary basis. "Milkmen are running all over Elk Grove Village trying to make deals with individual home makers. But that is not what we want. We want an equitable price for everyone."

Mrs. Glose is currently purchasing a gallon of milk from a local dairy for 78 cents a gallon. Her husband picks up the milk every evening. She claims that other friends have paid up to 99 cents for a gallon of home delivered milk.

Other citizens called for a general investigation of consumer products in the Northwest area. They decried the use of "loss leaders" in local supermarkets and the closing down of meat counters after 6 p.m. The practice of using "loss leaders" is one where a merchant will feature one or more products at a loss each week to draw in consumers.

MRS. LAURIE Dennett, Palatine, stated before the group that she was not interested in "joining a group against milkmen."

"I am interested in investigating price differentials over the entire country compared with the Chicago area," she added.

"I've been in other parts of the country where milk prices are much lower. Why should they be higher in the so-called 'heart of the country's dairy land'?" she added.

ANOTHER CITIZEN suggested that a list of "cooperating" dairies be published so that people will know where they can get the best milk buys. She stated that only one Arlington Heights dairy had a standard price which was charged to everyone.

Mrs. Hill contends that certain drivers maintain "cheat sheets" on which they keep a record of prices charged each customer. "Where he is forced to shave price on one stop, he will make it up on another," she claimed.

Interested citizens are urged to contact the temporary chairman, Mrs. Quinn, at HE 7-0977, if they would like to assist the group. A place for the September 28 parley has not been settled. (B8

University Honors Local Loan Official

Special honors have been accorded to Donald F. Morton, vice president of Arlington Heights Federal Savings and Loan Association, for his 1960 graduate thesis at the Graduate School of Savings of Indiana university.

The thesis, submitted as part of the requirements for graduation, was one of 10 chosen for publication in a volume, "Selected Theses," issued last week by the Graduate School of Savings and Loan.

In his study, "A Comparison of Processing Different Types of Loans," Mr. Morton developed a step-by-step analysis of mortgage loan origination costs and showed how they can be reduced.

"THE EXPECTED expansion of residential construction in the next decade emphasizes the necessity of knowing the 'true' costs of processing mortgage loans so that it can be decided when and if to expand, modify, or contract a program," say the editors in a prefatory comment to Mr. Morton's thesis.

They point out the applicability of the Morton analysis by other savings and loan institutions. (A

St. Peter School Sets Opening Day

Formal opening day worship service for St. Peter Lutheran school will be held on Friday, Sept. 8, at 9:15 a.m.

The regular children's chapel services will be conducted on Wednesday mornings during the school term. The Congregation is also encouraged to participate in the opening day and regular worship services.

The induction and installation of new faculty members will take place September 10, during the 10:45 a.m. service. Inducted as teachers will be Mrs. Alberta Deu, Miss Marilyn Petke, Miss Cynthia Wexler, and Miss Maxine Harting.

Installation rites for the teaching and preaching ministry will be performed for the Rev. A. F. Brueckner, Pastor R. O. Bartz, pastor of St. Peter Lutheran Church, will conduct the installation.

Playground equipment and backstops have been erected by the members of the Lutheran Laymen's League on the playground.

NEW curriculum materials for this term include dictionaries for each pupil, health and personality texts, history texts, and a handwriting series.

An instrumental music program for grades four to eight will be offered to qualified and interested pupils under the auspices of the Lutheran music educators. A tonette program is scheduled for all pupils of grade three. (A

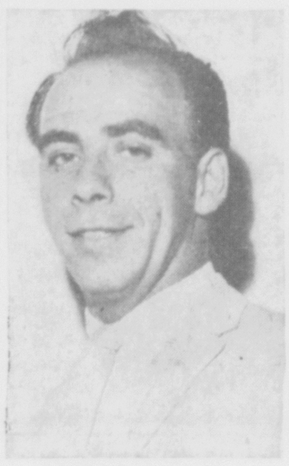
Triangle Roller Rink Will Open August 31

With the hiring of a professional skater and an organist, the new Triangle Roller Rink at 1000 W. Northwest hwy. is ready to officially open its floor for business Thursday, August 31.



ROBERT TAYLOR

DON SCOTT

Robert D. Taylor, 8601 Scott st., Morton Grove, has been an accredited professional skating instructor since 1958, when he managed the floor at Glenview's Playdium.

SINCE THEN he has taught skating at Maine township high school in Park Ridge for two seasons.

Taylor began skating at the age of five years, when he wheeled onto the hardwood at Rolland in Norwood, Mass. His competitive skating career dates back to 1943, and except for a brief tour with the Marines, he has been on skates ever since.

Organist Don Scott began his musical education at the age of five, studying classical piano for eight year before switching to the pop field during his high school days.

AFTER 18 months of popular piano, Scott's attention was drawn to the organ, gaining practice on the church organ.

Don is featured nightly at the Triangle rink, providing a background for dancing skaters. Scott makes his home at 380 Anita pl., Wheeling. (A

TAKING OFF Sunday for the annual rattle snake hunt along the Des Plaines river north of Wheeling were these adventurers, including several snake collectors and one herpetologist. Although six snakes have been caught within the village by residents this summer, the hunters found only one rattler.

Amateurs Luckier

Annual Rattlesnake Hunt Nets Foreigner

BY TOM EDWARDS

They came from as far away as New York city for the 10th annual Wheeling rattlesnake hunt — but they found only one snake.

Twenty persons, three from Wheeling, beat the bushes between the Des Plaines river and Milwaukee ave. Sunday afternoon for snakes.

The one found was a 20-inch rattler, but even it was not a species native to the area, it was thought. Its markings were not in keeping with the native Masaugua species found occasionally in this region.

ALTHOUGH the hunters, some of them experts, had little luck, Wheeling residents continued to find rattlesnakes about the village.

Three boys found a five-inch rattler at 3rd and Strong sts. Saturday evening, the sixth to be captured in the village this year. The boys were James Meyer, 7, Art Maicheck, 9, and John Bieneman, police reported.

Among Sunday's hunters, led by Ed Bellmore, Wheeling barber, was Roy Gilmore, visiting from New York on business. Staying in a downtown Chicago hotel, he read of the hunt in a daily newspaper and joined the group out of curiosity. It was his first snake hunt.

One full fledged herpetologist (a zoologist who specializes in snakes) was on hand, W. T. Stille, employed in medical research at the Glenview Naval Air Station. He brought his young son, W. T. Stille III, with him.

OTHERS from Wheeling were Bud Krause and Andy Kyle.

Several snake collectors were present, and so were several former residents of the west who had had plenty of snake hunting experience out there.

Dr. Don Sellers, MD of Park Ridge and a snake collector, was the triumphant captor of the one rattler. He has 125 snake specimens in his "back bedroom" at home, he said.

Other collectors were Paul Meppiel of Chicago's south side, Herman Feldmann of Chicago, Gary Van Brunt, of Antioch, H. J. Cooper of Chicago and Steve Letschka of Park Ridge.

FORMER SNAKE hunters were George Piano of Park Ridge, who hunted in Texas, and James Kacer of Half Day, who took part in hunts in Arizona. He was accompanied by his two sons, Bill and Jim.

All read about Wheeling's huntin newspapers.

Equipment consisted of canvas bags in which to carry snakes and sticks, some with hooked metal ends, to catch snakes.

4 Civil Defense Officers Named

Officers for three important divisions in the Arlington Heights civil defense program were announced Monday by Lester H. Ploetz, newly appointed deputy director of the division of administration, public information, and training.

In charge of training plans will be Mrs. Ralph E. Clabaugh, 510 S. Beverly lane.

Mrs. Clabaugh volunteered to assist the civil defense organization in any desired capacity, in response to Director Daughtry's appeal in last week's Herald. She is the wife of the superintendent of elementary school district 25.

Her area of activity will be the development of training programs for children and adults, and supervision of the six basic training programs involved in civil defense, which relate to specialized Welfare, Communication, Fire, Police, Radioactivity, and Health services.

Heading the public information division is Don Whiting, 121 N. Phelps. An account supervisor for Clinton E. Frank, Inc., Chicago advertising agency, Whiting also has extensive public relations experience. He served with the U. S. Army in Europe during World War II.

ASSOCIATE public information officer is Thomas K. McShane, 706 E. Clarendon, former news editor of Paddock Publications. He is now a copywriter in the marketing-promotion department of Chas. Bruning Co., Inc.

McShane served two years on a destroyer in the Pacific as a naval gunnery officer. He is a lieutenant J. G. in the U. S. Naval Reserve.

Whiting and McShane will be responsible for co-ordination and dissemination of public information regarding civil defense.

CHIEF OFFICER of the legal and administrative divisions is Gerald M. Chapman of 903 N. Kaspar, an attorney with offices at 208 S. LaSalle, Chicago.

Chapman's function will be to co-ordinate all administrative aspects of the program and to serve as legal consultant to the Civil Defense director and his staff. He is a former U. S. infantry captain. (A

Congo Missionary Scheduled to Talk

Political chaos in the Congo forced missionaries like the Rev. Philip Claar to leave the country in January, 1961.

Claar will be guest speaker at First Baptist church, Sunday, Sept. 3, at 7 p.m., in the Little Theatre of the Arlington Heights High school.

EARLY IN January pro-Lumumba forces entered the Kivu province in eastern Congo where Claar worked. The soldiers kidnapped the elected government officials and subsequently almost all law and order vanished as armed bands of poorly disciplined soldiers roamed the countryside, harrassing and threatening all white people.

These circumstances made it necessary for Claar and other missionaries to flee to Uganda. However, Claar's work at a printing plant had resulted in the preparation of many tracts and booklets which present the Christian message. This literature has been distributed widely in eastern Congo.

Because it seems certain that it will be some time before the political situation in Kivu is stable epough to allow the missionaries to return to their work, Claar and a number of fellow missionaries of the Conservative Baptist Foreign Mission Society of Wheaton, returned to the United States in February. COLLEGE MEANS SACRIFICE FOR PARENTS, STUDENTS

Begin to save steadily with us and at least half the battle will be won. Through systematic saving, plus the addition of our generous earnings, college savings will grow continuously until needed. Start saving safely and profitably with us now. Open a College Savings Account this week.

"To avoid getting socked later on, start some kind of systematic savings program for junior's college expenses when he is born," says Graham R. Taylor, director of the George M. Pullman Educational Foundation. It currently has 650 Cook County collegians on scholarship.

"If you don't do this, at least start saving every month when your child is in junior high," advises the University of Michigan's assistant dean of men, Ivan Parker. He puts away $20 every payday to educate each of his 14-year-old twin sons. — Chicago Daily News

School District Hires Assistant Business Manager

Arlington Heights school district 25 has hired Monty M. Stanley as assistant business manager.

Stanley is presently employed as a supervisor in the accounting division of the office of State Supervisor of Public Instruction, Springfield.

MONTY M. STANLEY

His appointment was announced at last week's board of education meeting.

STANLEY will begin his duties with district 25 Friday, Sept. 1.

According to Assistant Superintendent Robert Campbell, Stanley's employment results from the recent resignation of the district's director of buildings and grounds.

The district has consolidated the duties of that office with those of the business office.

Stanley will assume some responsibility for operation of buildings and maintenance of grounds, Campbell said. He will also do accounting, inventory, and transportation work for the district.

HE HOLDS a master of arts degree in educational administration and business education. Stanley is a graduate of Eastern Illinois State College.

He taught business education courses in central and southern Illinois high schools for six years after graduating from Eastern Illinois in 1953. During that time Stanley also conducted adult classes in the evening division of Southern Illinois university. (A

MAIL-ORDER QUACKS HARVEST DEATH. A recent article in the American Medical Association's "TODAY'S HEALTH" told how people gamble, not just their money, but their very lives when they order medicines and medical devices by mail.
AVOID MAIL-ORDER QUACKERY. Postal inspectors say, "Any therapy, device, remedy, or 'cure' sold by mail should be treated with suspicion, especially if it makes sweeping claims."
UNITED STATES POSTMASTER GENERAL SAID, "In an era when wonder drugs and great advances in surgery have produced medical miracles, it is puzzling why so many people pay money for frauds. Do not take or use any medicine or health device sold by mail without first consulting your physician."
ASK FOR OUR PROFESSIONAL OPINION. As your pharmacist, it is our moral, willing and legal duty to give you an informed answer to any ethical question. We can tell you when it would be wiser to depend on a physician, rather than on advertising claims.

OPENING DRILLS at Palatine high school included concentrated work on the fundamentals of blocking and tackling. Two varsity candidates engage in a tackling drill in this picture.

SOPHOMORE FOOTBALL candidates at Prospect high school engaged in stiff workouts at the outset of the week as football practice got under way for all area aggregations. Here the frosh-soph gridders go through a blocking drill at the Foundry rd. school.

KICKIN' IT AROUND

by BOB FRISK

AN ARLINGTON HIGH SCHOOL graduate with his sights set on a Major League baseball career will initiate the arduous task of trying to achieve that goal next spring in El Paso, Tex.

Southpaw Bob Miller, a likeable 6-0, 170 pounder who graduated from Arlington in 1957, recently inked a contract with the San Francisco Giants of the National League and will report to El Paso next February. His first professional affiliation is hooked up in the Class D Sophomore division and at last glance was in third place.

Miller, who lives at 70 Brian lane in Wheeling, attracted the attention of Scout Tom Hull at the Illinois State semi-pro tournament in Elgin's Wing Park. The stylish lefty, a headline-maker throughout his successful mound career, was working for Skokie's Indians, third place finisher in the July tourney.

BOB MILLER

Miller has been pitching in semi-pro circles for several years now after graduating from the American Legion ranks. He has hurled for Black's Boosters, former semi-pro club in Arlington; the Des Plaines Merchants, and Skokie Indians. He'll be tossing for Skokie this year until the season terminates in mid-September.

As an Arlington high school athlete, Miller earned All-West Suburban recognition in his senior year and ranked as one of the finest pitchers in the Chicago area.

When it comes to pitching no-hitters, this young man is in a class by himself. There aren't many pitchers who can boast of a single no-hitter and fewer can claim more than one. But Miller has been involved in eight no-hitters since he started to pitch in Little League circles in Lebanon, Pa.

He started his amazing record with three no-hitters in Little League play and added another against Niles as an Arlington high school sophomore. He picked up three more in legion ranks and then fired another masterpiece this summer in the Greater Chicago Semi-pro loop.

Anyone who knows Bob Miller will be pulling for this young man in his personal battle to climb up the ranks of minor league baseball and earn a shot in the major leagues.

THE LATE TY COBB was convinced that the home run, played such a dominant role in baseball today, is really hurting the game of baseball, perhaps not at the box office but certainly in the field.

We also get a big kick seeing a ball hit out of the park, but there are so many now that the thrill almost has to be smaller per homer. We also enjoy the hitting of a triple. That thrill is a more sustained one, and a fairer one too.

The defensive team retains a chance to counter the batter after he becomes a base runner. There's not much the team in the field can do after a guy socks one out of the park except to throw a new ball around—or have a conference at the mound.

But the home run dominates today's baseball thinking so much that the fans, announcers, and probably the players themselves are a bit obsessed by it.

Most fans can tell you how many homers Roger Maris or Mickey Mantle have in their pursuit of 60, but do you know how many fans can tell you who is leading the major leagues in triples? In doubles? Is anyone threatening the records in those categories? Who, for that matter, are the record holders?

We had to look it up. Most triples ever hit by a player in one season: 36 by J. Owen Wilson of Pittsburgh in 1912. Joe Jackson with Cleveland in 1912 and Sam Crawford with Detroit in 1914 each smacked 26 for the American League high.

Most doubles by a player in one season: 67 by Earl Webb of Boston in 1913. Joe Medwick of St. Louis set the National League mark of 64 in 1936.

A record which seemingly should command more respect than the home run mark is runs batted in. Hack Wilson of the 1930 Chicago Cubs banged home the tremendous total of 190. Lou Gehrig of the 1931 Yankees set the American League standard of 184.

He had good grades, too, except that his school severed him from the student body abruptly when it discovered that his wife, with the same first initial, had been taking his tests!

Gains Softball Crown, 14-13

Golden Point Drive-In overcame a two-run deficit and dumped Tri-State Manufacturing 14-13 in the last of the seventh to win the Mt. Prospect Park District Men's Softball championship.

The game was played in rain and high winds last Monday at Owen's Park in Mt. Prospect.

It was the climax to an outstanding season which saw both championship teams undefeated in their respective rounds.

Prospect Rebuilds Varsity

A Prospect high school football team stripped of experienced performers and faced with a major rebuilding job kicked off its 1961 season Monday morning.

The defending Interim league champions, author of an 8-0 mark last fall and state ranking, launched their campaign with stiff two-a-day workouts under the direction of Bill Beckman and his staff.

The Foundry rd. Knights will open their season Saturday afternoon, Sept. 16, at North Chicago and will meet Glenbrook Saturday, Sept. 23, in their first home encounter. Beckman's crew has three home games this year with five road tests.

A GRACEFUL SAILPLANE, of the type used by many local enthusiasts, rests in the sun beside the landing strip. Sailplanes, as modern, high-performance gliders are called, are used to some extent for aerodynamic and meteorological research, and cargo and troop-carrying gliders were used for military purposes by the major powers in World War II, but modern soaring, the art of motorless flight, is primarily recreational.

The Soaring Story

Advanced Form of Gliding Enjoys Growing Popularity

(An old, but relatively unknown form of flight is "catching on" in this country. Gliding — soaring — sky sailing or motorless flight — whichever you wish to call it, has for years been carried out in various spots around the country and is gaining national interest. To acquaint the readers with soaring, Paddock's assigned John Burgermeister to do a feature story on this absorbing sport.)

by JOHN BURGERMEISTER

Ever since the mythical Greek sculptor, Daedalus, escaped from the island of Crete with a pair of wings fashioned from wax and gull feathers, pioneering men have dreamed and schemed of a satisfactory means of duplicating the flight of birds.

It has been almost 60 years since Orville and Wilbur Wright left the sand of Kitty Hawk, N. C., in the first successful powered flight, and now a devoted band of area sportsmen think they have finally found the answer to man's inherent longing to fly.

Soaring, an advanced form of gliding in which the sailplane pilot utilizes the wind, air current, thermals and other atmospheric energy to prolong flight or rise above the starting point, is one of the latest interests on the American sporting scene.

ACTUALLY the sport has been going strong in Europe since the 20's, when German pilots, because of a clause in the Treaty of Versailles forbidding the building of a powered air force in Deutschland, built up the Luftwaffe in engineless gliders.

By skillful use of "thermals," rising air bubbles resulting from the unequal heating of the earth's surface, it is possible for a skilled sailplane pilot to make flights in excess of 535 miles. Paul F. Bickle, head of the X-15 rocket plane program at Edwards Air Force base, sailed to a record altitude of 46,256 over the Mojave Desert.

After receiving a tow from a standard aircraft to several thousand feet, veteran pilots are able to hitch onto thermals for periods up to 55 hours.

AVIATION'S only international classic, the World Soaring Championships, held at Butzweilerhof airport in Germany last summer, drew a field of 55 pilots from 24 countries, with Richard H. Johnson, current holder of the world record for distance, finishing 15th for the United States.

American soaring enthusiasts are making great strides toward reaching a par with the European fly-boys; in fact, due to the ideal conditions at most American soar centers, many world marks are American standards. But home-bred sailplanes are still inferior to the sleek foreign jobs.

Although European pilots are eager to compete in the United States, officials of the Soaring Society of America are dubious of the possibility of such a meet, because of the extreme expense of transportation involved.

LOCALLY, those intrigued by the air-borne sport stir the air over Chicagoland airport outside Half Day, and at the Naperville glider port.

Tom Page, regional director of the SSA, governs the area clubs, which have been operating for eight and two years respectively, and have a combined membership of 33 adventure seekers.

Pilots at the two Chicago Glider Council outlets have left their roosts to log flights of over 220 miles and 7½ hours duration, and Kit Drew of Naperville rode a stream of air to a fifth place in this year's national meet. Drew mounted a KA-6 German made sail plane for the trophy winning outing.

LAST weekend Dale S. May, of 608 S. Can Dota, Mt. Prospect, covered the air route from Half Day to Springfield in 3½ hours in the silent cockpit of a motorless glider.

Besides two high performance US sailplanes, the members at Chicagoland recently purchased three tapered foreign ships, two of German craftsmanship and one from France.

Joliet Municipal Airport will be the site of this year's Chicago area meet with glider jockeys convening over the Labor Day weekend for the competition.

SOARING is not an expensive sport. The relatively high initial cost of new equipment can be reduced to the individual through this joint or club ownership.

While the direct operating cost of a sail-plane in normal use is very low compared to a small airplane, it is important to emphasize that there is no such thing as "Cheap Flying."

In soaring and in power

SAILPLANES ARE DESIGNED for quick disassembly, and each has its own specially-designed trailer for point-to-point portage and easy storage. The fact that they are designed for quick disassembly and storage on trailers makes it practical for those with available space to keep sailplanes at home instead of in expensive hangars.

Ormsbee Handles Arlington Eleven

Arlington high's football Cardinals, intent on making some noise this fall after an uneventful journey through the schedule in 1960, ushered in the campaign Monday with a usual lack of cooperation from the weatherman.

Temperatures in the 90's plagued the opening workouts as Head Coach "Bus" Ormsbee and his staff sent the candidiates through their paces in preparation for the opening test with East Leyden September 16.

Ormsbee, starting his eleventh year as head man at Arlington, was greeted by eleven lettermen — eleven more than he opened with last fall — and several promising juniors in the initial drills.

ARLINGTON DROPPED all eight encounters in 1960 and finished in the West Suburban cellar after a banner 6-2 campaign in '59. However, the Cards operated without a single letterman or any seniors seasoned in varsity competition.

On a frosh-soph level the Cardinals won five of eight games and boasted several performers who should see extensive action with the varsity.

Returning monogram winners at Arlington include Bob Bohac, Dennis Buren, Rog Freise, Don Kolstad, Bob Laughlin, Mike McDonald, Ray Miller, Ross Retterer, Jerry Totzke, and Dan Jennings.

RETTERER and Totzke were the individual offensive leaders in 1960. Ross completed 49 of 106 passes from his signal-calling slot for 476 yards, and Totzke collected 157 yards in 57 cracks for the rushing crown. Retterer's top passing day came against York when he hit on 11 of 29 for 147 yards and two touchdowns.

Outside of Totzke and Retterer, Arlington only has one other back returning who carried more than 13 times. Ray Miller lugged the ball 15 times for 36 yards.

Don Kolstad blossomed into one of the finest pass receivers in the West Suburban in the latter stages of the '60 campaign and he'll be a boy to watch this season. In the final age st Maine Kolstad picked off eight aerials for 74 yards. He scored three touchdowns during the campaign to head the club.

MAIN GRADUATION losses at Arlington were halfback and quarterback Tim O'Gorman, linemen Rich Edelblute, Gar Simmons, Gary Gullett, and Grant Wallhoff, and fullback Mike Koenig. Gullett and Simmons were co-captains with the latter the most valuable ayer.

Assisting Ormsbee with the varsity this year are Norm Palberg, Steve Chernicky, and Dick Ohl. Ohl will head the JVs. Bill Daletski and Brendan Flynn will work with the frosh-sophs with Julius Fliehler, Bob Baker, and John Fish handling the freshmen.

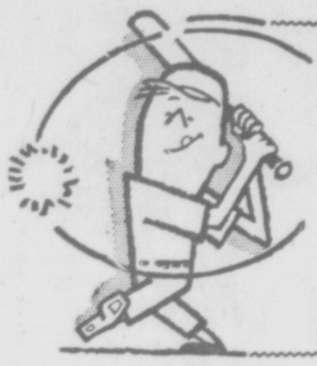
Closing day in the Tri-City ladies division will be Tuesday, Sept. 12, with a special two-ball tournament.



Mac Says

FOOTBALL PRACTICE IS UNDER WAY with big turnouts of athletes at all the high schools in the area. The outlook at Arlington, Lake Park, and Bensenville (Fenton) is not bad with all likely to field respectable teams though not necessarily contenders. Prospect's champs of last year in the Interim Association will make another strong bid under the tutelage of Coach Bill Beckman. Palatine has a great player and team leader in Andy Merutka and while there are not many regulars returning, keep in mind that the sophs who lost only one in 1959 are seniors now and that team had a very strong line. The Pirates figure to do as well or better than the past two seasons when they finished fifth and fourth in the North Suburban. In 1959 the Pirates, in their first North Suburban campaign, broke even 3-3 plus one tie and lost 21-20 to the champion Woodstock eleven. Last year they had a 3-4 mark and tied with Zion-Benton for fourth place.

Palatine's frosh-soph prospects are unusually good from the standpoint that six frosh who played on the frosh-soph team last year will again play under Dick Gavigan's direction. This, coupled with good frosh talent who played with the frosh team, gives Gavigan 50% more experienced boys than usual. Gavigan will be assisted this year by Norman Stenzel who took leave of absence last year to get a masters degree in history at Stanford University. Helberg and Miller will coach the frosh team while Charley Feutz will be assisted by John Ellis and Gerald Anderson at the varsity level.

Cross country may be Palatine's strongest team of the 1961-62 school year. The past two seasons Palatine has had undefeated teams in dual meets and came close last year to qualifying for the state meet. Every regular is returning for the Pirates and Coach "Gene" Laulunen finds that one of his problems is to find some real tough opponents to really test his boys. Palatine has been trying to get some runs with Suburban League teams but without much success.

Palatine has found the North Suburban a tough conference, particularly in the so-called major sports of football, basketball, track and baseball. At Palatine, wrestling is viewed as a major sports activity with more out than for basketball and the Pirates have taken the championship both years as they have done in cross country. Except for a tie with Barrington in golf in 1961, Palatine has not fared too well in the new league. After taking 11 track titles in a row in the Northwest Conference Palatine found North Chicago too tough in the Tri-County in the two years of membership and lost in the North Suburban in 1960 to Libertyville and in 1960 to Crystal Lake. In fact, Crystal Lake pretty well swept the trophies in major sports last year.

THIS YEAR THE CRYSTAL LAKE and Libertyville schools which have been top dogs in 1959-61 are splitting with the opening of the new Cary and Mundelein schools. We understand that Cary will not field a varsity team in football this year as all the juniors and seniors will play with Crystal Lake but going into the winter season varsity sports will start in both schools. We think that Crystal Lake is a likely repeat champ in football. Both of these larger schools may be handicapped for a year or two by the split and Palatine, Dundee, and Zion will be top schools in enrollment and may move up athletically. Palatine's enrollment in excess of 1,950 will give them far and away the largest numbers in the league. Some administrators have looked with apprehension on Palatine growth in the league but we have told them that we think that fear of Palatine growth is a bit premature until the Pirates first demonstrate that they can win a championship in football or basketball.

From the standpoint of a schedule for playing night football Palatine's is made to order this year. The Pirates open at home with a non-conference foe in Grayslake and follow the next week with Libertyville in the league opener. After a Saturday game at Barrington the Palatine eleven hosts Dundee in their third night game at home in four weekends. Later, on November 21, the Pirates celebrate Homecoming on a Saturday afternoon with McHenry the opponent. Woodstock, Crystal Lake, and Zion are faced away in late October and early November.

THERE ARE SO MANY ELIGIBILITY RULES involving boys in athletics that it is sometimes confusing to parents and fans. We think each year that it is in order to review these rules to show you that the state association which represents all the public schools attempts to keep high school athletics on a respectable plane with school work coming first and preventive measures set up to discourage irregular practices tending to exploit boys and over emphasize and commercialize sports.

A boy is ineligible who accepts an athletic award having an intrinsic value of more than $2 except a school letter or emblem. He may not play in any outside competition during the school year or forfeit eligibility. He may not attend a coaching clinic and remain eligible. Neither may he play in an all-star game.

Athletes must maintain passing grades in three subjects from the beginning of a school semester to one week prior to each contest. Each school must certify on state supplied forms a list of such athletes indicating time of having the last physical exam, birth date and place of birth, time of enrollment for the semester and the number of semesters enrolled in high school. A boy who enters after the 10th day is ineligible for the semester. If he becomes 19 he is ineligible. If he transfers from another school during a semester he must attend a month before playing and if at the beginning of a semester may be eligible at once unless he transferred from a private or parochial school and played in interschool competition there. Otherwise, he must attend a year to gain eligibility. This rule is to prevent public high school coaches from encouraging top athletes from their district who are in parochial schools to transfer to the local public high school.

No boy may compete for one semester unless he gained three credits in the previous semester. Eligibility cannot be gained by summer school attendance. A boy must live in the district to be eligible and what is more his parents or legal guardian must also live there. If a boy misses school for 10 or more consecutive days for other reason than illness he may not compete for the remainder of the semester. We remember a number of years ago a pole vaulter who could go over 11' at Arlington missing the track season because he took a Florida vacation trip with his parents which exceeded 10 days.

At Arlington, Prospect

Announce Coaching Staffs For 1961-62 School Year

Coaching assignments at Arlington and Prospect high schools for the 1961-62 school year were announced officially this week by Athletic Directors Wally Grace and Howard Lester.

Four men are newcomers to the school district itself while three others have been on a teaching status before but are new to the coaching ranks.

Brendan Flynn, Ralph Eakins, and John Fish will be in their first year as coaches at Arlington high school.

Flynn, 28, a grad of Western Illinois university, will serve as assistant frosh-soph football coach and assistant frosh basketball head. He comes to Arlington from Vandalia, Ill. high school where he was head baseball coach and assistant in football and basketball.

EAKINS, 27, is a 1958 graduate of Bowling Green who received his Master's Degree from the University of Iowa this summer. Slated to head Arlington's first swimming team in history, Eakins was an All-American swimmer at Bowling Green. The 6-6, 185-pounder has served as a life guard in the Detroit Department of Parks and was an instructor at Bowling Green and assistant swimming coach.

Fish, 32, is a graduate of Western Illinois University and will be an assistant frosh football coach and frosh wrestling head. He comes to Arlington from Quincy Sr. high school where he has been a coach and where he was an all-around prep standout. He coached wrestling and football at Quincy.

ONE NEW head coach has been named at Arlington with the appointment of Norm Patberg as varsity basketball mentor. Otherwise, the head jobs will remain the same with "Bus" Ormsbee in football, Russ Attis in cross country and track, Bob Emmons in wrestling, Gay Hughes in gymnastics, Bob Baker in baseball, Ralph Meyer in golf, and Ken Schaller in tennis.

Larry Anderson will be the head trainer with Art Brownell handling the Boy's Intramural program in the winter only.

Assistant varsity coaches include Patberg and Steve Chernicky in football and Emmons, Chernicky, and Dick Ohl in track. Ohl has been elevated to JV football cach and Rog Steingraber has taken over the JV basketball job.

IN THE frosh-soph ranks Bill Daletski will coach football, Frank Bohac cross country, Schaller basketball, Julius Fliehler wrestling, Mike Karon gymnastics, Ormsbee baseball, and Steingraber tennis. Flynn will assist Daletski in football.

On the frosh level Fliehler heads up the grid candidates with Bob Rees set for basketball. Baker and Fish will assist Fliehler and Flynn will work with Rees. Fish will coach frosh wrestling and Rees will handle frosh baseball with assistance from Brownell.

The one newcomer to the district at Prospect high school is Donald Barrett. A graduate of Western Illinois University, Barrett will coach Prospect's first swimming team. He lettered four years in swimming and three years in football at Western.

NEWCOMERS TO the Prospect coaching ranks who have been in the school system are Ralph Naylor, Bill McKillip, and Don Arseneau.

Naylor will assist in frosh baseball and head the school's intramural program. McKillip has been named varsity golf coach and Arseneau, who served as trainer in 1960-61, will again work in that capacity but will take on the additional duties of frosh-soph gymnastics and tennis.

Outside of the switch in golf, there are no other changes in the head coaching setup at Prospect. Bill Beckman serves as varsity football coach with Ken Arneson heading cross country, Rick Farris gymnastics, Dick Mudge wrestling, Dick Kinneman basketball, Bob Scott track, Chuck Aldrich baseball, and Farris tennis.

SCOTT AND J. O. Jackson will serve as Beckman's varsity aggregation. Ted Wissen is in charge of the soph football team with assistance from Aldrich, and Hal Henson, Mudge, and Rusty Dowell are working with the plebes.

Kinneman will handle the frosh-soph cross country team in addition to his head basketball duties.

Farris and Arseneau will head the gymnastics program with Mudge, Henson, and Levy in wrestling. Henson will coach the frosh-sophs and Levy the frosh.

WISSEN WILL coach JV basketball and Bob Hoese will work with the sophs. Arneson and Lou Schairer will guide the frosh cage candidates.

Beckman, Dowell, and Jackson will assist Scott with track, and Schairer, Levy, and Naylor will help Aldrich in baseball. Aldrich has the varsity outfit with Schairer heading the frosh-sophs, and Levy and Naylor the frosh.

Farris and Arseneau will team up again in tennis and, as previously mentioned, McKillip will head the golfers and Barrett the first swimming team.

New Emerald Golf Squad Captures Division Crown

When all the scores were in last Friday, New Emerald Cleaners came out on top as new champion of the Arlington Heights Twilight golf league. They had to take 8½ out of 12 points to beat back the determined effort of Arlington Structural Steel who finished second with 103½ points.

The third place spot fell to City Welding Sales, to round out the top three teams. Given another two weeks, Arlington Heights National Bank might have captured the honors, as they moved from eleventh place two weeks ago to finish in fifth place. So it is all over but the shouting and there will be plenty of time for that at the banquet on October 7th.

Gordon Otto won the top No. 1 man honors, beating out his closest rival, Bill Schoepke by 6½ points. Chris Tessem came in as top No. 2 man, while Bill Magnuson took the top No. 3 man spot in a close race with Ted Fonfara, who was only ½ point behind.

Lou Schomburg moved in as top No. 4 man when Jim Markiecwicz failed to win a point Friday while Lou won 2½ points. Chuck Jevne was a shoo-in for top No. 5 man, having had the lead all season. In a tight race for the top Alternate spot, it went to Joe Haughey who was in the lead most of the season.

Friday night, September 1st, will round out the evening play for the league this season, with a best ball tournament. On Saturday, September 16, the year-end tournament will be played at Golden Acres starting at 12 noon. The banquet will be held at Golden Acres on October 7th and then it will be next season.

Swimming Team Triumphs, 234-162

Mt. Prospect's park district swimming team successfully completed its 1961 season with a 234-162 win over Prospect Heights last Friday evening.

Three Mount Prospect swimmers were three-time winners in their individual events: Karen Ages - 11 & 12 girls; Pam DeMent - 15 & 16 girls; and Ian Wilson - 17 & over boys. Jeanne Pollard - 9 & 10 girls, Joan Rezner - 13 & 14 girls, and Kathy Farleigh each brought home double crowns from the meet.

In addition, Pat Mglej and Bill Reising each won a free-style race; Richard Mottweiler, Karen King, Mike Croake, and Bill Roosen were tops in various breaststroke events; Mike Zadel took the junior diving; and backstroke races were taken by Rene DeMent and Mary Kennedy. The visiting team clinched its lead in points by taking six of the nine relays.

Plans already are being made for participation again next year in the Northern Illinois Swimming conference, especially the conference meet which will be held at Northbrook.

flying, the direct operating costs are a small part of the overall expense. Some types of flying merely cost less than others in terms of dollars because the participants perform many of the supporting services themselves instead of paying others.

ALTHOUGH no special experience is required to join a soaring club, the overwhelming majority of 67 per cent of SSA's members are professional power pilots.

Contrary to popular but uniformed opinion, soaring is not a sport reserved for either superior athletic types, skilled technicians, or the rich. Anyone in relatively normal health and physical condition can obtain a license to fly a glider or sailplane.

A novice can master the art of soaring, and the fact that the world famous Schweitzer Soaring School boasts a perfect safety record over 18 years of instruction lends evidence to the fact that the level-headed glider pilot is not taking his life into his own hands every time he slips into the cockpit.

Webber Paint's Golfers Appear Ready for Crown

With only two more nights of golf remaining in the 1961 season it appears that Webber Paint is not to be overtaken in their determined bid for the top league position in the Rob Roy League. Len Arnold again proved he is at his best when the pressure is on by scoring a one under par 34 to lead the Webber team to a 4-3 victory over Kirchhoff Insurance. An interesting sidelight to the sterling play of Len this season is the fact that in all the years he has been in the Tuesday night league at Rob Roy he has never before played on a team that had been in first place at the end of the season.

Prospect Heights Variety, in second place, is still hoping for some kind of upset in order to pass the leaders. By defeating Brennan's Pharmacy 5-2 they picked up a little more ground. The Pharmacy team was saved from a whitewash job only thru the sensational play of their No. 2 man, John Smith, who fired a one over par 36-5-31 for the best low net score of the evening and his best round of the season.

L-Nor Cleaners have moved up fast in the past few weeks and bounced into third place by trouncing Rusty's Marathon Service 6½-½ behind the steady play of No. 3 man, Virg Rolf, who scored a low net of 40-7-33 in this match.

Chuck Van Boxtaele shot his best round of the season 37-5-32 to lead Union Hotel to a 5-2 victory over C-P Floor Tile.

Another near whitewash of the evening was Ray Statz & Associates triumph over John Stearns & Co. 6½-½. Don Schmidt scored two of the 6½ points by winning his match and scoring a 40-5-35 for the low net of this team match.

The standings are as follows:

Webber Paint	67½
Prospect Hts. Variety	62½
L-Nor Cleaners	60

Takes 6-Point League Lead

L-Nor Cleaners has moved out to a six-point lead with only one week remaining in the Friday night golf league at Arlington Country club.

The only way they can lose the club championship is to drop all seven points next week while Goetz or Arlington Furniture wins all seven.

Low Gross went to Bill Pomerhn with a 40. Veleta had low net of 43-32.

Fred Lussow, Tom Petrosino, and Keith Voigt. Rogers was an All-State selection.

Top returnee is fullback Bruce Andrise who gained all-conference recognition and earned his second major letter last fall. The husky senior picked up 313 yards in 73 cracks for a 4.3 per carry average.

PROSPECT'S junior - varsity squad boasted a 5-1 mark in 1960 and finished second in the Interim. The sophs were 4-0 in Blue division action with the plebes 3-1.

Beckman and his staff face a big rebuilding job, and they started right in Monday attempting to mold a creditable unit for that Sept. 16 opener with North Chicago's Warhawk the defending Tri-County titlist and loop champ for four straight years.

Assisting Beckman with the varsity this fall are Bob Scott, J. O. Jackson, and Bob Hoese with Hoese heading the junior-varsity aggregation. Ted Wissen is in charge of the sophs with assistance from Chuck Aldrich and Hal Henson, Dick Mudge, and Rusty Dowell are working with the frosh.

Dundy Expected To Make Strong Bid at Illinois

When Coach Pete Elliott calls his University of Illinois football team together for practice Friday, his halfback situation will be reminiscent of the "do-it-yourself" football teams of World War II. There won't be a single letterman halfback!

Actually, Elliott has one letterman halfback on the roster, senior Dick McDade. But McDade cut his ankle badly in a freak accident this summer and won't be able to join the team for several weeks. The former Urbana all-stater looked good in spring practice and was being counted on heavily this fall. He first lettered in 1958, dropped out of school a year, was on the squad last year, but did not accumulate enough time for his second "L."

Graduation, University disciplinary action, signing of a professional baseball contract, and freak injury have been the four decimators of Illinois' halfback corps. Marshall Starks and Joe Krakoski, 1960 regulars, received their diplomas. Letterman Norm Willis, who would have been a junior this fall, and Jim Warren, considered a fine sophomore prospect, were dropped from the University. Ethan Blackaby, who started several games last year and had one more year of football eligibility, signed a professional baseball contract. Then came McDade's injury in early August.

THE SITUATION is not hopeless, however. Ken Zimmerman, Aurora (West) junior, who is heir apparent to the number one job on the left side, was the sensation of last spring's practice. Zimmerman, who stands only 5-8 but weighs a solid 183 pounds, was a consistent ground gainer against his teammates. He is at least an adequate defensive back, despite his lack of height.

Pressing Zimmerman for the number one job will be two sophomores who were fine high school trackmen, Tom McCullum, New Orleans, La. (Cohen), and Mike Dundy, Arlington Heights. McCullum ran the 440 and 880 as a prep; Dundy ran the 220 and 440 and finished second in the latter distance in the 1960 state prep track.

Neither carries much weight. McCullum is a lean 5-11½, 168-pounder, and Dundy stands 5-10 and weighs 175.

BEHIND THIS pair will be Dave Anderson, 5-11, 185-pound Xenia, Ohio (Beavercreek) sophomore; Bill Rowden, 5-10, 180-pound Chicago (Mt. Carmel) junior.

Leading candidate for the top right halfback assignment is Al Wheatland, a converted fullback. Wheatland played briefly in the season opener against Indiana last year, carrying five consecutive times for 25 yards, before suffering a shoulder separation. He played no more the rest of the season and was granted an additional year's eligibility by the Big Ten.

Al stands 6-0 and weighs 189. He has a quick start and is a shifty runner. Wheatland was a high school all-stater at Streator.

Backing up Wheatland will be Cecil Young, 5-11, 170-pound Miami, Fla. (Goulds, Fla. Mays) sophomore; Jerry Parola, 5-10, 184-pound Hillsboro (Taylor Springs) senior; Glenn Glauser, 5-10, 187-pound Peru (LaSalle-Peru) junior; and Jerry Sanford, 5-11, 185-pound Chicago (Sullivan) sophomore.

Busse Motors Clinches Golf League Crown

With one night of play remaining Busse Motors has claimed the title in the Monday night golf league at Mt. Prospect Country club.

The Top Shop held on to second place but is only 1½ points on top of Pickett Paint. The Position Night playoffs coming up can change all but the first place team.

Dilsaver, Grueness, and Lyon posted low gross scores of 37-39-39 respectively. Grueness and Schneider both carded net 31s followed closely by Gerrard with 41-9-32 and Dilsaver 37-4-33.

Dilsaver claimed three birdies and the following men managed one: Paul Seleski, Tom Cox, George Kratsch, Vic Bowen, Ken Willert, H. Feige, Bob Nordli, and alternate W. C. McCulloh.

Fassbender Sets Mark In Waukegan Victory

Former track champion Fuzzy Fassbender of Slinger, Wis., turned his first appearance of the season at the Waukegan Spedway into a record-smashing victory as he powered his way to a new track record for 25 laps before a crowd of 3,000 persons, averaging 50.93 m.p.h.

The former record of 50-.68 m.p.h. had been set on July 23 of this season by local favorite Jack Frost of Zion.

Fassbender, along with hometownsmen, Miles Melius and Billy Johnson, three of the hottest modified stock car competitors on the Wisconsin tracks, pleased fans with their appearances at Waukegan Sunday.

FASSBENDER took the lead from Frost on lap 11, and went on to the record win, finishing about a quarter lap ahead of Caledonia's John Reimer. Melius, who had posted the night's fastest qualifying time at a speed of 52.61 m.p.h. finished third.

In point standings developments, Bill Strom of West Allis, Wis., took over the point lead, dropping Ted Rozinski, also of West Allis, to second spot. It is the first time since racing first began here this season in May, that Rozinski has dropped out of the lead.

Rozinski earned five more points than Strom in qualifying, but Strom placed sixth in the feature as compared to Rozinski's 11th place, thus earning 35 points more than Rozinski to wrest the lead from him by a mere 10 point margin. The totals now stand at 2270 for Strom to 2260 for Rozinski.

FROST earned 95 points for placing eighth and still remains in third with 2195 points. Reimer, however made the biggest advance earning a total of 195 points for a new total of 2160, only 35 out of third place.

Melius was robbed of a possible win in the fourth heat, when Mel White, of Kenosha, Wis., spun out while in the lead and blocked Melius' path, forcing him from the competition. Reimer took the lead and went on for the win.

Billy Johnson won the third heat, took second fast time and placed fifth in the feature to give the three Slinger drivers the largest slice of the purse of $1515.

TWO AMATEUR events were held and the 28 car feature once again saw cars scattered all over the track. Of the eight finishers, only four were able to complete the entire distance. Tim Brennan of Kenosha was the victor.

The added back-up demolition contest was a comedy of errors as Swede Johnson in a Pontiac won the double back-up portion of the event but lost out in the demolition event to Billy Burton of North Chicago.

The 17th consecutive Sunday night program of modified and amateur stock car racing is planned for the gala labor day weekend program, on September 3. Racing will take place both on Sunday night and again on Monday night.

As a special feature Sunday, Bob Robuck, "the world's most limber man," will perform at the speedway. Robuck was featured on the Ed Sullivan show recently and appeared with Bob Ripley's Believe It Or Not show some years ago.

Time trials both dates will begin at 7:15 p.m. with racing getting under way at 8:30 p.m. The Monday show will be a championship event for the amateur drivers or sportsmen cars with trophies awarded in every race.

Sunday amdission remains at $1.50 for adults and 25 cents for the children, whereas on Monday the kids will be admitted free and the adults for only a dollar.

The speedway is located on West Washington st., just west of Waukegan.

Bork, Bader, Berg Among Candidates On Northern Squad

Fifty-six candidates, including 19 lettermen and a dozen freshmen, reported Wednesday for pre-season football drills at Northern Illinois University.

As usual, Northern has only two weeks to prepare for its season opener, a home date with Northwest Missouri State Saturday, September 16—two days before NIU's fall semester begins.

On the upgrade steadily since Coach Howard Fletcher's arrival in 1956, Northern has finished 7-2 the past two grid seasons, and appears to have the makings of a stronger club this fall.

OF THE returning lettermen, 11 were regulars last season, and five others were sometime-regulars. The line will have a little more heft and considerably more depth this fall; and whereas the 1960 Huskies opened drills with no battle-tested quarterback, Fletcher now has a pair of proven standouts in senior Tom Beck and sophomore George Bork of Mt. Prospect via Arlington high school.

However, Fletcher views the forthcoming campaign with reservations, stemming primarily from (1) graduation of two-time Little All-American end Al Eck and (2) expectations of tougher opposition.

Following the Northwest Missouri curtain raiser September 16, Northern entertains traditional rival Wheaton Saturday afternoon, September 23; has night engagements with Northeast Missouri at Kirksville Friday, September 29, and Southern Illinois at Carbondale Saturday, October 7; faces Eastern Illinois at Charleston October 14; plays Homecoming host to Western Illinois Saturday, October 21; journeys to Mount Pleasant, Mich., for a meeting with Central Michigan Saturday, October 28; and winds up at home against Illinois State Saturday, November 4, and Eastern Michigan Saturday, November 11.

In addition to quarterback Bork, two other area lettermen at Northern include end Rich Bader of Arlington Heights and end Howie Berg of Mt. Prospect. Both boys are graduates of Arlington high school.

Tight Battle For 1st Place

A tight battle for first place is being waged by Shirley Schroeder with seventeen points and Donna Patek with twenty-one in the Old Orchard ladies 18-hole golf league.

Results of next week's matches will decide first place in the individual play.

In the day's event last Monday—low gross—Donna Patek captured the top prize with a 39-39-78. Shot of the day was executed by Rose Davis when she holed out from 50 yards.

The Placid Yazoo

Mississippi's Yazoo river is navigable for its entire length—about 300 miles.

Mixed Doubles Tennis Meet This Saturday

Paddock Publications' first Mixed Doubles tennis tournament will be staged this Saturday, Sept. 2, at the Arlington high school courts with tennis enthusiasts of the entire area eligible to compete for trophies and prizes.

The response thus far has been encouraging but the tourney promoters are hoping for more entries. The tournament is open to all tennis players living within the area served by Paddock Publications.

All enthusiasts, men and women, girls and boys, are urged to enter the event with trophies slated to be given winners by Paddock Publications.

THE ARLINGTON Heights Tennis Club, recognizing the need for increased interest in tennis, particularly among those out of high school and college, has organized this first tourney which it hopes will become an annual affair. The local club has been participating in an area tennis league, helping develop interest in the sport.

Runners-up will also receive prizes for their accomplishments. Whether the tourney will run two days, or just one, depends upon interest and the weather.

Those wishing to enter are urged to call Mrs. John Dietz at CLearbrook 5-5274; Mrs. Robert Sir at CLearbrook 5-7725; and Mrs. Frank Foley at CLearbrook 5-6307.

Deadline for entries is Thursday, Aug. 31, at 8 p.m. No entry fees are necessary.

The tourney is slated to get underway at 9 a.m. Saturday. In the event of rain, it will be staged at the same time Sunday. Refreshments will be served.

Mt. Prospect Awards Night On Sept. 8th

The annual awards night of the Mt. Prospect Baseball Association for Boys will be held Friday, Sept. 8, at 8 p.m. in either Lincoln or Central school auditorium.

An official announcement of the site will be included in next week's papr.

Awards and trophies will be presented to the winning teams in the National and American Little Leagues, both Major and Minor; Pony league, Pony tournament, and Colt league.

Featured speaker for the evening will be El Tappe, head coach of the Chicago Cubs.

All association members, ballplayers, and adults are invited. There will be a question and answer period following Tappe's talk.

Remember the date. September 8! See next week's Herald for location.

Deerpath Captures Top Honors

Deerpath edged Sunset Valley and Old Orchard in a torrid battle for top honors as the Inter-Suburban Women's Golf league concluded its second season of competition.

Deerpath closed with 53 points, a mere half point more than Sunset Valley's 52-point total. Old Orchard placed third with 52 counters.

In fourth place was Wilmette (43½) followed by Arlington (38½) and Glencoe (30½) in that order.

Current plans for next season call for the expansion of the league to eight teams with the addition of Mt. Prospect and Bonnie Brook of Waukegan. Both squads will compete in the Northern District.

Able Electric In 18-3 Win; Claims Title

Able Electric's softball team concluded the Sportsmans 16-inch season a week ago Wednesday with an impressive 18-3 victory over Arlington Acres.

The win gave Able Electric the league championship and their twelfth triumph in a row against one lone defeat suffered in the first game of the season.

Arlington Greens increased its hold on the second place position by virtue of a 17-5 win over the Beachcombers.

In other final games the Village outbatted the Hasbrook Hawks and darkness 14 - 11 and the Soft-tees scored their third conquest of the season downing the Knights 15 - 8.

Wildcats Launch Football Drills At Dyche Stadium

Northwestern will launch its 73rd football season today (Thursday) when 67 candidates report to Coach Ara Parseghian and his aides at Dyche Stadium. The first day will be given over to medical checkups and picture-taking, with actual drills starting the following day.

Parseghian, starting his sixth season at the Wildcat helm, has outlined a stiff practice program in preparation for a rigorous nine-game schedule that opens against Boston College at Dyche Stadium, Sept. 30.

Twenty-three lettermen return from last year's squad that compiled a 5-4 record. The Wildcats finished strong, winning four of their last five games, including a 14 to 7 upset victory over Illinois in the final game of the season.

PARSEGHIAN, who has guided the Wildcats to winning seasons the past three years, describes the upcoming season as "Northwestern's biggest rebuilding job since 1958. We must replace starters at such key positions as quarterback, fullback, and ends. Our season will hinge on how well we succeed in filling these spots."

Principal losses were Dick Thornton, quarterback; Mike Stock, fullback, and Elbert Kimbrough and Irv Cross, ends. Other departing regulars were Ray Purdin, halfback; Dick Nichols, offensive center, and Russ Asala and Wayne Chamberlain, guards.

Developing a replacement for the talented Thornton at quarterback looms as one of the biggest problems confronting the Wildcats. Lettermen Bob Eickhoff and Fred Quinn and sophomore Tom O'Grady from Chicago's Brother Rice are the leading candidates for the job.

FULLBACK poses another major backfield problem following the departure of Stock, leading ground-gainer and scorer last season. Lone letterman is Paul Flatley, a junior. Pushing him is promising sophomore Bill Swingle from Grand Haven, Mich.

Best fortified of the backfield positions are the halfbacks, where five lettermen returned. They are Al Kimbrough, Frank Johnson, Larry Benz, Bob Snider and Chuck Brainerd. Promising sophomores include Willie Stinson, Danville, and Merlin Norenberg, Beaver Dam, Wis.

Paddock Classic League

Jeffery Lanes Off to Fast Start with Three Victories

Jeffery Lanes of Wheeling jumped to the head of the pack as the Paddock Classic Traveling League made its 1961-62 bowling debut Saturday night at River-Rand in Des Plaines.

Jeffery was the only one in the eight team league to sweep all three games, Beverly Lanes of Arlington Heights being the victim. And still two more teams, Moyle Construction, bowling out of Lake Zurich, and Martinetti's Restaurant of Crystal Lake, battled to the first tie of the year.

The one "mid-season" match found Nelson Realty of Mt. Prospect besting Pro Sport Center, also of Mt. Prospect, two games to one. Nelson Realty, bowling out of Bowlway in Elgin, totaled 2867 pins, high opening night series. Pro Sport Center, representing Gunnell's of Mt. Prospect where league play will be resumed Sept. 9 following the Labor Day weekend layoff, had high team game, 974, and a 2853 series.

THE SUMMER layoff showed up Saturday, only four men cracking the 600 mark. Dave Catherwood of Arlington Heights posted the year's high series, 631, on games of 225, 202 and 204 to pace Nelson Realty. Allan McMillan of Crystal Lake, on the strength of games of 221 and 204, had a 605 series as he headed the Martinetti attack. Dave Rogers, aided by a 228 game, led River-Rand with a 603 series. The fourth one to join the group was Al Walter of Arlington Heights who hit 600 on the nose thanks to the night's high individual game, 237.

With Beverly Lanes rolling only 2491, Jeffery Lanes still managed to win all three on a 2586 series. The opener was easy but then Jeffery managed to squeak past Beverly by six pins in the middle game and by 19 in the final. Ed Melton of Northbrook was high for Jeffery with 554 and John Seidel of Palatine led Beverly with 581.

THE TWO Mt. Prospect teams had the real battle. Despite Walter rolling his 237 game, Catherwood came up with 225 to give Nelson Realty the opener, 961-947. Then Pro Sport Center, behind a 223 game by Paul Zubak of Elk Grove Village, hit its 974 game, Nelson coming up with a 948 total. Nelson took the deciding game, 958-932, thanks to a 204 effort by Catherwood and a 200 by Casper DeWitz of Barrington.

Though out-totaled in pins, River-Rand Bowl captured two of the three games from Wheeling Furniture. Wheeling Furniture, representing Hi-Way Recreation in Palatine, had a 2717 series, six more pins than River-Rand. River-Rand won the opener, 875-838, despite a 202 game by Don Oberg of Itasca for Wheeling Furniture. The Wheeling team then rebounded to win, 937-881, behind a 218 game by Ron Fogarett of Palatine. But Rogers then pounded home a 203 game and teammate Mike Wagner of Des Plaines had two pins less to give River-Rand the deciding game, 955-942. Rogers had a 603 series for River-Rand and Oberg was high for Wheeling Furniture with 576.

AFTER MOYLE Construction had taken the opener by 11 pins and Martinetti's Restaurant had retaliated by taking the second by 46 pins, the two battled to an 849 standoff in the final game. A 193 by George Sergeant of Great Lakes paced the win by Moyle Construction, which bowls out of Country Lanes in Lake Zurich, and although John Taylor of Waukegan had 216 in the second encounter, a 221 by McMillan and a 207 by Bill Moss of Addison put Martinetti's over the hump in the second game.

Leaders in the tie game were McMillan with 204 for Martinetti and Frank Graff of Palatine with 201 for Moyle. Taylor had top series for Moyle, 563, one pin more than Sergeant.

Women's Classic League To Open at Country Lanes

Country Lanes in Lake Zurich will host the opening night festivities in the Paddock Women's Classic traveling league, it was announced this week.

The initial competition in the high-flying bowling loop will be staged Saturday, Sept. 9, at 6:30 with six squads getting ready for the 1961-62 campaign.

Vernon Hills Restaurant of Country Lanes captured the grand championship in the Classic league's first season, but those same gals will be bowling for Moyle Construction in the forthcoming campaign.

OTHER SPONSORS in the women's division are Steve's Restaurant of Jeffery Lanes, Northfield Bowl, Ridge Motors of Sims Bowl, Morton Pontiac of Beverly Lanes, and River-Rand Bowl.

Rosters and individual averages for the Women's Classic are as follows:

Morton Pontiac:
Alice Alten of Mt. Prospect (167), Carol Hosti of Bensenville (160), Shirley Nutschnig of Prospect Heights (168), Joan Lindahl of Arlington Heights (174), and Pat Proebstle of Arlington (179).

River-Rand:
Connie Labo of Rolling Meadows (161), Jo O'Shaughnessy of Des Plaines (169), Joyce Walker of Des Plaines (165), Hazel Steiger of Arlington (159), and Alice Ulrich of Chicago (177).

Moyle Construction:
Viola Douglas of Palatine (171), Bonnie Kuhn of Mundelein (182), Marge Calkins of Lake Zurich (167), Fran Altergott of Mundelein (170), and Alice Nichols of Arlington (160).

Steve's Restaurant:
Delores Harris of Wheeling (175), Sis Jennings of Deerfield (168), Janice Crovetti of Highwood (167), Ann Newman of Morton Grove (166), and Carol Caris of Highland Park (165).

Northfield Bowl:
Gloria Luchessi of Winnetka (177), Ceil Borre of Wilmette (169), Sally Prouty of Wilmette (161), Wickie Bohnen of Wilmette (160), and Virginia Wills of Des Plaines (169).

O'Hare Stadium Prepares for Big Holiday Weekend

The last full weekend of thrilling auto race action will be the biggest of 1961 for the Labor Day holiday at O'Hare Stadium, Mannheim and Irving Park rds. Big excitement shows are slated Friday, Saturday, Sunday and Monday nights.

It will be modified stock car races with the exciting O'Hare Cadets Friday night as usual with another big NASCAR late model and Cadet card Saturday evening. Highlight of the Sunday night program of midgets and Cadets will be the 50-lap Season Championship for the mighty mites.

Biggest event of the entire season is scheduled Labor Day Monday night—the 200-lap NASCAR Season Championship classic for late model stockers. All of the top drivers and cars in the midwest are entered with the largest purse of the year their goal.

Favored entrants include Roy Czach, Eric Johnson, Roy Martinelli, Fred Lorenzen, Tom Pistone, Bob Chapman, Bill Lutz, Arnie Gardner, LeRoy Roberts, Bob Weyrauch, Neil Houston, Jim and Jerry Vandermeir, and some 30 others. The fastest 24 cars will start.

Racing each night will begin at 8:30 p.m. with Sunday only at 8 p.m. Following the weekend attractions, O'Hare will continue to present late model and Cadet stocks on Saturday nights until further notice.

Washington Park Futurity Tops Arlington Park Card

Mrs. Moody Jolley's Ridan, undefeated in six starts including consecutive stakes victories in the Hyde Park, Arlington Futurity and Prairie State Stakes, will be favored to become the ninth two-year-old in local history to capture both Chicago Futuritites when he takes on the field in Saturday's $200,000-plus Washington Park Futurity at Arlington Park.

A victory in the 6½ furlongs test, won the past two years by Venetian Way and Crozier, won with his ears pricking, would crown Ridan undisputed champion of all Midwestern two-year-olds and send him to the East as a "good thing" for 1961 titular honors.

The Washington Park Futurity, up for its 23rd running, is the only stakes race on the final full week of racing at rarely feeling the sting of the bat.

WHEN HE debuted locally at Washington Park this spring, he waltzed home by six lengths. Then he ran off with the Hyde Park by a similar margin, accounted for the lucrative Arlington Futurity in a brilliant 1:09 flat, smothering Green Ticket and company by 5½ lengths. He was almost three lengths to the good in the Prairie State which served as no more than a time trial for LeRoy Jolley's pride n'joy.

There shouldn't be too many opposing Ridan Saturday, although Rex C. Ellsworth's improved Eight Ball, second in the Prairie State, definitely will be back, as will Mr. and Mrs. Herbert Herff's expensive Nashua progeny, Obey, J.C. Pollard's Treasury Note, T.A. Grissom's Mike G. and Fred W. Hooper's Admiral's Voyage. Arlington Park. The 97-day coordinated season comes to a climactic close on the following Monday, Labor Day, with presentation of the $100,000 Washington Park Handicap.

TIGER, WINNER of the first Washington Park Futurity in 1937, also was the first juvenile to account for both Futurities. Occupation, 1942; Free for All, 1944; Greek Game, 1956; To Market, 1950; Hasty Road, 1953; Swoon's Son, 1955, and Restless Wind, 1958 also won both Futurities.

Cops Four Crowns

Arlington Captures Little Tennis Title

After falling one point short in 1960, Arlington bounced back with a convincing team championship last week in the Little Tennis league tournament at Berns Field Park in Hinsdale.

The Arlington Heights Park District entry, coached by Ken Schaller, piled up 61 markers to head runner-up River Forest by 12 points. Lincoln Park finished third with 42 and Humboldt Park, the 1960 champ in a tight finish, was fourth at 34 in the 10-team field.

The local outfit gathered four championships thanks to Jim Jakubiec, Rick Wollerman, and Kevin Mahoney. Jakubiec, a soph at Arlington high school who played varsity tennis as a freshman, claimed the No. 1 singles crown with an impressive 6-1, 6-1 decision over Rich Kornatowski of Humboldt Park.

JAKUBIEC earned a shot in the title tussle with a 10-5 victory over Duke of Lincoln Park and 10-2 conquest of Hinsdale's Brooks.

Wollerman picked off the No. 2 singles title in a tight 6-4, 6-4 match with River Forest's Dave Armstrong, the top-seeded performer. On the title trail Rick had dhumped McKinley Park's Samatowic 10-2 and Hinsdale's Tracy 10-4.

Mahoney gave Arlington a sweep of the top three singles titles with a 6-2, 6-0 victory over Chris Carvell of Lincoln Park, the only girl to advance to the finals in the meet for youngsters 14 years or under. He earned his title shot with 10-2 and 10-3 victories.

IN NO. 1 DOUBLES Arlington picked up its fourth championship as Jakubiec and Wollerman teamed up for a 6-3, 7-5 victory over the River Forest entry. The local duo opened with a 10-0 victory and backed that up with a 10-3 decision and berth in the finals.

Arlington's other singles player, Bobby Von Boeckmann, won his first match 10-0 in No. 4 competition but dropped a 10-7 decision to River Forest's Tom Hunt. Hunt went on to annex the individual title.

In No. 2 doubles Arlington's entry of Mahoney and Greg Inman opened with a victory by default, then dropped a 10-8 decision to Lincoln Park's Carvell combination.

To Determine Playoff Slots In Golf Play

With but one more week of regulation play remaining in the St. Raymond's golf league the men and the teams that are in contention are keyed up for the final encounter this coming Thursday. This match will determine what teams will be entered in the play-offs beginning Sat., Sept. 9. The teams will vie for one of four berths in the play-offs and as of this late date there is only one team that has clinched a play-off slot.

With the exception of week, the Spooner Engi- Engineering aggrgation has led all the way in League No. 1 since the season got under way May 4. Spooner has assured itself of a play-off bid but the number two position in the league is still in doubt. Strass Ladies teamfinally caught and passed by Moran Furs thereby taking over 2nd place and dropping the Furriers to the Number 3 spot.

Close behind Moran in 4th place is the Trapani Plumbing squad. These 4 teams will meet head-on for the coveted 1st and 2nd places in League No. 1 with Spooner Engineering assured of the top spot and playing for exercise only.

In League No. 2 McMahons has taken a firm grip on 1st place by demolishing Ackerman Insurance 12 points to none. Ackerman has established a new League record and have the dubious distinction of being the first team to be shut-out 3 times in one season. The other teams in contention in the league are Illinois Range, Kirchoff Insurance and Safford Stamps.

These teams also will bump heads to determine the top 2 spots in League No. 2 with McMahons seemingly having the inside track to nail down one of the positions. The first "Eagle" of the season was recorded last week by Dick Broeren of the Kirchoff Insurance Team. Dick sank a chip shot on the "terrible 17th" for a 3 and then continued on to fashion himself a very neat "37."

HOT CORNER: Dick Broeren 37; Bob Louthain 37; Bernie Minton 38; John Moore 38; Bill Sommers 40; Chuck Jamieson 40; Bernie McNichols 40; Ed McAuliff 41; Jack Griffin 41; Jack Moran 41; Hank Juergenson 41; Dick Becker 41; George Grego 42.

BIRD MEN: Bernie Minton, 3th hole; Bernie McNichols, 9th hole; Jerry Schneider, 11th hole; Al Spooner, 15th hole; Bob Louthain, 18th hole; Bill Sommers, 18th hole; Chuck Jamieson, 18th hole.

Old Orchard Ladies League

Final event of the season in the Old Orchard ladies golf league was a Two - Ball Foursome.

Winners on the first nine were Peg Hendricks and June Nebel. Winners on the second nine were Lorraine Mertens and Yvonne Foley.

Following the golf competition, a luncheon was held to terminate the season.

Miami's Rathmann Heads Field

Jim Rathmann, Miami, Fla., winner of the 1960 500 mile Indianapolis race, heads the field of 12 entries that have been received so far for the 250 mile national championship late model stock car race on the one mile paved track at the Wisconsin state fair park, Sunday, Sept. 17. He will drive a 1961 Chevrolet owned by Frank Arciero, Montebello, Cal.

Rathmann is one of five drivers still active who competed in the first late model stock car race, a 100 miler here, Aug. 22, 1948. The tough Floridan holds the record of competing in 23 consecutive late model stock car races here. Because of increasing business obligations, Rathmann now limits himself to six or seven major races a year.

Race director Tom Marchese expects between 50 and 60 entries limited to 1959-60 automobiles, to fight for the 40 starting positions. Practice starts at 12 noon, time trials at 12:30 p.m. Race lines up at 2 p.m., central daylight saving time. Tickets at Wisconsin Auto Racing, Inc., 1200 S. First St., Milwaukee 4, Wis.

Plaza Liquors Wins Title

Hoffman Plaza Liquors captured the team championship in the Rolling Meadows Men's softball league with a 12-2 victory over Bluebird Lane.

The losers collected only five hits as Hoffman picked up its second straight championship.

In this Sunday's game the champs will take on a group of All-Stars selected from the remaining seven clubs.

Final standings, 2nd Round:

Pharmacists Bump Carl's In Golf Play

Keefer's Pharmacy knocked off Carl's Food Shop last week in the Tuesday division of the Mt. Prospect Twilight league and with one night of play remaining it appears that the Pharmacists will be the winners of their division. The victory marked their sixth consecutive victory, having last lost a match on June 27 to Wille Lumber and Fuel.

Meanwhile, Kersting's Garden Center, Keefer's most persistent opposition up to this point, went into a complete swoon as Vern's Pure Oil came very close to shutting them out, allowing them only half a point in a one sided 9½ - ½ match. This overwhelming defeat dropped Kersting's to third place and left them but a scant ¾ point ahead of fourth place Mt. Prospect Electric Construction Co.

Wille Lumber and Fuel lost no time taking advantage of the vacancy created by Kersting's removal from second place. They put together a very satisfactory 7-3 victory over Mt. Prospect Electric Constr. Co. and moved up two places into second and appeared as the only possible challenger to Keefer's crown.

THERE remains but a single night of team play this season which is scheduled as a "position night" with 1st place team meeting 2nd, 3rd meeting 4th, etc. This will pit Keefer's Pharmacy against Wille Lbr. and Fuel and, as mentioned earlier, Keefer's suffered their last defeat at the hands of the same Wille Lbr. team. However, at this writing, Keefers' 8½-point margin over their pursuers seems to be nearly insurmountable.

Low scorers for the evening were Walt Welky, 36, Hal Jauch, 37, and Len Johnson, W. McCulloch, and Bob Sbarbaro, 39. Birdies were posted by Hal Jauch No 1 and 8, G. Adams No. 7, D. Shean and P. Petersen No. 9, H. Baylis and R. Hawkinson No 13, W. Mott No. 15, L. Johnson No. 15 and No. 17, E. Stofft No. 17.

Wreckers Regain Golf Lead

Schimka Wreckers regained the lead in the YMCA golf league with only one more week to play.

The pacesetters took Conn Shell 4½-1½ to knock them from the top spot. Schimka won the first half title so a victory in this round would assure them of the season crown.

Jack Sneeden fired a one-under-par 35 on the Mt. Prospect back nine. He did this by stroking in three birdies to offset a double bogey on the short par three No. 12. Al Ledding also played this nine in 36.

Jaycees Cop Softball Title With No-Hitter

The Arlington Heights Jaycee softball team won the 12-inch fast-pitch league title Sunday by beating the Rebel Rousers, 15-1, in a playoff game.

George Crestwell, tough to beat all season long, finished the year by hurling a no-hitter in the seven inning game.

The Jaycees were sharp all night. They exploded for five runs in the very first inning and followed up by scoring at least one run every inning after that. The Rebel Rousers scored their lone run in the fifth innig on a hit batsman, a stolen base and an error, the only error committed by the Jaycees Sunday.

Scratch Loop Closes 1961 Slate Friday

With one night remaining in the Old Orchard Scratch league Dean Landscaping holds a 1½ point lead over Webber Paint and two point margin over Lohr's Pharmacy in the battle for the coveted championship.

In action Friday the pace-setters will take on Kenron Awning and Window while runnerup Webber Paint will tackle F.B.K. Realtors. Third place Lohr's faces Pitzen Movers.

The landscapers moved past Webber in the standings with a 5½-2½ victory over Ladendorf Motors as Len Arnold, Harris, J. Neubauer, and Bob Kronn all came in with sub-40 rounds.

ARNOLD FIRED a sharp 37 but still lost as his opponent, Dan Musser, carded a 36. Neubauer's 38 was next in line and Harris and Kronn both registered 39s. Kuerton's 41 was also good for a victory.

Arlington Rest Home fashioned a 5½-2½ win over Webber Paint and dumped the Paddock tourney champs into second place. Johnson and Marv Kamps both recorded 38s for the winners and Eiler's 39 and Hamberg's 39 were also good for some team markers. Bruno Waara carded a 40 in the No. 1 slot for the losers and Bill Hugo and Howie Kamps combined for a 38 and 39 and one team point.

Kenron Awning and Window slipped by F.B.K. Realtors 4½-3½ with Jim Keane, Dave Borgardt, Ron Prellberg and Berlin all claiming victories. Borgardt's 38 was low and Keane followed with a 39. Meling's 37 was tops for the losers and picked up their only points.

WITH LOU SABO firing a brilliant 33, low round of the Scratch league season, Lohr's Pharmacy bumped C.P. Floor 5½-2½. Sabo was the only member of the victors in the 30s but Ellingsen's 43 and Schumacher's 40 also gained points. Peterson had a 39 for C.P. and won his match and Peters' 45 was good for another victory. Klapp garnered a half point with a 43.

In final action Marathon edged Pitzen Movers 4½-3½ with all ten players picking up a half point each for their team. Maytas' 37 was low and Lee came home in 38 for the winners and St. Germaine fired a 38 and Grimm a 39 for Pitzen.

Lauterburg Links Squad Maintains Division Lead

With one more round to go in the Wayside-Colette golf league, Lauterburg and Oehler continues to hold a 2-point edge on their nearest competitor by virtue of a 5-1 win over Catino Builders.

Padal, Galitz, and Swett were the winners for L & O who collected both low net points. Dick Ulbrich was the point getter for Catino's.

F. J. Die Mold still has the pressure applied on the leaders as they again kept pace with a 5-1 win over Detroit Steel. Hickey, B. Austin, and Schramm won for the Die Makers. Schramm also got low net for the team on a sharp 33-6-27. Stinson was the point man for the Steel Makers.

Coyle Agency-Pacific Mutual whipped Quadriga Mfg. company 5-1. Wist, Coyle, and Campbell claimed the points for the insurance men. Dollerslager was the lone winner for the Stampers.

Beverly Lanes rolled over Jim's Service 5½-½. Garrity, Kingsley, and Boland were the big guns for Beverly's, coming through with point-getting wins, and Kron picked up a half point on a tie. Mrozek got a half point on a tie for Jim's Service total points.

Realtors Gain Golf Loop Title

F-B-K Realtors won the 1961 championship of the Friday Night Twilight league at Mt. Prospect country club last week despite a 6.5 - 4.5 position night loss to second place Wille Fuel and Lumber.

The realtors, who finished second in the Paddock Publications handicap tournament two weeks ago, edged the lumbermen 112.7 - 106.5 in the final standings. Dick Piehl, the league's pace-setter all year, led his team again Friday with a low gross of 39. Harold Lins won the low net points for Wille with a 37.

In other matches Mt. Prospect Liquors beat Mt. Prospect State Bank 6.5 5.5; Huyck's Standard Service moved into fourth place with a 9.5 - 2.5 win over Keefer's Pharmacy; Mell and Paul's Drive-in whipped the Pro Sport Center 9.5 - 1.5; and Doyno Motors gained a tie for ninth place with a 7.5 - 4.5 victory over Duffy-Evan's Plywood Center.

Alternate Herman Falldin tied Piehl for low gross honors and took the night's low net with a 39-8-31. Birdies were turned in by Falldin on the 9th, Jim Carter on the 1st, Emory Calhoun on the 3rd, Joe Wylie on the 11th, and Ed Pool on the 17th.

League members were reminded of the tournament to be held at 12:30 p.m., Sunday, September 10, and of the season-ending banquet scheduled Saturday evening, September 16. Any member who cannot attend these events should notify Ed Pool, HE 7-4197, this week.

Master Your Wedge; Improve Your Game

(This is another in a series of instructional golf columns by Chuck Pedersen, Class A, PGA professional at Rolling Green Country club. Chuck deals with the wedge shot in this issue.)

Once you have conquered the pitching wedge you can easily chop from five to ten strokes off your score.

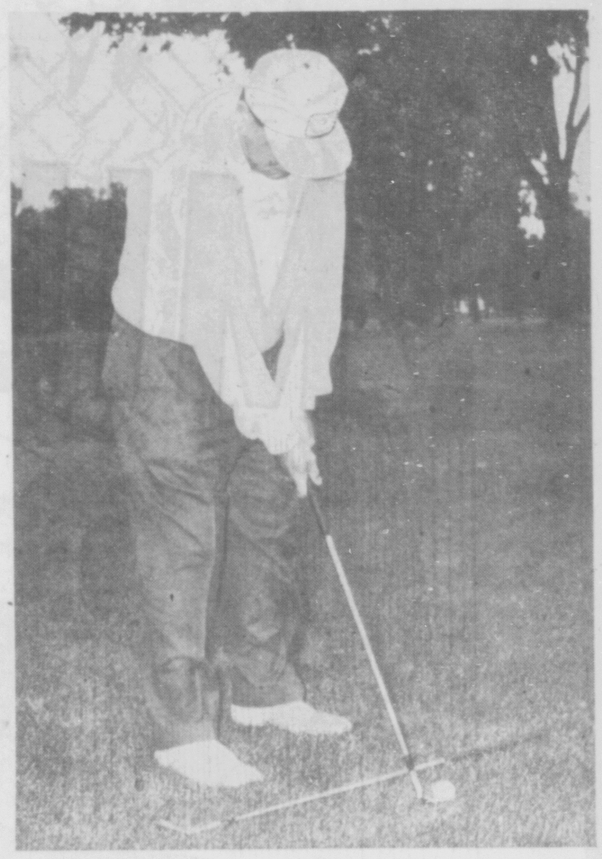
The wedge shot applies to lies from up to 110 yards from the pin. The ball is played from a slightly open stance allowing the easy distribution of weight and proper balance.

Considerable back spin on the high-floating wedge shot is a definite advantage when shooting at an elevated green closely guarded by hazards. The back spin will enable the ball to hold the green rather than roll off into one of the hazards.

THE BALL should be addressed with your feet roughly 18 inches apart. Your hands must be well ahead of the clubhead upon impact with the ball which entails a firm left wrist through the entire movement.

There exists a tendency to open the clubface to a dangerous angle; I purposely turn the clubface in a fraction to avoid slicing the shot to the right.

After the impact, I try to visualize the clubhead travelling toward the hole in one continuous line. This action will also help the ball along its prescribed course.



THE WEDGE SHOT, which can be played from a lie as far as 110 yards from the pin, is executed with a slightly open stance. This open stance allows proper weight distribution and balance.

Hanke Fires 36, Sneads Win Title

The Sneads, led by George Hanke's par 36 round, captured the Arlington VFW golf league Championship Monday night.

George's round included six pars and a spectacular eagle 3 on the 480 yard 14th hold at Old Orchard as he dropped a 70 foot putt.

Ralph Neal took low net honors with a 40-10-30.

Members of the league are reminded to mark their calendars for the banquet at the VFW Club house on September 30th when cash prizes and trophies will be awarded for the seasons effort.

Named Prexy

John Ribando, manager of Gunnell's Lanes in Mt. Prospect, was elected president of the Paddock Classic Traveling league Saturday night at River-Rand Bowl in Des Plaines. He succeeds Don Christensen of Arlington Heights to the top league office. Ribando rolls for the Pro Sport Center team of Mt. Prospect.

John Taylor of Waukegan, a member of the Moyle Construction five, was elected vice president. Chris Pulos of Crystal Lake and the Martinetti's Restaurant team was chosen secretary. The new treasurer is Sport five.

Christensen, a member of the River-Rand team.

Rules Committee members, in addition to President Ribando, are Taylor, Pulos, Christensen, Jim Perna of Rolling Meadows from the Beverly Lanes team, Ron Fogarett of Palatine from the Wheeling Furniture team, Chuck Gibson of Bensenville from the Jeffery Lanes team, Warren Olson of Arlington Heights for the Nelson Realty five and Ward Siewert of Palatine for the Pro Sport five.

By WALLY SCHWALLER

One of the most colorful of old time prexys was the head of the St. Louis Browns, Chris Von Der Ahe.

His ball park was a regular Coney Island . . . brass bands, chute-the-chutes, horse races, and a beer garden. He named some of his apartment houses after his players.

The gate receipts were carted to the bank in a wheelbarrow with Von Der Ahe following with a loaded rifle. He threw a party that cost him $50,000 for the Browns when they won a pennant.

Addison Is Building Leader In Area

Addison led the parade of Northwest suburbs in the total value of all building reported for the month of July in Bell Savings and Loan survey.

Hoffman Estates came next, and was followed by Des Plaines and Arlington Heights, respectively. Total building reported for the month of July in Cook county outside of Chicago was $5,802,000. Du Page county building totaled $3,819,925.

BUILDING in Addison in July amounted to $1,372,750, as compared to last July's figure of $916,600. This represents approximately a 55 per cent increase over July of last year.

Total building for Hoffman Estates for July amounted to $1,165,000, as compared to last year's figure of $1,367,000. This was an approximate drop of 18 per cent over July of 1960.

Des Plaines, too, experienced a considerable drop in total building completed during the month of July as compared to last year. Des Plaines had $1,138,000 worth of building this July compared to $2,054,500 last July. This represents an approximate drop of 45 per cent.

Arlington Heights had building in July of 1961 totaling $1,089,000 compared to building totaling $2,942,000 July of 1960. This represents a fall-off in building of close to 60 per cent from a year ago July.

OTHER communities had July building amounting to less than a million dollars. They are, in order:

—Palatine: $938,780, compared to July 1960 building of $160,190.

—Mt. Prospect: $822,796, compared to last July's figure of $272,446.

—Barrington: $403,276, compared to the July 1960 figure of $91,025.

—Wheeling: $360,725, compared to the 1960 figure of $408,480.

—Roselle: $354,955, compared to the July 1960 figure of $68,900.

—Bensenville: $312,450, compared to the July figure for last year of $237,025.

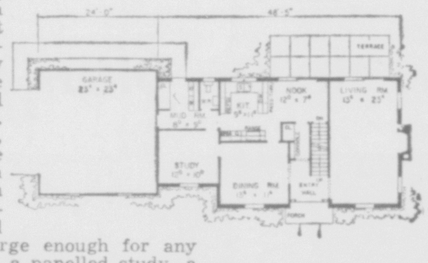
Other communities and building valuations were: Wood Dale: $145,700; Buffalo Grove: $105,496; Bloomingdale: $21,900; and Itasca: $4,500. (BB

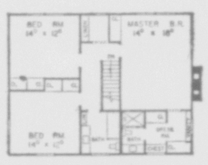
TRADITIONAL 2-STORY HOME IDEAL FOR LARGE FAMILIES

Design 986-W

Featuring a tasteful combination of classic exterior architecture and an elegantly spacious floor plan, this is a truly comfortable home for serene family living.

Designed by Richard B. Pollman, one of America's most distinguished designers, this home offers you a total of 2,148 sq. ft. of living space — plus, a full basement and attached garage. Every member of the family will find a favorite room. For example, there's a huge 23-ft. living room complete with natural fireplace, a formal dining room large enough for any family banquet, a panelled study, a large pass-thru kitchen connecting to a spacious breakfast room—and, lots and lots of closets!





Mother will particularly like the laundry and wash-up room which adjoins her kitchen. Three bedrooms and 2½-baths assure both privacy and convenience.

For information about construction blueprints for Convenient Living Design 986-W, and Portfolio E-1, a 16-page booklet illustrating this design and 19 other two-story homes, send 35¢ to: Home Planners, Inc., 16310 Grand River Ave., Detroit 27, Mich.

Chicago Skyway Map For 'Quick' Routing

The Chicago skyway has published a new "quick-routing" map to show motorists how they can best utilize the skyway when driving to or through Chicago.

The simplified map, designed so that it can be tucked on top of an auto sun-visor without folding is being distributed free at the skyway through car rental and other agencies.

It shows connections between the skyway and other major highways in the Chicago area.

The reverse side of the map spells out simple routing instructions including directions for the "quick route" between th skyway and downtown Chicago via Indiana or Michigan aves. and for the "scenic route" via Lake Shore dr.

James J. McDonough, manager of the Chicago skyway, said the map was developed to provide motorists with the simplest routing information possible. (BB

Dealers Selling School Supplies

Marathon service station dealers in the Chicago area are now offering to their customers timely bargains on "back-to-school" supplies. The bargain offer will continue for three weeks.

The following items are being made available for 89 cents each, with every purchase of seven gallons of Marathon gasoline:

WEEK OF August 30 through September 5—six Hytone "Big 25" pencil tablets, sold elsewhere for 25 cents each, totaling $1.50.

Week of September 6 through 12—an extra-large Hytone three-ring zipper notebook, normally sold for $2.

Week of September 13 through 19—a full ream (500 sheets) of ruled notebook paper, multi-punched to fit most binders, with "Name," "Date" and "Subject" printed in the upper right-hand corner for easy classroom reference. Usual price is $2.50.

Dealers point out that purchase of these school supplies at Marathon service stations offers customers a potential saving of $3.31 from the usual selling price on the three items.

THE "back-to-school" supplies can be obtained from Marathon dealers in Addison, Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Mt. Prospect, and Prospect Heights. (BB

Free Safety Flags Are Given Away

Residents served by Paddock publications will receive a free set of safety flags if they have their cars serviced in a local auto dealership belonging to the Northwest Suburban Automobile Dealers Association, Inc. before Labor day.

One flag is a replica of the United States flag, and the other is a bright red flag warning of the holiday alert "traffic condition red."

THE TWO SMARTLY-designed flags are made of durable plastic, suitable for mounting on the radio antenna of any automobile. The association will be giving the flags to customers at no cost to them.

Bill Cook, Arlington Heights auto dealer, is president of the association.

By Chamber of Commerce

Garage Men Warned On Auto Fraud

Don Hess, secretary of the Arlington Heights Chamber of Commerce, warned area garage and service station operators against fradulent traveling salesmen offering specialty automotive products.

Hess warned that these salesmen are especially active at this time of the year. "In a typical deal," Hess charged, "a salesman offers an unknown car polish, chrome restorer, puncture sealer, or other product on an 'exclusive' dealer franchise."

HE CONTINUED, "He may even include a money-back guarantee to the dealer on stock unsold, after a 60-day trial period. In some instances the salesman may promise to come back and initiate a sales campaign, in order to cinch a deal."

Hess stated that vendors of phony products are often able to swing a deal by giving a demonstration of how effective the product is. The demonstration may not be of the same product, or it may not perform in actual use.

Hess stated that, "Efforts to reach the salesman are often fruitless, because the address given is ficticious or is a mail drop. Instead of a tidy profit on the deal, the operator has some disatisfied customers, and some 'unusable' merchandise with which he is 'stuck.'"

HE WARNED garage operators and service station owners to avoid entering into contract with unknown vendors or unknown products, without first checking. "The vendor of questionable products who sells through misrepresentation relies on putting over the deal before his prospect has a chance to check on him," Hess concluded.

He suggested that all service station and garage owners give the Chamber of Commerce a call before buying products from a company of unknown reliability. BB

Editor Analyzes Suburban Media

The current trend for new magazine formats to create excitement in layout and to aid readability is reflected in the September issue of The Quill, magazine of Sigma Delta Chi, professional journalistic society.

This is the first issue to be published under direction of the new fulltime editor, Clarence O. Schlaver, 400 I-Oka, Mount Prospect.

FEATURED article of the issue is "Journalism Grows New Roots in the Suburbs," a searching analysis of this fastest-growing element of the American press. It is authored by Charles E. Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications, publishers of 14 suburban newspapers in northwest suburbs. Hayes resides at 605 N. Chestnut ave., Arlington Heights.

Other articles include "Print Deserves Better Packaging," a plea for a new, hard look in an impartial laboratory; "Save Some Words," a different approach on copy reading; and a report on the Northwestern university radio-TV symposisum.

THE REDESIGNED Quill reveals a different cover design with new logotype in color, presentation of feature articles in new column width, and liberal use of color throughout.

Other special features include a full-page photo of the month and a column by Emmett Peter Jr., crusading editor of the Leesburg, Fla., Daily Commercial.

Editorial offices of the Quill are at 35 E. Wacker dr., Chicago. (BB

Reynolds Metals Appoints Suburbanite to Top Post

RICHARD LUNAN

Richard G. Lunan, 532 Prindle st., Arlington Heights, has been appointed regional architectural and building products sales manager for Reynolds Metals company in the ten-state central sales region.

The announcement was made by H. N. Kirchdorfer, vice-president of Reynolds Aluminum Sales company, who stated that Lunan will be responsible for sales of Reynolds aluminum to fabricators of architectural and building products as well as the firm's own monumental, commercial, residential and farm building products in the region.

Born in Stronghurst, Ill., he was graduated from Soldan high school, St. Louis, Mo., and took his B. A. degree at Muskingum college, New Concord, O., in 1947.

HE WAS a manufacturer's agent and later sales manager of Industrial Lumber and Plywood company in Minneapolis before joining Reynolds as a building products salesman in Peoria in 1953.

Lunan has since served as building products sales representative in Milwaukee, zone manager in Chicago, divisional manager in Chicago and regional sales promotion manager.

He is a member of the National Sales Promotion Executives Association.

'Back to School' Bargains Slated

Marathon service station dealers in Northwest suburbs are now offering to their customers timely bargains on "back-to-school" supplies, according to local Marathon dealers. The bargain offer will continue for three weeks.

The following items are being made available for 89 cents each, with every purchase of seven gallons of Marathon gasoline:

Week of August 30 through September 5—six Hytone "Big 25" pencil tablets, sold elsewhere for 25c each, totaling $1.50.

Week of September 6 through 12—an extra-large Hytone 3-ring zipper notebook, normally sold for $2. The notebook measures 14 inches long, 10¼ inches wide, and 2¾ inches deep and includes a world map in color with flags of the United Nations on the front and back covers.

WEEK OF September 13 through 19—a full ream (500 sheets) of ruled notebook paper, multi-punched to fit most binders, with "Name," "Date" and "Subject" printed in the upper right-hand corner for easy classroom reference. Usual price is $2.50.

The dealers point out that purchase of these school supplies at Marathon service stations offers customers a potential saving of $3.31 from the usual selling price on the three items.

The "back-to-school" supplies can be obtained from Marathon dealers in Addison, Arlington Heights, Des Plaines, Glenview, Morton Grove, Mt. Prospect, Niles and Prospect Heights. (BB

Social Security Changes Affect Disabled Workers

Recent changes in the social security laws have made it possible for Paddock area residents to save benefits that they might otherwise miss.

Until several new amendments were signed, a worker with a severe disability of some years' standing had until June 30, 1961, to apply for his disability insurance payments. Those workers who delayed applying beyond that date could lose all rights to current and future benefits for themselves and dependents.

HOWEVER, the 1961 amendments have given such disabled workers an extra year to apply for benefits—or June 30, 1962. More than one-half million disabled workers under the age of 65 are now receiving monthly benefits.

To be eligible for disability insurance payments, a worker must have credit for at least five years' work under social security during the 10 years before his disability began. He must also be so severely disabled that he is unable to do any type of gainful employment.

Also, the disability must be of at least six months' duration and be expected to continue indefinitely.

ANOTHER RECENT amendment has increased the monthly disability payment to $40 from $33. Workers may now apply for social security benefits with fewer credits, too. Also, the earnings test has been liberalized.

Three main points stand out, however. The liberalizations in the social security program are going to cost money. Averaged over the foreseeable future, the cost will be amost 3/10 of one per cent of the pay roll check.

Directly or indirectly, the individual worker is going to pay the added cost. This program is not "free," and has been and will continue as a self-supporting institution.

BEGINNING January 1, 1962, social security tax rates will be going up from three to three and one-eighth per cent. Self employed workers will be asked to contribute four and one-half per cent to four and seven-eighths per cent.

These rates are expected to continue to rise in 1963, 1966, and 1968. By 1968, the contribution for an employee and employer will be four and five-eighths per cent and for a self-employed employee, six and nine-tenths per cent of the total pay roll. (BB

Des Plaines Leads In Retail Volume

City sales taxes collected in June on May tax liability by the Illinois Department of Revenue showed that Des Plaines led the parade in northwest suburbs.

Des Plaines merchants turned in a total of $19,128.31 for the month of May 1961. Arlington Heights merchants rated a close second with May tax receipts of $16,035.09.

Third in May was Mt. Prospect with tax receipts of $10,-179.63. In the fourth spot was Barrington with May receipts of $6,639.

OTHER NORTHWEST communities and their May sales tax receipts are: Rolling Meadows, $6,117.27; Bensenville, $5,-781.98; Palatine, $5,238.20; Wheeling, $3,593.89; Addison, $3,203.69; Roselle, $2,507.01; Itasca, $1,104.95; Wood Dale, $560.25; and Bloomingdale, $284.02.

City sales taxes grossed for the month of May totaled $4,-703,140 for all of the municipalities in the State and county taxes amounted to $283,327.

The tax collections from 1,126 cities and 56 counties represent a tax of one-half per cent on retail sales in municipalities and in parts of counties not in municipalities.

Bruning Appoints Okell To National Sales Post

Charles E. Okell has been appointed office systems promotion manager for Charles Bruning Co., Inc., to direct national sales development of the company's line of office copying equipment and sensitized materials, it was announced by the firm in Mt. Prospect.

Okell will help develop new markets and related promotion of products, working with Bruning's five regional headquarters offices and 47 branches throughout the nation, according to Fergus Stephen, marketing and promotion director.

FORMERLY southwestern regional promotion manager for the firm, he is a graduate of Coe college, Cedar Rapids, and joined Bruning in 1953 from Ford Motor Co., where he had been systems manager in the aircraft engine division.

Okell and his famiy are former residents of Prairie Village, Kans. (BB

Pure Oil Engineer Co-Authors Study

R. H. Moth, 702 S. Vail, Arlington Heights, is co-author of a paper entitled "Study of Gas Engine Performance Leads to Oil Development" which is to be presented before the Petroleum Division of the American Society of Mechanical Engineers, Sept. 25, at Kansas City, Mo.

Moth, an industrial lubrication engineer of the marketing division of the Pure Oil company, worked with E. W. Brennan of Pure's Research Center in Crystal Lake in preparing the report.

THE PAPER reports the development of a new gas engine oil which can be used in excess of 30,000 hours compared with the 2000-4000 hour use-life of previous oils. These oils, it is explained, lubricate such gas engines as those used in compressors which are used to transfer natural gas from producing fields to consumer areas.

Moth has been with Pure for 28 years. He has attended the Case Institute, Northwestern university and the University of Moscow. In addition to the current paper, he has also written several articles on lubrication and is the holder of several patents pertaining to engines and their lubrication. He is also active in the American Society of Lubrication Engineers and the National Lubricating Grease Institute. (BB

Editor to Participate In Workshop

Charles Hayes, executive editor of Paddock Publications, will address participants in the Lutheran Public Relations Workshop on Sept. 12 in St. Charles.

He will discuss "Your Neighborhood and Suburban Newspapers" at the workshop, first of its kind in the Chicago area.

Held under auspices of the Lutheran Public Relations Committee of the Lutheran Council of Greater Chicago, the workshop is designed to strengthen the impact of the church through Chicago area communications media.

Other speakers will include Richard Philbrick, religion editor of the Chicago Tribune; Dave Meade, religion editor of the Chicago Daily News; and Erik W. Modean, director of news bureau, division of public relations, National Lutheran Council, New York. (BB

Complete AICPA 2-Week Course

Two area men have recently completed a 2-week (July 31-August 11) post-graduate accounting course at Bowling Green State university. They are William Klabe, 1108 W. Northwest hwy., Arlington Heights, representing Putta and Kelsey, Barrington; and Thomas A. Schuette, 600 S. Wayne, Wheeling, with Alexander Grant & Co., Chicago.

The course, sponsored by the American Institute of Certified Public Accountants, was designed to aid participants in the transition from academic training to public practice, Louis W. Matusiak, director of professional development for AICPA, said.

Emphasis was on auditing, taxes and the legal and ethical responsibilities of the CPA, he added.

Woman Is Added To Sales Force

MRS. HOGARTY

Mrs. Muriel Hogarty, 511 S. Edward st., Mount Prospect, has been named to the sales force of the C. M. Behrens & Co. realtors, Arlington Heights.

She was on the staff of a Palatine real estate firm before her appointment to the Behrens firm. Mrs. Hogarty is active in local affairs, having lectured on flower arranging in the area. Some of her flower arrangements have appeared in national magazines.

OTHER activities in which she has been active are: member of the Prospect high teacher-parent council, Mount Prospect baseball for boys association, and the Mount Prospect Woman's club.

Mrs. Hogarty lives with her husband Thomas P., and her four sons, Ken, Mike, Jim, and Tom.

C. M. Behrens and co. have expanded their real estate department now to four full-time employees to service the Mount Prospect, Arlington Heights, and Palatine areas.

Area Bowman 'Old Timers'

Eleven Bowman Dairy company employees were formally initiated into the Bowman Old Timers club in honor ceremonies held in the company's general offices, 140 W. Ontario st., August 10.

Each has a continuous employment record of 25 years, and the group was welcomed into the Club by Francis H. Kullman Jr., Bowman President, after which a luncheon was given in honor of the new Old Timers.

The group included Nicholas P. Martin, 5 Prospect dr., Prospect Heights, manager of Bowman's Berteau body shop, Chicago and Norman F. Dennis, 402 N. Dryden, Arlington Heights, employed as bookkeeper.

Executive Is Feted at Lunch

John F. Boehner, 733 S. Walnut, Arlington Heights, was recently honored with a luncheon marking his 25th year with the General Adjustment Bureau. Boehner is assistant general manager at the Chicago office of the bureau, which is a claims adjusting organization for capital stock insurance companies.

At Texas

R. E. Evans, superintendent of construction with the Natural Gas Pipeline Company of America, Palatine, has completed a 2-week course of study in the Southern Gas association's management development program on the Texas A&I college campus.

The course, developed at Texas A&I by and for the natural gas industry, was limited to 36 men nominated by their respective companies. This year's class, eighth since the program was instituted in 1954, represented 14 states.

A&I Study

Inspection trips to industry installations near Kingsville and in the Lower Rio Grande Valley were made in the course of the management group's study here. In charge of the course was Dr. F. H. Dotterweich, director of Texas A&I's division of engineering. (BB

Flowering Trees Are Recommended

Today's flowering trees well deserve the accolade of the lazy man's tree!

On the upbeat in public favor, such trees as the flowering apple, Japanese cherry and the dogwood constitute choice landscaping, offering a big bonus for the busy suburbanite or even the city dweller.

ONCE STARTED, they seem to thrive on the home grounds with little more than an occasional feeding, points out D. B. Magruder, field representative of the Davey Tree Expert company.

Up until recent years, flowering trees ran into a psychological roadblock. Home owners seemed adverse to such plantings, probably thinking of the arduous task of keeping flowering shrubs in check.

Now there is a growing awareness that nursery people have done the hard part in taming flowering trees before they are offered for sale and that most of them require very little pruning.

Once the flowering landscape pets are in, the tree lover often inclines to another extreme. He's apt to leave them untouched for fear of damaging them. However, there are a few minor chores along maintenance lines that make for backyard convenience and pleasure.

FOR INSTANCE, it may be desirable to remove one or two lower branches to "raise" the flowering tree. This will permit easier lawn mowing or the planting of ground covers beneath the branch spread. Suckers, waterspouts, and abundant twigs in heavily shaded sections also require removal.

These growths detract from tree beauty while robbing the host plant of growing vigor. In any event, these relatively simple pruning chores hardly hold a sliver to the more drastic cutting required of flowering shrubs.

Other flowering specimens, such as red bud, mountain ash, hawthorn, and Franklinia also flourish with the same kind of occasional snip here and there.

Avis Seat Belts In All '62 Cars

Officers of the national Avis Rent-A-Car system announced recently that all 1962 rental autos will have a set of seat belts installed in them.

Fred C. Dumaine Jr., stated that the "primary objective of our firm is to provide all users of our fleet with maximum safety on the highways."

MANY STATES now require that all cars have seat belts installed. The state of New York, for instance, has required that all new 1962 automobiles must have anchorages for seat belts.

Safety engineers have estimated that seat belts have saved the lives of more than 5000 persons annually. They have reduced by a third more than a million injuries attributed to auto accidents. (BB

New Account System Set At St. Paul

St. Paul Federal Savings and Loan association's customers are now benefiting by a new concept in handling additions and withdrawals from their accounts, according to Frank P. Kosmach, president of the association at 6700 W. North ave., Chicago.

Beginning in June, St. Paul put all new accounts on personalized savings slips, which carry the customer's own account number encoded in magnetic ink. Then gradually, all the Association's customers are being put on the same system, which is designed to give the utmost speed and accuracy.

THE ODD-SHAPED figures on each savings slip have been specially designed to be read and processed by electronic sorters, computers, and printers.

For this reason, as a customer's account is switched to the new system, the Association is asking that he destroy all previous slips that he may have in his possession and that he use only the new slips.

Herb Weihs Observes Anniversary

Herbert Weihs, 622 Bayer dr., Palatine, was featured in the Flick-Reedy corp. publication publication for his progress with the company in the last 20 years. After graduating from Lane Technical high school, he applied for work at the plant on Kedzie ave.

His first job was as a machine operator. When Flick-Reedy corp. entered the cylinder business in 1945, Weihs was assigned to the assembly department. As this business grew he was given the responsibility of foreman of the assembly department. Today, that department has grown in the numbers and quantity of cylinders produced.

THE COMPANY offers many activities in which Weihs takes part, such as National Metal Trades assn. supervisory courses, archery club, bowling, driver improvement, economics, practical politics and public affairs programs.

Weihs is active in community, civic and political affairs. An interest in sports prompted him to take active interest and later to be elected as park commissioner in his community, Lake Park Estates. The Weihs family is also active in the St. Paul Evangelical church.

Married for 14 years, Weihs and his wife Barbara have two children, Claudia and Judy.

The Christian Way

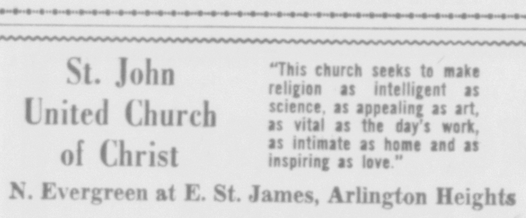
By Rev. Don L. Jones, Pastor, The Christian Church of Arlington Heights

An individual is freed from destructive self-centeredness only through worship and fellowship. In worship he centers his thoughts on God. In fellowship he centers them on other people. Having done this, he may love himself properly without egoism or selfishness.

Jesus never mentioned self-love except in connection with the love of God and the love of neighbor. Self-love is destructive when that connection is broken. So "find a church where through workship and fellowship one is united in love with God and man and thus delivered from self destruction.

Join us this Sunday at Miner Junior High School, Miner & Dryden. Church school 9 a.m., Worship 10 a.m. Phone CLearbrook 9-4155.



LABOR DAY

The coming holiday reminds us that we have achieved greatness as a nation through strength of arm and sweat of brow.

Let us never forget the dignity of honest labor.

Q. At an informal dinner, where there is no maid, who is responsible for starting a particular dish around the table?
A. The person or guest nearest that dish.

Q. How do the bridesmaids carry their sheaves of flowers?
A. If they are walking two abreast, those on the right hold their flowers on their right arms, the stems pointing downward to the left — and those on the left hold them in their left arms, stems pointing down to the right. Bouquets or baskets, however, are held in the front.

Q. When eating a soft-fried egg, is it all right to put a small piece of bread on the end of the fork and use this to dip up the yolk?
A. This is quite all right.

OBITUARIES

Maude Arneman

After several months of illness, Mrs. Maude Arneman of Arlington Heights passed away August 23 in her home at 1031 S. State rd.

Funeral services were held August 26 in the Lauterburg and Oehler funeral home with Rev. Stumpf officiating. Interment was in Memory Gardens cemetery.

Mrs. Arneman was born in Marshalltown, Iowa and in 1921 she married Paul Arneman. The couple came to Arlington Heights in 1925.

Besides her husband, she leaves a sister, Beatrice Sliver of St. Paul. (B9

The Way We See It

Boss Rule Choking Democratic Party

News of recent weeks bears an ill omen for the Democratic party in Illinois and, in the process, the state itself. One occurence which casts doubt on the Democratic party's ability to even hold its already tenuous confidence with the public is the departure to California of Joseph D. Lohman.

Lohman, whose record as state treasurer pales that of all his predecessors in excellence, goes west to become dean of the department of criminology of the University of California. Perhaps it is only conjecture on our part, but we think he leaves with the exceedingly bad taste in his mouth of party politics.

Lohman, who left the University of Chicago campus to enter public life, also earned considered praise from Virgil Peterson of the Chicago Crime Commission; he was the best Cook county sheriff (1954-58) in Peterson's 16 years of residency here.

Lohman joins the exodus of the best political minds from the state. Stephen A. Mitchell, one of the standard bearers among Stevensonian "egg heads," has taken up residence in New Mexico. Stevenson himself is U.S. ambassador to the United Nations, a prestigious position but one which some critics feel exiles him from the centers of political power and policy-making.

The blue-ribbon candidates who have remained faithful to the party organization have either accommodated some of their ideals to the grim reality of the present situation or have become adroit at intellectual gymnastics.

Two names come to mind in this context. U.S. Senator Paul Douglas is still the thunderer for idealism from the banks of the Potomac, but his public utterances within hearing distance of city hall are a somewhat diluted and subdued substance of the old vitriol he concocted as the Hyde Park rebel.

Even more disappointing is Gov. Otto Kerner, whose dexterity in sidestepping issues is beginning to make it appear that he reacts only when the puppeteer pulls a string.

That the best elements in the Democratic party are either leaving for more bracing air or have been compromised is cause for serious reflection.

Another manifestation of the malady is the recent Paddock Publications poll inquiring into Illinois editors' choice of Democratic candidates to oppose GOP incumbent Everett M. Dirksen for his U.S. Senate seat in the 1962 general election.

The majority of editors declared a preference for a youthful maverick, Illinois Rep. Paul Simon of Troy, whose independent stands in the General Assembly have not endeared him to the Democratic machine. Simon, who was first elected to the legislature in 1953 over the opposition mustered by gambling interests in Madison county, has demonstrated that his development has not been arrested by the common tendency to become a prisoner of political platitudes.

Of significance, however, is that the editors cast a decisive vote for Simon over Illinois Speaker of the House Paul Powell, who is said to be Chicago Mayor Richard J. Daley's choice.

That opposition will continue to swell against Daley's desire to handpick all Democratically-slated candidates is to be devoutly wished. But that this protest has not as yet made an appearance is one of the political phenomena of the times.

We do not quarrel with party organization. We do take exception to the one-man rule imposed on the organization so that its is a political party in the democratic tradition in name only. It is not allowed its proper function of selecting candidates through the will of its members.

A candidate should offer more credentials for office than the blessings of the boss. He should be able to represent the principles and aspirations of the the rank and file of Democratic voters.

That these principles and aspirations are not even taken into account is the real tragedy. Consideration is only given to consolidation and expansion of the Cook county machine's power and influence, which in so doing, feeds the prestige and ego of one man.

The appointment of Francis Lorenz as Lohman's successor is a travesty. But the manner in which the Democratic majority of the Cook county board of commissioners fumbled about waiting for the word to come from city hall as to who would succeed Lorenz as county treasurer is a regular burlesque.

Whoever Boss Daley decrees to oppose Dirksen will carry into battle with him the stigma of being the stooge of Chicago's puppeteer. The odds of his winning with such a handicap are similar to a sandlot team's chances against the Chicago Bears.

As the best lights of the Democratic party are dimmed, all that is corrupt, bureaucratic and self-serving about the machine nourishes in the dark. All this is encouraging to Republicans, but reason for despair among believers in the democratic process.

Walter Popjoy's Counsel In Zoning Will Be Missed

More than any other man, Walter T. Popjoy was identified with the Cook county zoning board of appeals. Long familiar to the northwest suburban area where much of the zoning board's work arose, he was responsible as secretary for maintaining a liaison with various village boards and civic organizations.

And as much as any member, Popjoy reinforced the belief that the zoning board could be counted on for maintaining the integrity of zoning in the county.

Popjoy performed the dual function of secretary and member of the zoning board, and it is doubtful if any successor to these unique duties will be found. Andrew J. Dallstream, zoning board chairman, anticipates that these functions will be divided between two men in the future.

Even the task of finding a replacement for Popjoy, who died suddenly Wednesday, August 23, is one of imposing proportions. The reason the zoning board recommended in 1952 that Popjoy be named a member of the board was because he became so "proficient" in zoning affairs, Chairman Dallstream noted.

More important, Popjoy maintained throughout the manner and attitude of a professional. "He never let politics influence what he thought was right. He often took the unpopular view against the politicians," Dallstream pointed out. The extreme difficulty of such uncompromising integrity becomes apparent when one is aware that he was sometimes staking his very job on a decision.

But Popjoy enjoyed the confidence of political powers and property owners, whose rights he helped to protect. As secretary and member of the Cook county rural building regulations committee, he was one of the authors of the county's present building ordinance, a text which takes into account county zoning matters for years to come.

Walter Popjoy's untimely death occurred at 56. His presence and counsel in county affairs will be sorely missed. We must join Chairman Dallstream in his observation that "the county has lost a very able servant."

'Whadda Y' Mean, Candidate Shortage?"

Trib to Face Clumsy Task

by DICK HOFFMANN

"The World's Greatest Newspaper," by its own measure, recently adopted a rather curious editorial standard. Hereafter, the Chicago Tribune will report "Among the Best Sellers" in its Sunday Magazine of Books supplement, instead of under the heading "Best Selling Books in the Midwest."

The Tribune explained this subtle shift in wording in an editorial of August 13: "We have come to the conclusion that we can no longer publish this list raw. Recently and tardily, we have become aware that some of the best sellers that have appeared on our lists were sewer-written by dirty-fingered authors for dirty-minded readers. We aren't going to further this game by giving publicity to such authors and their titles."

TIME MAGAZINE reported that the recent and tardy decision to alter the Trib's book list came as a result of the paper's editor reading some of the best sellers while laid up in the hospital.

Robert Cromie, Tribune book editor, however, says it will be policy to review objectionable books as a means of informing the public. The newspaper is also reserving the right to reject advertising of books it deletes from its "among the best sellers" compilation.

Therefore, it appears that those readers who actually trouble to read the reviews will not be deprived of the knowledge of what's been printed. The group that will have to go elsewhere to discover the weekly positioning of best sellers are the persons who take their papers instantly, like coffee, tea or precooked TV dinners.

ONE OF THE obvious erasures from the best seller list was Henry Miller's "Tropic of Cancer," whose publication was only recently permitted in this country (it is Miller's first work, appearing in Paris in 1934).

There seems to be some disagreement among critics as to whether Miller's initial writing venture constitutes pornography, or as the Tribune views the subject, is "sewer-written." But then literary critics are never as positive in these matters as are customs inspectors, postmasters, or even editors.

In Miller's instance, the problem is framed by George Orwell, author of "1984" and "Animal Farm," in this manner: "When Henry Miller's novel, 'Tropic of Cancer,' appeared . . . it was greeted with rather cautious praise, obviously conditioned in some cases by a fear of seeming to enjoy pornography."

YET ORWELL showed no caution in his praise of the work. He further observed: "The callous coarseness with which the characters in 'Tropic of Cancer' talk is very rare in fiction, but it is extremely common in real life; again and again I have heard just such conversations from people not even aware that they were talking coarsely . . ."

The Tribune, in dispatching the book list to the cleaners (the title of the editorial was "Sent to the Cleaner"), produced this justification: "Otherwise respectable bookmen have comforted themselves after publishing the stinkers by telling themselves that the fault lies with the readers who crave this kind of thing. We, too, have been deceiving ourselves with the notion that what the publishers publish and what the booksellers sell in largest volume are facts to be recorded by us, like changes in the stock market and batting averages, because people are interested in them."

No matter how you look at it, the country's best sellers are facts; in fact, rather interesting facts when one considers them a barometer of the public reading tastes. Ignoring the fact that this appetite is jaded or insatiable for literary lust or prefers Spillane to Spinoza will not change it.

IT APPEARS that the Tribune has ventured into that area which seems the special prerogative of the courts; that is, the determination of whether a particular body (if you'll excuse the metaphor) of print appeals to the prurient interests.

One also wonders how, applying this standard, the Tribune will be able to continue its reports of rape in-depth. The newspaper has never betrayed any squeamishness in listing the facts of violence done to a woman's virtue.

The detail with which such crimes are reported, down to what was done with which garments and undergarments, one could argue, more than appeals to the prurient interests — in addition to any number of unhealthy minds.

APPARENTLY THE Tribune has the notion that people are interested in the particulars of rape, like changes in the stock market and batting averages. I'm not suggesting that such crimes of passion should not be reported. A newspaper should keep its readership informed of such grim occurrences. For only if the public has knowledge of mental aberrations, avarice, and other occasions of illness can it organize opinion to seek solutions.

In the meantime, the Trib might give some thought to cleaning up the press room. As all newsmen know, pressmen have a gift for reducing all dialogue to Old English epithets.

America's Leadership Role Outlined by Top Officials

by STUART R. PADDOCK
Editor-in-Chief

A foreign policy briefing conference for 500 newspaper, magazine, radio and TV men was held August 14-15 at Washington, D. C., in the State Department building, which is larger than either the Pentagon or the Merchandise Mart.

The conference covered the foreign policy of the United States. Speakers included 20 officials of the State department and President John F. Kennedy.

Among the officials were Secretary of State Dean Rusk; the Assistant Secretaries of State in charge of European affairs, Far Eastern affairs, Inter-American affairs, economic affairs, and International Organization affairs; the deputy secretary of defense; chairman of the Joint Chiefs of Staff; director of the operations center; advisor to the President; U. S. chairman to the Conference on the Discontinuance of Nuclear Tests; special assistant to the Secretary of State; Under Secretary of State; Secretary of Commerce; and deputy director of the United States Information agency.

IN ALL, they represented the "big brass" of American government. The conference was conducted as a "background" session. Participants were free to publish any information presented by briefing officers, without attributing it to the speakers or to the special agency they represented.

Under such rules, the statements made in these articles are based on what was said by the speakers, and in some cases are the replies that were given during question and answer periods which followed each speaker.

Foreign policy covers a lot more than the recurring crises that so frequently and so suddenly put in appearances throughout the world.

THE LATEST of these appeared on the morning of the opening session of the briefing we attended — the closing of Berlin.

The situation in Berlin has deepened the world crisis. No war ever possessed greater danger. Berlin is the vital center of a possible world conflict. Today, it is the first line of defense in the morale of NATO countries. The West is faced around the world by reckless expansion providing a grimness that must be acknowledged.

A world society depends upon an understanding between nations.

Eventually, a German leader is going to rise up and bring about a unification of Berlin.

KHRUSHCHEV IS trying to persuade us that he would go to war. The U. S. must persuade him that we are not going to accept his terms. The U. S. will never be a party to the blocking of access to a free world.

We were told that the first problem facing our statesmen is how to get an accurate picture of what has happened or is about to happen.

Newsmen in that opening session were told frankly that the Berlin situation was serious — tremendously so. But with reports from each successive speaker, the danger of a "shooting war" over Berlin became less and less.

The experts said that in reality the Soviets do not want and can not afford a war any more than the United States does.

THE GREATEST single problem in the world today is the growth of Soviet power, which covers 8.5 million square miles — double that of the U. S.

No country since 1917 has been able to maintain normal relations with Russia. Yet today it is the second industrial power in the world.

In 1940, Russia was producing 18.3 million tons of steel. In 1960 its steel production was 60 million tons.

The Soviets were blamed for the failure of disarmament efforts. They walked out on peace conferences on five different occasions.

THE STATE Department admitted that it has made mistakes, but its spokesmen claimed that when they made errors, they were prompt about admitting them.

We received the impression, however, that there is a lack of coordination between various branches of the State Department. A newly-organized department is supposed to keep all other departments informed on what is happening, a sort of "communication orderly."

One speaker said frankly that errors and delays made in dispatching information to various departments were due to inadequate correlation. He suggested creation of a new department which would report directly to the President.

DURING THE past century, the U. S. has been at war three times. There has been no war in the last decade, although there have been many situations which would have provoked a war in older days.

African affairs received considerable attention. The department revealed some of the whys and wherefores of its action or non-action.

Africa has been undergoing an economical and social change, with much sociological and political unrest. In these nations, the average income is as low as $75 a year. In some countries, it reaches $750. These nations are asking the world for acceptance as nations. They are growing rapidly, which has led to political unrest and revolutionary-type upheaval.

Non-intervention has been the policy of our government since its formation. This explains why our troops are not today occupied in "police action" in various parts of the world.

WE ARE bending our efforts to raise the prestige of our democracy by raising the economy of smaller countries. It is better and wiser to spend our money in assistance to undeveloped countries than to force democracy on them.

A display of force, or active participation in Africa, would in the judgment of our government throw countries into the arms of the communists. Once communism comes into control, totalitarianism takes over and it will be hard to get communists out.

We exert efforts to get the near-communist countries on the side of democracy. U. S. aid helps to sell them on democracy. We do not approve of the action of the African chieftain in having 100 wives, but we want him to be on the side of democracy.

AMERICAN INTEREST is involved in the differences between Tunis, Algeria, and France. The State Department is working quietly behind the scenes. It is not inactive.

Members of the newly-formed Peace Corps are destined for Tunis as well as other countries in the world. In addition to economic aid, the countries need technical know-how to help in their development.

Religion Prosperous But Less Effective

By MARTIN E. MARTY

Evidently the 1960's will be given over to the analysis of the religious revival of the 1950's. So far this year I have read at least six studies by sociologists who were totally unimpressed by what went on in the decade when religious statistics were so impressive.

The latest of these is a paperback book, The Noise of Solemn Assemblies, by Peter Berger (Doubleday Paperback, $1.75). He subtitles it "Christian Commitment and the Religious Establishment in America."

HIS TITLE comes from a word in the prophecy of Amos, where God says, "I hate, I despise your feasts, and I take no delight in your solemn assemblies."

Berger, a professor at Hartford Seminary foundation, in the name of a profound interest in the Christian faith and its survival, casts a long and weary look at the evidences of a national faith.

He deals with this apparent contradiction: the more popular and prosperous American religion becomes, the less effect it has on national life and ethics.

RELIGION has been needed and used to quiet anxieties, to justify our way of life, but not to change us. It is used to support the least ethical, least vital parts of our culture. Berger does not write to shock—we've had enough of that; nor should one read him just to share organized religion's current miseries. Rather, he is to be read for what help he might offer.

His answer is a complex one. He asks why religious groups are so often the least responsive, least pace-setting, least ethical agencies in a community; why, ordinarily, do they represent a heightening of race and class prejudice, institutional selfishness and self-enhancement, esthetic cheapness, etc.

He answers: they are the most culturally captive agencies. Why, when one really wants to achieve something in the line of justice, art, etc., must he feel it necessary to disassociate himself from organized religion.

I HAD a strange and surprised feeling of involvement after I had picked up the book; both its subtitle and its final argument were based on a book I had written.

His complaint: I was not radical enough; I was too conservative, too hopeful. (I know a few people who, I hope, will take note of that). Somewhere I had written that America had the institutions it needed for renewal, for example, in its parishes.

Berger thinks this to be wishful. New forms, new agencies, new institutions must be born. Parishes have a certain role: they can carry on the liturgy, can tend the sick, etc. But they are too much hand-in-glove with the culture to change it.

Berger says that people should enter "organized religion" in the parishes the way they undertake other vocations in which the difficulty of the Christian life is seen: medical missionaries, nurses, monastics, might be examples.

MAYBE HE is right; what do you think? Why not take his book and discuss it in a circle at your church or—if unchurched—in your circle of friends. He may be right: but I would still like to look for renewal in local parishes; gains there would have great significance. Here and there there are evidences of such renewal. Here is a problem we can do something about where we are. It would be good if the sociologists of the 1970's had something other to report on.

Noise Crises In Apartments

More and more citizens are finding it expedient to reside in apartments. The rents are high! Let's remember that the tenant does pay his share of the real estate tax in the high rent he pays.

But what does the renter contend with in any of the apartments in the northwest suburban area?

He moves into one of the new, so-called deluxe apartments eager to enjoy it and to be a good neighbor.

But what bitter disappointment awaits him! He discovers that the floors between the apartments are not sound-proof — but in many instances are of — and insulated with — substances which are actually conductors of sound.

Then he discovers that his overhead neighbors use one of the bedrooms as an auxiliary office — and arises by 5 a.m. — with the female of the species often clicking around at this hour in spike heels on uncarpeted floors sounding like a tribe doing the war dance.

If one has never experienced this, let me say it is torture to be shocked out of one's sleep at such an hour. And no one will dispute that it can be damaging to one's health.

Or in the case of a friend, whose upstairs neighbors are bowling fans and return home late at night and drop their balls and equipment with great vim and vigor.

NOW IT would seem that if we are so determined and so bent upon overcoming all the obstacles in order to make a "try" for the moon, we should certainly be able to first build an apartment building that is soundproof, in order that each tenant may live his life peacefully and equally with his neighbors and not be disturbed by them.

Next, each apartment dweller must be made to realize that he is NOT living in his own home, that he cannot do as he pleases but must first consider the other tenants. Of course, noisy parties until 4 o'clock in the morning are likewise taboo.

In many areas of the country, apartment owners are demanding that tennants who live upstairs must cover all walking areas with rugs. And this is not expecting too much out of respect for those who must reside on the lower floors.

ALONG WITH the crusade to cut down apartment noise there is also the matter of loud plumbing and the matter of parking areas usually under the bedroom windows, adding to the noise as well as filling the bedrooms with monoxide exhaust.

These matters have to be corrected if apartment owners wish to keep their apartments rented. Many apartments are now vacant because people just cannot tolerate their noise and bad construction.

In this so-called Space Age, we certainly can expect such a small commodity as a soundproof apartment; and if we can't, let's forget about the moon and set about putting our house in order on earth.

A Victim of Apartment Noise

Raps Veto Of Go-Karts

I just finished reading an article in the Palatine Enterprise about the board refusing to even vote on a rezoning of the Quentin and Baldwin road section for the Go Kart track, and being just out of my teens and a former resident of Palatine I would like to voice my opinion on the subject.

What does Palatine have against its youth? When I was in school, the Junior Women's club of Palatine presented us with a check of some $500 toward a youth center, and to my knowledge, it is still lying in the Palatine National bank.

NOW ANOTHER facility of recreation for the youth has been vetoed. I say we should have more Ray Metzlers in Palatine.

Many village trustees have children of their own. Do they feel that Palatine has offered them anything to keep them out of trouble?

I hope they can see my point of view and that of many others.

Art Editor's Column Praised

I've enjoyed your articles concerning art, artists' and showings very much.

Your newspaper should be congratulated for giving space each week for your writing. (Ed. Note: Lucille Ernst, contributing art editor.)

As you know, the educating of the public in the suburbs is a painstaking job, when it comes to showing the value of buying original art work, however, your provocative and satiric (sometimes) thoughts should certainly stimulate action.

I was particularly interested in your latest article concerning the Village Gallery in Barrington, Illinois. Hooray for Mrs. Zeigler—she is performing a real service.

I paint water-colors and my husband paints in oils and does beautiful pen and ink drawings.

I've joined the Countryside Art League and hope to give as well as to gain something from the association.

Could you, in your column, tell how to go about having our work shown in this Barrington Gallery? I don't know if you just walk in and ask them to look at the work, or if there is some other method.

At any rate, I appreciate your column very much and please keep up the essential work.

Youth Services Led by Scouts

I was encouraged to read an editorial this week about the efforts of communities to help their youth before they get in trouble. I would point out, however, that the organizations cited are late-comers on the scene. Their much needed services are supplemental to other groups which might be worth a sentence in future editorials.

One of the earliest groups in any community is the Boy Scouts of America. This movement, dedicated to character building, citizenship training, and physical fitness, is usually right on the heels of the churches and schools in any new community. Its front line leadership is made up of dedicated volunteers who are concerned about our youth. The Northwest Suburban Council of the Boy Scouts has almost 3,500 volunteer adults in the 14 major communities it services. Dependent entirely on voluntary public funds for operation, over 10,000 Cub Scouts, Boy Scouts, and Explorers benefit from the concern of their elders.

I would not belittle these other community organizations. Actually, the Boy Scouts cooperate with any worthy endeavor to build solid character in our boys. Indeed, I am quite glad to see the attention to the problem given in the editorial. Perhaps more adults will be motivated to personally help their youth, not just to pay somebody else to take their own responsibility.

Letters to the Editor

Conscience Must be Educated To Sense of Social Justice

Last week's letter on conservatism by Carol Van Heltebrake was directed, I thought, against the growth of government as regards its functions, regulations and authority.

There should be a distinction first of all between the ideal we are aiming at and the actual performance. The article seemed to decry both, but did not formulate any principles.

Many people have dedicated their lives to the cause of better government. One of the early well known public figures was Confucius who with great courage, with moderation, and persuasion taught and inspired his followers with the philosophy that rulers and government exist for the sake of the people. He based his system on the nature of the human being, that the individual never exists quite separately from society, that all men are essentially equal, and that all desire happiness.

In our day there is a social teaching which holds that the state exists for the common good and that a harmonious balance of socialization with private enterprise and individual effort and with group effort will promote the most favorable development of the human personality. As regards economic growth and wealth, these arise not only from savings, natural resources, and means of production but also and more so from a redistribution according to justice.

One such economic goal would be to eliminate the inequalities between the agricultural, industrial and service sectors of our economy. Another goal is to make wage earners sharers in some manner of ownership, or management, or profits. Private ownership of goods and property is a necessity to guarantee freedom and provide incentive. But its effective distribution among all social classes must be insisted upon. Ownership by the state and its agencies should extend only where real necessity and the common good require it.

The importance of a proper social order stems not only from a population explosion, but also from the rapid and profound changes in transportation, communication, discoveries in nuclear energy, in chemistry, the change to automation in industry, mechanization in agriculture, establishment of social security and old age pensions. The means to obtain a proper social order are the education of one's conscience to a sense of justice, and a sense of responsibility and Christian brotherhood.

Unmarked Car Serves Purpose

Disservice to the community is evident in the editorial by Stuart Paddock in his Editors Column when he warns motorists to beware the unmarked car with raised hood as it is a police car with radar device.

True, he mentions that it is a safety measure to remove drivers who are jeopardizing the lives of others, but he does it with such a "tongue in cheek" manner, having warned motorists to beware that it becomes tantamount to mockery. While I do not condone the use of unmarked police cars in chasing cars I do not feel it unfair to use one to signal a properly marked police car of an offenders approach.

PERHAPS Mr. Paddock, if you tried driving the tollways with your family in the car while those speed demons cut in and out, you'd be more appreciative of the efforts of the police to control them. Your editorial is comparable to aiding and abetting law breakers. Let's help the police, not hinder them.

From what I've seen of the Elk Grove police, they need all of the help they can get.

'Four-Eared' Corn Oddity

I saw a picture of a two-headed cabbage in one of the daily newspapers the other day.

This evening, while husking some sweet corn for dinner, I was surprised to come across a "four-eared" corn. Isn't this unusual? Perhaps it isn't, but I've never seen one like this before and wonder if anyone else has.

WORD STUDY

"Use a word three times and it is yours." Let us increase our vocabulary by mastering one word each day. Words for this lesson:

EXIGENCY; urgency; necessity; need. (Accent FIRST syllable). "The present exigency might have been averted, had we been more provident."

DETERMINATE; decisive. "Diligence is a determinate factor of his success."

DETERRENT; that which prevents (Accent second syllable). "The news acted as a deterrent to their plans."

DE TROPE; too much or too many; superfluous. (Pronounce dee-troh, accent second syllable). "I felt decidely de trope."

BAROQUE; fantastic; grotesque. (Pronounce bah-roke, accent second syllable). "Baroque sculpturing ornamented the facade of the building."

CONCINNITY; internal harmony or fitness; mutual adaption of parts; elegance. (Pronounce kawn-sin-i-ti; accent second syllable). "There should be concinnity throughout a speech in the selection and correlation of points."

DuPage Fair Was Success

The 1961 beautiful DuPage County Fair is over. The animals, large and small, have been removed and returned to their farm homes, or in many cases, transported to yet another fair — Kane County — or the state fair in Springfield.

The cakes and cookies have been eaten. The dresses returned to their owners' closets.

The tents are folded. The last of the unsightly empty popcorn boxes has been cleared away. Only the fair association's permanent buildings remain on the large fairgrounds at Manchester road and County Farm road near Wheaton.

IT IS TIME for credits and thank-yous. Topping the list here are our many excellent local newspapers.

Thanks to your complete coverage of this county-wide event we not only broke all previous records, but succeeded in disseminating important information to DuPage residents.

Behind each of our 1700 4-H club boys and girls are several times that number of adults . . . parents and devoted leaders. Behind them are the county organizations of the Farm Adviser's and the Home Adviser's offices. Supporting these vital services is our Illinois University Extension Service.

Although all persons concerned with the annual county fair fully appreciate the support received from these sources, the general public still relies upon newspapers such as yours for information.

WERE IT possible to do so, a long, long list of credits would also be recorded naming the many businesses, groups and individuals donating so freely of their time, money and talents toward the county fair.

We hope that you will help us extend to them, through the columns of your paper, the appreciation of the DuPage County Fair Association.

And once again, may we thank you for the excellent coverage the fair received from your staff?

With your continued help, we pledge to make the 1962 fair even larger, better and more completely representative of our Beautiful DuPage county.

Ted Schramer, President
DuPage County Fair Association

Respite For '900' Salad Maker: Baking Holiday Cake, Cookies

How would you like to make 900 salads? It's all in a day's work for Mrs. Herman F. Koeneman of Arlington Heights, who prepares all of the salad for lunches served at Arlington high school.

However, experienced as she is at salad making, this good cook did not choose a salad recipe to share with us today.

"When it comes to salads, I'm used to working in quarts and gallons, not family-size measurements," said Mrs. Koeneman. "And the salads we make at school are not designed for glamour but for nutrition as well as popular appeal for the teenagers."

"WE FIND that simple salads, such as a molded jello, tossed salad or peaches with cottage cheese are favorites with the students," she continued. "They especially like red jello, and we dress it up with cream cheese rosettes or other garnish."

But in her own kitchen Mrs. Koeneman enjoys all types of cooking and baking, and in just another month this enterprising and ambitious cook will begin her holiday baking.

"In October I start making pound cakes and cookies for Christmas giving and entertaining," said Mrs. Koeneman. "The Pound Cake and Pecan Roll Cookies are two recipes my children like best, and they never fail."

"THE POUND cake is relatively easy and inexpensive to prepare, is a moist cake and will keep well," she declared.

Mrs. Koeneman makes several cakes at a time and pops them into the freezer. Then to serve, she simply defrosts one and either sprinkles it with powdered sugar, frosts it or serves it with ice cream or strawberries and whipped cream.

This tasty cake is versatile, too, for Mrs. Koeneman often changes its texture and flavor by adding chopped nuts and coconut.

The pound cake looks most attractive and appealing when, wrapped as a gift, it is surrounded by this good cook's pecan roll cookies.

SIMPLE TO make, the cookie dough is mixed together, formed into rolls and wrapped in waxed paper. The rolls can be stored in the freezer, then sliced thin and baked when needed.

For the holiday season, Mrs. Koeneman makes them in October and bakes them in December, but they are good any time of the year. Sprinkled with powdered sugar, these dainty cookies are fragile in appearance and delicious to taste.

Forward-looking cooks will especially appreciate these two recipes which can be made far in advance of the Christmas rush and be thoroughly enjoyed during the holiday season.

IN ADDITION to her culinary interests, this capable cook has been active in several organizations. A retired den mother and Girl Scout leader, Mrs. Koeneman is now a Cub Scout committee member and is active in the PTA and St. James Women's guild.

The Koeneman family lives at 908 N. Fernandez in Arlington Heights. They have two daughters, Sharon, 18, and Karen, 17, who both attend the University of Louisville, Kentucky, and two sons, Kenneth, 12, and Kevin, 8.

EASY AND INEXPENSIVE to prepare and delicious to taste is the versatile pound cake which Mrs. Herman F. Koeneman of Arlington Heights is serving to her two sons, Kevin and Kenneth. This good cook starts baking pound cakes in October and stores them in the freezer for Christmas giving and entertaining. As the above picture illustrates, this cake makes a big hit with children, too, and is a Koeneman family favorite.

POUND CAKE

1 cup butter or margarine
1 cup sugar
5 eggs
1 teaspoon vanilla
1 teaspoon lemon extract or grated rind of 1 lemon
2 cups sifted flour
1 teaspoon baking powder

Cream butter and sugar together thoroughly. Add eggs and beat for about five minutes. Blend in flavorings. Sift flour and baking powder together and beat into batter.

Pour into a greased and floured loaf pan and bake in 350 degree oven for one hour.

The cake may be frosted, sprinkled with powdered sugar or served with whipped cream and strawberries.

PECAN ROLL COOKIES

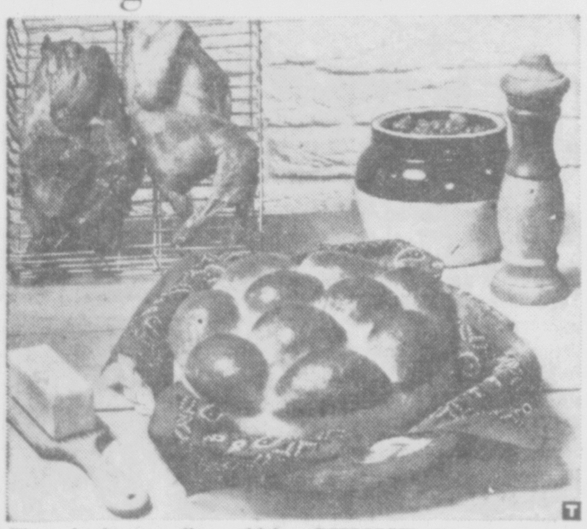
1 cup butter or margarine
4 tablespoons sugar
2 cups flour
1 teaspoon vanilla
2 cups crushed walnuts or pecans

Cream butter and sugar together thoroughly; blend in vanilla. Beat in flour and add the chopped nuts.

Form dough into rolls, wrap in waxed paper and refrigerate or freeze until firm.

Slice thin and bake in a 350 degree oven, watching carefully until light brown, 6 to 9 minutes. Sprinkle with powdered sugar. (SH

Barbecue Rolls Win Top Baking Contest Laurels



These barbecue rolls — which can double indoors as dinner rolls—are a good example of a prize-winning fair award recipe. Baked by Mrs. Henry J. Hanson, they won the very special Fleischmann's Yeast Best-of-Show award at the Black Hills (South Dakota) exposition.

This year will again find women all over America entering yeast baking contests at many state and county fairs—competing for that coveted Fleischmann's Yeast prize—the special award for skill in the traditional art of baking for fair competition.

Barbecue Rolls

1 package or cake Fleischmann's Yeast, Active Dry or Compressed
½ cup very warm water
¼ cup sugar
⅓ cup non-fat dry milk solids
1 tablespoon salt
1½ cups warm, not hot water
6 cups sifted flour (about)
⅓ cup softened, not melted, shortening

DISSOLVE Fleischmann's Yeast in very warm water. Measure sugar, dry milk solids, salt and water into large bowl. Add three cups of flour; beat well.

Add and beat in shortening. Stir in remaining flour to make soft dough. Turn out onto lightly floured board. Knead until smooth and elastic.

PLACE IN greased bowl; brush top with soft shortening. Cover and let rise in warm place, free from draft, until doubled in bulb, about 1 hour.

Punch down and let rise again until less than doubled in bulk, about 45 minutes. Shape into balls the size of an egg.

Place in 2 greased 9-inch round pans or on greased baking sheets 2 inches apart. Cover. Let rise until very light, about 1 hour.

Bake in moderate oven (375° F.) 15 to 20 minutes. Remove from oven and brush with melted margarine or butter. Make 20 rolls.

French Chocolate Cream Ala American Quick Way

Pot de Creme is a justly famous dessert. To produce this elegant dessert, French chefs beat eggs, melt chocolate very slowly, add precisely the right amount of cream, then beat, stir, bake, and chill the ingredients.

THE AMERICAN homemaker, however, has a much quicker way to make a smooth, rich chocolate creme. And it's time-tested by the makers of Royal Puddings and Gelatins to take only 10 minutes of preparation plus two hours of chilling.

The secret is custard flavor dessert mix which eliminates all the separating, beating, and folding in of eggs. No baking is needed either.

BUT THE RESULT is a Chocolate Creme as cool and light and perfect for a dessert as any direct from Paris.

FRENCH CHOCOLATE CREME

1 package Royal Custard Flavor Dessert
2¼ cups milk
½ cup sefi-sweet chocolate bits
¾ cup heavy cream, whipped

Combine Royal Custard Dessert, milk, and chocolate bits. Cook over medium heat, stirring constantly, until mixture comes to a full boil. Pour into bowl and chill.

Beat with rotary beater until smooth. Fold in whipped cream. Chill thoroughly. Serve topped with shaved chocolate. Yield: 6 servings.

For Women This Section

Q. A couple called at our home a few evenings ago, and the woman had hair set in pincurls with a scarf tied around her head. Am I right in thinking this was poor manners on her part?

A. Your are more than right!

Q. Purely through oversight, a very good friend of ours was not sent an invitation to our daughter's wedding. What can I do to make amends?

A. You should write to, or call on this friend, explaining what happened and how very sorry you are.

Week's Best food buys

Traditional holiday foods are featured at varying retail promotional prices that are not necessarily based on actual market conditions.

Smoked hams, most produce and the typical holiday grocery items fall into this category on the University of Illinois consumer service survey for the Labor Day marketing period ending Sept. 2.

SMOKED HAM promotions stem from inventories that have been built up especially for the weekend. These are emphasized over more limited supplied canned or more fully processed hams which are yet to arrive in supply channels.

And prices will depend to a degree on how well buyers anticipated the law of supply and demand.

The more market-oriented values will be found in poultry — fryers and turkeys especially and in selected beef lines, notably sirloin and porterhouse steaks and boneless beef roasts.

FRESH PRODUCE generally is in the abundance of peak marketings. Retailers have one of the best opportunities of the year to offer bargains on "Dealer's choice."

Indications are that melons, grapes, plums, apples and locally supplied sweetcorn, tomatoes, cucumbers and carrots are the most favored for promotion.

Grocery departments are basically unchanged in supply and value considerations, with the usual holiday lines taking the major feature play this week.

For a longer look into the month, the UofI lists the following on the September calendar of produce values. (* indicates peak supply month):

FRUITS — apples, bananas, figs, grapes, western oranges, peaches, pears, plum-prunes; pomegranates, prickly pears; melons — cantaloupe, casaba, crenshaw, honeydew, persian*; vegetables — green beans, lima beans*, beets, celery, eggplant, garlic, okra, peppers, sweetcorn, tomatoes and yams.

As indicated, smoked ham bargains are problematical from the current market position. Consumers will find better opportunities at these prevalent prices: shank portions 29-33 cents, butt portions 39-43 cents and steaks cut from larger hams at 69-79 cents.

In fresh pork, spare ribs take on a holiday flare at 49 cents.

Beef offers somewhat improved bargain opportunities at these tags: sirloin steaks 85-89 cents, porterhouse 95-98 cents and ground beef 49 cents. In roasts, boneless rump 89 cents, sirloin tip 98 cents and standing ribs 69 cents.

Round steak, not necessarily a holiday favored item, generally quotes to 89 cents.

POULTRY sets the holiday pricing stage, fryers favored with a steady wholesale to hold its retails steady at 23-25 cents promotionally, and seldom over 35 cents on general competitive quotes. The fresh croup of turkeys is arriving and supplies are ample to peg hens at 35 cents, and toms at 29-33 cents for all weights.

Starting government purchases of 7,810,000 pounds, at costs approximately 29-32 cents, did little to stem the marketing tide which is reflecting the 24 per cent turkey crop increase over year-ago levels.

The Chicago retails noted for toms and hens compares favorably with Uncle Sam's purchasing prowess.

Shell eggs are 387,100 cases below storage levels of a year ago. This and increased future trading on improved price outlook failed to influence appreciably th wholesale markets.

SMALL SIZED grade A dominated in the consumer bargain column at 33-35 cents, a slight firming over last week. But mediums at 49 cents and large sizes at 55-59 cents were unchanged and less attractive values in comparison.

Live markets were steady to fractionally lower, hogs steady, with lamb and beef steady to ½ cent lower. Wholesale beef reacted the most, off ½ cent to 1 cent on carcass cuts and as much as 3 cents on chucks, with loins, rounds and ribs holding steady in holiday movement.

Most pork was steady to up slightly on ribs for the holiday fare. Lamb fell 1 cent at wholesale, mostly on demand for cheaper cuts from shoulder and ribs. Veal on the other hand was up again by 1 cent, mostly on the supply situation.

Q. Is it considered proper to use the spoon to test the temperature of the coffee at the table?

A. This is quite all right. But after one little "taste-test," the spoon should be replaced in the saucer and left there.

Q. What acknowledgment can I make when friends stop me and express their regret over the recent passing of my father?

A. A natural and proper response would be: "Thank you for your sympathy."

Cheese Mold Is Berry Flavored

Creamy and cool is a delightful Peach Cheese Mold which is served with a bright raspberry sauce. A tempting Bavarian-type dessert, the delicate mold combines Royal peach-flavor and lemon-flavor gelatines with cream cheese.

Diced and drained, canned or thawed frozen peaches are folded into the gelatine mixture before setting. Frozen raspberries may be added also if desired.

THIS LUSCIOUS dessert, like all gelatine molds, can be prepared a day in advance, unmolded early in the day, leaving you work and worry-free at the last minute before serving.

The raspberry sauce is, of course, the wonderful flavor addition to the peach which made the name of "Melba" famous in the world of food. It's color and flavor-right.

Peach Cheese Mold, Raspberry Sauce

1 package Royal peach-flavor gelatine
1 package Royal lemon-flavor gelatine
2 cups boiling water
3 egg yolks, well beaten
4 3-ounce packages cream cheese
Dash salt
3 egg whites
⅓ cup sugar
2 cups diced drained canned or thawed frozen peaches (or 1 cup peaches and 1 cup frozen raspberries)

Dissolve gelatines in boiling water. Slowly stir into beaten egg yolks. Beat cream cheese until fluffy; add gelatine and salt. Chill until slightly thickened.

Beat egg whites until foamy; gradually beat in sugar and continue beating until stiff peaks form when beater is raised.

Fold egg whites and peaches into slightly thickened gelatine. Turn into 2-quart mold and chill until firm. Makes 8 to 10 servings.

Raspberry Sauce

2 teaspoons cornstarch
1 tablespoon cold water
1 package thawed frozen raspberries

Combine cornstarch with water; stir into raspberries in saucepan. Cook, stirring gently, over medium heat, until juice is slightly thickened and clear. Cool. Makes about 1¼ cups.

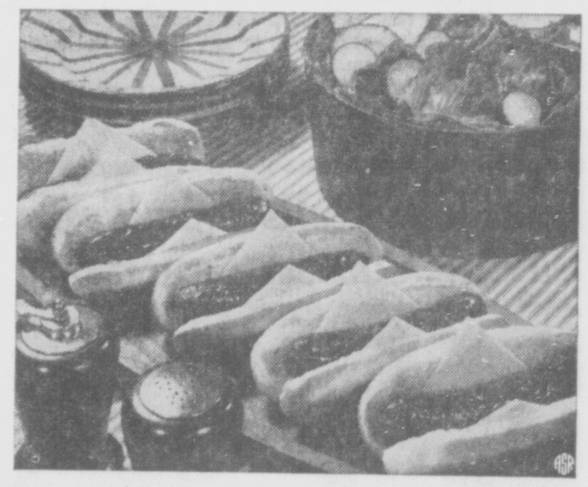
'Old Dog' Learns New Trick With Hickory



Here's proof that an old "dog" can learn new tricks! Grilled in a spicy, hickory smoke flavored barbecue sauce, these franks have "sur-passed" their test for approval.

For an added plus, they're tucked in toasted buns which have been lined with rich process cheese slices.

IT'S A COMBINATION that's just right for a weekend lunch-on-the-go or for a hearty late evening supper when folks like foods with an outdoor barbecue flavor, served in indoor comfort!

And be prepared for seconds—for it's every man for himself when these "saucy" franks are set before the crowd!

A WONDERFUL TIME was reported by the 200 members and guests of Plum Grove club who attended the club's Hawaiian luau August 12. Among party-goers were the Warren Blacks and the Roger Sullivans. Following an exotic buffet, guests were entertained by Hawaiian and Tahitian dances as performed by students from the June Rold school of the dance. Club members are now looking forward to the Labor day activities of the club, which will include a barbecue and corn roast, followed by dancing to a Dixieland band.

Alpha Xi Tours In Europe

Working in Europe under the American Student Information Service (ASIS) is Alpha XI Delta, Deanna Warejcka, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Venzel Warejcka, 1009 N. Princeton ave., Arlington Heights.

Miss Warejcka, a student at Washington university, in St. Louis, topped off her term as president of Beta Beta chapter of Alpha XI Delta with a tour of Europe.

After the tour with other ASIS students, Miss Warejcka started working in a hospital in Stuttgart, Germany, and recently visited Vienna, Salzburg and Berlin.

Ou August 15 she will return to Weisbaden, rejoining her flight group of ASIS students for a "Going-Away-From-Europe" party. After graduation from Washington next year, Miss Warejcka hopes to return to Europe for further study.

'WAY BACK WHEN'

Compiled by Mrs. G. Rex Volz — Phone CLearbrook 5-9078

60 YEARS AGO—

August 24, 1901

Palatine:

Chris Niemeyer lost a cow by lightning, Wednesday.

Peter Hartlett has a stalk of corn raised by Henry Theis, that is 11 feet 7 inches high.

Wm. Ost and Phillip Matthei took their wives on a pleasure trip to Evanston, Waukegan and intermediate lake shore points over the electric railway last Saturday.

Obituaries:

Mrs. H. C. Batterman, born Winzlat, Germany, July 6, died Aug. 18, 1901 aged 64 years, funeral being held Tuesday at the German Lutheran Church, burial German cemetery. Mr. Batterman says she was as good a wife as any man could wish for and her many friends were evidenced by the large funeral.

Mrs. A. L. Smith passed away Aug. 20, 1901. Miss Matilda Hankey, born Hamburg, Germany, May 2, 1849, at the time of her death was 52 years of age. She came to Illinois when four years of age. She married Mr. A. L. Smith of Palatine, March 25, 1875. The deceased united with the Palatine M. E. Church in 1887. She was a member of the Woman's Relief Corps of the G.A.R. She was a devoted mother and wife; she leaves her husband, two sons and one daughter. A quartette composed of Mrs. Heise, Miss Lydia Knigge, William Williams and Will Mosser rendered appropriate music for the occasion and pall bearers were A. S. Olms, H. C. Matthei, E. R. Converse, Wm. Nason, W. R. Comfort and R. M. Putnam.

Potatoes $2 a bushel, Peaches $1.00. How's that?

Bensenville:

The raffle at Sandhagen's hall last Saturday night was well attended. Pumpkin John was the lucky winner of the zither. Some of the Bensenville Stars were feeling pretty good.

Itasca:

The lake and park are now a sure thing, $300 having been subscribed.

Mr. Tonne's daughter was overcome by heat Monday.

Lincoln and Willie Woggels are on the Walk Improvement Committee.

Five new telephones to go in soon: Otto Franzen, Theo. Koch, Henry Geils, Dr. Swantees and Mr. Jarndt are the subscribers.

Wheeling:

Emil Sigwalt returned from Oklahoma satisfied there are better places to locate your home.

Geo. Kelly while working at Barchard's, found a curious stone which is attracting attention. It is thought to have belonged to a primitive people.

Schaumburg:

Fog and rain all week - we should prefer more rain and less fog.

Mr. Henry Salge, who holds the Old Settlers Badge this year, is setting a good example in the way of road improvement. The new entrance to his ranch is pretty and durable too. Other Schaumburgers please copy.

Arlington Heights:

Mr. E. P. Mueller, our enterprising real estate man has contracted with Boeger & Sons to build another new house in his subdivision for the first lucky buyer who turns up.

Bray & Kates have received a new 20 light acetylene Gas machine with which they have contracted to light Arlington Hall.

Mr. J. Henry Meyer, aged nearly 83 years, died at the home of his son Henry. Aug. 19.

A movement is on foot to arouse public interest and organize a society for local improvements to beautify the town. Think the matter over and see if you want to cooperate.

There has been considerable complaint about boys loafing around the depot at night. We ought to have a night police to maintain order. We have a bad school for boys on our streets. Authorities take notice.

Arlington Heights is to have a bank — no fly-by-night concern but a solid institution with a paid-up capital of $25,000, and backed by forty-seven stockholders who could easily put ten times that amount of cash within four hours, if occasion demanded. The stock having all been subscribed, the stockholders held a special meeting at the Village Hall last Saturday and elected their first Board of Directors, as follows: P. V. Castle, B. B. Castle, Wm. Busse, Wm. Thiemann, Wm. F. Meyer, E. P. Mueller, E. N. Berbecker, Jno. V. Whiting. Another meeting will be held at the same place August 31, 1901, to elect officers and perfect plans to start business. Besides those above mentioned we find the following names among the list of stockholders: Judge Cutting, Peter Beyer, John Russel, Henry W. Busse, Fred Henges, John Rowlwing, Henry Gobbert, Henry Engleking, Sr., Louis Heimsoth, and many other well-to-do farmers and business men, which shows that the people repose confidence in this long-needed enterprise from the start.

50 YEARS AGO

Arlington Heights:

Editorial Musings:

We believe the Board of Education has been very fortunate in their selection of Mr. A. E. Hubbard for principal of the public schools. He is a good looking, stalwart gentleman. No unwary pupil will care to trifle with a man of his physique.

Oscar Brodfuehrer has bought the Arlington Heights Flour & Grist Mills and will take over at once.

Avondale Gun Club accepted an invitation from the A. H. Gun Club for a Match Shoot. The contest took place on the Heights grounds Aug. 20. Heights club won by 12 birds. Credit is due the new captain, John Drewes for securing a match shoot so soon after he took the management, and for his splendid line up that gave us the victory. Shooting for Arlington were: R. Harris, H. Martens W. G. Meyer, O. Jahrling, J. Drewes, Schvoboda, Schulenburg, J. Proctor, Hy Hinz, and Ed Mayer.

Over half the Heights people saw the airships one or more times in the city last week.

L. W. Roehler was the first to have an automobile at the Heights. Who will get the first airship?

Frank White's barber shop is pleasantly located in the south east corner room over Lorenzen's store since Aug. 14.

Arlington Heights gives the C&NW big passenger, freight, express and mail patronage. Many trains get half their loads at this station. Sunday traffic is especially heavy. They ought to appreciate our patronage, and build cement walks here like they do elsewhere.

Mr. A. E. Hubbard, the new principal of A. H. public schools was here Friday and rented the upper half of the Miss Beaumont house, formerly known as the "Honeymoon Flats" (because choice families without children are the only tenants), where he and his wife will be settled before school begins.

The church trustees and contractors staked out the grounds Tuesday for the new Presbyterian church. Contract calls for completion before Christmas. It will occupy a prominent site on Dunton ave. It will be the handsomest and most modern building in town and an ornament to Arlington Heights.

The Weinrich young people have great reason to be proud of their parents. Just think of a man over 70 years of age working every day and doing more than many young men. He put up new eaves troughs on the Lutheran school house the past week. Most people would consider it very dangerous for an aged gentleman to climb long ladders and go on roofs to lay gutters, etc. Mr. Weinrich doesn't look older than most men of fifty years.

WANTED: Woman for general housework. Family of four. Wages $6.00 a week.

Mt. Prospect:

Henry Linnemann has a new truck wagon that will last a life time. It is all hand made, the running gear is of second growth seasoned oak, the box of poplar, all trimmed with wrought steel, the wheels have 3-inch steel tires. It was built by the well-known wagon makers, John Meyn & Son of Mt. Prospect, who have several orders for their celebrated wagons.

Palatine:

Peter Knowe & Son have resumed building cement sidewalks. There is considerable amount to be laid, besides crossings to build. It is grayifying to notice the way property owners in general commence to fix up their places after cement walk has been laid.

At the Enterprise window can be seen the display of oats and wheat which won first prize at the Milk Shippers' picnic. They are the property of Wm. Garms. Wm. J. Berg who has been a farmer in Palatine only one year won the prize for the best corn, also on exhibition here.

Mrs. Louis Sophie Mary Leseberg, (nee Garms) wife of Louis Leseberg, died Aug. 16.

Roselle Rumbles:

Franz Cash had another bargain last week. He bought a Holstein Heifer, top buggy and 12 dozen eggs for $38, from Jacob Segesman.

Julius Abel bought most all the sidewalk lumber at the sale Saturday. He intends breaking up the Werehauser and Hines Lumber trust.

Mr. Walter Hattendorf and Miss Laura Hitzemann were united in marriage Sunday noon at the church. The bride was attended by Miss Adelia Hattendorf, maid of honor and Miss Emma Hattendorf as bridesmaid.

Itasca:

The milk trucks are heavily loaded. About 250 cans are shipped every day.

Several Itasca people went to Chicago to see the men fly like birds. They are quite enthusiastic about Beachies' record-breaking altitude flight.

Bensenville Band gave some of the late popular music at the band concert Thursday night. The band stand is located near the animal cages, near the boat house, on the south side of the park.

Bensenville Beatitudes:

Fred Mensching is white washing the public school.

Riverview Park About to Close

The last big roundup of summertime fun for 1961 is under way at Riverview Park, Western and Belmont avenues in Chicago.

Riverview, the world's largest amusement park, will close its 58th season on Labor Day night as a host of special events provide a smashing climax to the park's big year.

SCHEDULED for completion on Labor Day is the annual tournament of Music, in which more than 100 bands from Iowa, Indiana, Illinois, Michigan and Wisconsin have, for the past three weeks, been competing for championship honors in a variety of age and group classes.

Also set for a final showing on Labor Day evening is the fabulous Wizard of Oz spectacle that is the feature of the current Mardi Gras celebration at Riverview. Scores of costumed characters and colorful floats depicting scenes from the classic children's story are included in the free fun parade that is staged on Riverview's midway each evening.

In addition to the Oz characters and the marching bands, the Mardi Gras celebration also includes live elephants, Santa Claus and his reindeer, and ice skaters performing on real ice.

ALL OF THESE extra fun items are set in Riverview's gay 70 acres where more than 100 major rides and attractions provide thrills and entertainment for vacationers of all ages.

Seven roller coasters, the largest number in any park in the world, are the big thrillers, but there are dozens of other aerial, ground level and water rides, plus fun houses and a wide variety of do-it-yourself fun facilities like golf, hot rod car driving, small boat piloting and sharpshooting. The big park operates every day from 11:30 a.m. until midnight. (Bill

Christmas Cards: Why Not Make 'Em?

By LUCILE ERNST

Would you like to make your own Christmas cards this year? Now is the time to start thinking about it or better yet, learning new and easier methods of doing it.

The Countryside Art Center has invited Edward H. Olmstead, Northbrook, to lecture and give a demonstration on a new type of silk screen using a new stencil film which he has developed. With his equipment you could make your own Christmas cards, as well as other art work. If you have ever received an original Christmas card you know how deeply they are appreciated.

Mr. Olmstead is a commercial artist, a member of the Countryside Art Center and the North Shore Art League. He has been teaching a class silk screening methods at the North Shore Art League.

THE LECTURE and demonstration will follow the first fall meeting of the Countryside Art Center and will be held on September 7, at Pioneer Park at 8 p.m.

Members of the Countryside Art Center have been exhibiting their work at the Chez Orleans, a charming and picturesque restaurant. The two artists who will be exhibited until September 8, are Freida Womeldorf, of Barrington, and Caral Komarek, of Arlington Heights.

The artists, mother and daughter, are exhibiting water colors which reflect their interest in travel.

CARAL KOMAREK'S paintings are called, "Amanita," "Ride a White Horse," "Wind Chimes," and "Fiesta Fireworks." Mrs. Komarek attended the American Academy of Art in Chicago, and the Gerry Pierce Water Color School in Tucson, Ariz.

"Florida Still Life," Calendulas," "Bird Lady," and "Flower Vender" are the titles of Freida Womeldorf's paintings. Her teachers were Arnold Blanch and Robert Chase at the Chase School of Art in Sarasota, Fla.

Remember to save a little time for the Old Orchard Art Festival which will be held in the Old Orchard Shopping Plaza, Skokie, Saturday and Sunday, Sept. 9 and 10.

THE INVITATIONAL exhibit is sponsored by the North Shore Art League in an effort to provide greater opportunities for Chicago and Suburban artists to exhibit their work.

The show will be juried by A. James Speyer, curator of contemporary art of the Chicago Art Institute; Aaron Bohrod, artist in residence at the University of Wisconsin; and Mrs. Alfred P. Shaw of Lake Forest, president of the Arts Club of Chicago.

If there is anything more devastating to the artistic spirit than staring at your own paintings and never selling one, I don't know what it is. The only way to become an artist who sells is to become an artist who exhibits. Here are some addresses which may interest you.

CITY CENTER Gallery Monthly Juried Shows, City Center of Music and Drama. Open to all artists. Medium: oil. Jury. Prizes. Fee $3. Write Mrs. Ruth Yates, City Center of Music and Drama, 58 West 57th st., New York, N. Y.

Tickets Available For Kern Musical

Tickets for the Jerome Kern musical, "Leave It To Jane," which opens the new theatre-in-the-round in the Prudential building auditorium September 5, have been on sale since August 21, in the lobby of the Prudential Building, Randolph and Michigan ave.

This nostalgic play by Guy Bolton and P. G. Wodehouse, with a beautiful score by Jerome Kern was first presented in New York in 1917. The second successful revival of this play closes August 25 in New York after a record 2½-year run "off-Broadway" and will run in Chicago for a limited five-week engagement ending October 6.

KATHLEEN Murray, John Stratton, Dorothy Greener and Ray Tudor, four stars of the New York production are going to headline the Chicago presentation which is being produced by Rach, Comiskey and Vaughn, producers of the very successful Melody Top Theatre in Hillside.

Caroline Worth and Jimmy Moore, the two youngsters who received much acclaim as the comedy-dancers in "Showboat," Melody Top's first production of the season, have been added, to the cast of "Leave It To Jane" to fill out the last two starring roles.

Construction on the new 850-seat theatre-in-the-round which will take shape in the remodeled Prudential Building auditorium will begin in about two weeks. This will mark the first time that a major production is to be presented in this unique and intimate fashion in the Loop.

Set Tryouts For Theatre Production

Tryouts for the first play of Village Theatre's 1961-62 season will be held Sunday, Sept. 3, at 2 p.m., in the community room of the Bank of Rolling Meadows.

The play which has been selected for the group's fall production is "Summer and Smoke," by Tennessee Williams. It will be presented October 13, 14 and 15 at the Prospect high school theatre. The director will be Miss Anna Reuter.

Tryouts are open to anyone who wishes to read for a part or to sign up for a production crew. (Bill

Highway Commandments

10 Rules to Keep You Alive This Labor Day

With the Labor Day weekend just ahead, newspaper and radio accounts of holiday traffic casualties will once again sound like wartime battle reports.

To help put a brake on this grimly tragic - and growing - macadam mayhem, safety experts for the world-wide Avis Rent-a-Car System offer these Ten Commandments on how to drive and stay alive:

1. DON'T SPEED. Speed is the number one highway killer. At 65 or 70 miles an hour, the average driver is helpless in any emergency. Suppose, for instance, you're holding your hands on the spokes of the steering wheel instead of the rim. There is a considerable time lag when the hands have to be transferred to the outer rim, should a quick, sharp turn become necessary.

At average, legal speeds, a car will have travelled about 44 feet before the change can be made. Take, for instance, what happens at 50 miles-an-hour. You're five lengths behind the car ahead - that's about 75 feet - and the fellow ahead stops suddenly. You slam on your brakes. Actaully, at the legal 50 miles-an-hour, it takes you 55 feet to even get your foot on the brake. After that, another 187 feet to stop. Total - 242 feet.

Result: You're going to hit the car ahead at perhaps 40 miles-an-hour. Even so, a car traveling at 50 miles-an-hour can come to a near stand-still before a car doing 70 miles-an-hour can slow down to 50.

2. CONCENTRATE. There is no margin for error on today's high-speed highways. Be mentally prepared for the unexpected.

3. Don't Crowd. just as speed is the top highway killer, so are rear-end collisions the number one cause of auto accidents in America. Keep your distance. Don't follow the vehicle ahead too closely. As translated in most states, the correct distance between cars means at least one car length for every 10 miles-an-hour of speed.

4. Guard Your Rear. keep one eye on your rear-view mirror all the time. Cars are barreling up behind you at high speeds. Be particularly watchful for anyone behind you when you pull out to pass another car. Watch over-taking headlights at night. They always spell potential danger.

5. Drive Defensively. always be prepared to cope with 'the other fellow's driving" as well as your own. Adopt the attitude that drivers ahead, behind or approaching are going to do something wrong. Plan ahead in your mind how to meet such emergencies if they arise.

6. DON'T DRINK AND DRIVE. the average man, after one large whiskey, takes about 15 per cent longer than normal to depress his brakes or swing his car's wheel in an emergency. Even moderate drinking causes as much as 32 per cent deterioration in vision, having the same effect as driving while wearing sun glasses in twilight or darkness.

7. Use Seat Belts. Of the 39,000 to 40,000 highway deaths each year, three-quarters are due to brain injuries. This total is equal in number to all the Americans killed in World War I and about comparable to the fatalities in the Korean War.

The basic reason for using a seat belt is that you stay with the car in the event of an accident and are not thrown around the interior or catapulted from the vehicle.

8. Park Off The Road. When something goes wrong, or you just want to stretch or rest, clear your car. Get it off the road even if you have to drive several hundred yards on a flat tire. Stopping too close to moving traffic is suicide.

9. Keep Your Doors Locked. There is ample evidence to support the conclusion that locked doors are less likely to be sprung open in event of an accident - allowing driver or passengers to be thrown to the pavement with resultant death or serious injuries - than doors which have merely been closed.

10. Be Courteous. Make motoring a real pleasure for yourself and for others by remembering to practice and honor courtesy of the road. (A-14

ST. ALEXIS

The square dance club of the Holy Name society of St. Alexis Catholic church in Bensenville announces the start of square dance instruction for beginners, Friday, Sept. 15 at 8 p.m. in the church hall. Stanley Mikottis will guide the class which meets every Friday evening through December 8. To register or for more information, beginners may call Mr. Mikottis at POrter 6-0602.

PLAIDS AND CALICOS

The Hoffman Estates club begins the new season Saturday night, Sept. 9, at 8 o'clock and meets for the first session only in Fairview school on Arizona blvd., about a mile east of Roselle road, in Hoffman Estates. Other dances, to be held the second Saturday of each month, will swing out in Hoffman school. Laddie Olson will square 'em up September 9 and be on hand to call all subsequent dances.

Club officers announce that the membership will be closed after the first dance and they urge anyone interested in joining to call Don McKeown, TW 4-6528 or Jim Bowen, TW 4-6961. Although the group will be considered a closed club after September 9, members of neighboring suburban clubs are invited to join Plaids and Calicos members at any Saturday night do-ci-doings.

BUCKS AND DOES

The Elk Grove club is sponsoring a free street dance Friday, Sept. 8, at 8 p.m. on the 3200 block of Edgington in Franklin Park, with Bob Lewis calling. Everybody is welcome to come out and work out his summertime kinks.

The September 8 dance is in addition to the free get-acquainted dance of September 12 which has been announced here earlier.

This second dance is an annual Bucks and Does affair and will be held in Higgins school, Higgins and Touhy, Elk Grove, dancing to start at 8 p.m. Everybody come.

The Bucks and Does also announce the formation of beginners classes. Additional information may be had or registration be made by calling YO 5-3239, HE 7-2935, VA 7-5393 or GL 5-4642.

PALATINE SQUARES

The Palatine club's regularly scheduled dances begin Saturday night, Sept. 9, at 8 o'clock in Paddock school, Palatine, and continue the new season following the old policy of "everybody welcome." Dancing will be the second and fourth Saturday nights of every month through May with Don Finfrock and Art Mathews alternating as callers. Anyone interested in joining this hospitable club may call the Rich Dahlquists, CL 3-7906 or the Orville Ohes, HA 6-6589.

DUDES AND DOLLS

Dudes and Dolls Square Dance club will start its 11th year with the season's first dance Friday, Sept. 15, at Bellwood Memorial hall, Bellwood, at 8 p.m.

Thereafter dances are slated for the first and third Friday of each month at Schroeder Memorial park, 2600 S. 13th ave. in Broadview, four blocks south of Roosevelt rd.

The final dance and banquet were held at DiLeo's, when officers for the 1961-62 were introduced: Kitty and Ed Raymond of Forest Park, presidents; (elected for a second term), Ollie and Esther Fisera of Brookfield, vice presidents; Grace and Will Eriksen of Bensenville, secretaries; and Mary and Merle Chaffer of Villa Park, treasurers.

ORIGINATORS of the club are Bill and Marie Clarke of Westchester, who serve as the group's steady callers. Many of the couples who were in the tive in Dudes and Dolls.

During summer months Dudes and Dolls and the Broadview Park Commission co-sponsored open dances at the Broadview tennis courts. Twety-two couples also made a trip to Wauwatosa, Wis., to become "knot-heads."

In square dance language, a "knot-head" are persons who will travel 100 miles away from home to square dance. (A-13

Just Around the Corner from Patty McArdle

Trip To Cottage

Dear Peg:

"Let's go to the cottage," are the first words Patrick says every morning. Nana's cottage on White River, just about ten miles from Indianapolis, is one of the nicest little boy places you can imagine. The pale amber water is warm and shallow and moves slowly to the south carrying an occasional dried sycamore leaf or twig which has fallen from the big trees lining its banks. The rock bottom never hurts the feet of children and the few big boulder size make wonderful jumping and diving platforms. One in particular is called "Betsy." My cousin and I named this huge rounded mound-like rock when we were only a few years older than Patrick. Don't ask me why we thought it should have a name—I couldn't tell you—perhaps naming it gave it a personality. At any rate it was our favorite diving board.

There is an aluminum row boat tied up at the pier and, although it is great fun for the children to simply climb in and out of it, playing that they are really going some place, the treat is to have Nana say, "Hop in the boat everybody, we're going for a ride!" Everyone gets a turn at the oars and though the boat takes a rather zig-zag course up the river, even the boys are learning to be pretty good oarsmen.

I'm not sure whether Patrick and Joseph like swimming or fishing the best. Unfortunately, they want to do both and too often they want to swim first. Nana has explained to them, however, that swimming scares the fish away so they should fish before going swimming.

One morning we arrived at the cottage early especially to let the children fish. With a can of worms and some bamboo poles they were ready to try their skill. Megan and Bridget each caught a large sunfish and Patrick redoubled his efforts to catch the next fish. However, his timing is only that of a five year old so, as he quite aptly put it, "All I catch is a nibble!" Megan put her pole down and tried to help him. And Bridget seeing this helped Joseph. With this assistance, both boys were able to jerk up at the proper time and each caught a sunfish. You can be sure this was one of their most shining moments. We put the fish in the live box, gave them cracker crumbs, and each day that we went to the cottage we lifted the box out of the river to look at them—I wish I knew someone who could mount a sunfish.

After the fishing and swimming, the children sit around the big, oil cloth covered table on the screened-in porch and eat fried chicken and are very happy. In that little cottage, on the bank of the river, in the woods, the rest of the world seems so remote.

My love,
Patty

Engaged

Sharol Shultz

The engagement and approaching marriage of her daughter, Sharol Lyn Shultz, to Donald Holtzee, son of Mr. Raymond Holtzee of Palatine, is announced by Mr. and Mrs. Joseph Wood of Greene, Iowa.

Both Miss Shultz and Mr. Holtzee are teachers in Salk school, Rolling Meadows.

They will exchange vows November 25 in Palatine First Methodist church.

Dorothy Larabee

Announcing the engagement of their daughter, Dorothy Caroline, a Prospect high school teacher, to Ralph L. Martinson, of Arlington Heights, are the Louis Larabees of Earlville. Mr. Martinson, who is with the Arlington Heights police department, is the son of Leo Martinson of Chicago.

Miss Larabee was graduated from Illinois State Normal university in 1960 and during the summers of '60 and '61 taught at Arlington high school. Her fiance attended Northern Illinois university and served in the armed forces, including duty for 1½ years in Italy.

The couple is planning a late fall wedding.

Janet Weidner

(Community Camera

Mr. and Mrs. Richard Weidner, 1131 N. Dunton, Arlington Heights, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Janet Marie, to David Cary, son of Mrs. Janet Cary of Chicago.

Miss Weidner was graduated from St. Patrick academy, Des Plaines, and is now employed with Pure Oil Co., Palatine. Mr. Cary, now at Ft. Sill, Okla., was graduated from Calumet high school, Chicago.

The couple is planning a spring 1962 wedding.

Nancy Fulwider

Former Arlington Heights residents, Mr. and Mrs. Gale S. Fulwider, now of Cleveland, are announcing the engagement of their daughter, Nancy Jeanne, to Robert E. Burke, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Mathews of Ingleside.

Miss Fulwider was graduated in 1956 from Arlington high school and attended Western Michigan university for one year. She is now employed by Northern Illinois Gas Co., Glenview. Her fiance attended Northern Illinois university and the University of Maryland and is now with the E and J. Wineries in Chicago.

The couple is planning a January 13 wedding in Fox Lake.

Quite Contrary by Mary

Keep Romance Alive: Mary

I think husbands and wives should surprise each other once in a while. Nothing startling or earth shaking. Just a wee nosegay from hubby to wifey for just no little old reason at all. Or, when hubby comes home from a hard day in the sweat shop, to be greeted with the delicious smell of fresh apple pie. No pie, just the smell.

It's little things like these that keep romance alive. The books all say so and I'm a great believer in the printed word. Father and I both practice this but sometimes we do it on a bigger scale. Like the time he brought me the movie camera which he wouldn't let me work for a full year. I might jimmey something up.

Or, the time I spent a full eight hour day in the beauty shop going from deep brunette to light light blonde. Let me tell you, that surprised him. I won't say it pleased him but he certainly was surprised.

The other day it dawned on me that our life had become humdrum. It had been a long time between surprises. So I set to work. Nothing prosaic like food. I moved the sofa out into the garage following it with a big chair. Both have seen a lot of life and infinitely better days.

Then I ripped up the carpeting and padding. Tucked them into the garage also. The end tables, sad victims of life with six children and their friends, followed on the heels of the carpeting. The drapes followed them.

When Father returned to his cottage small, his astonished eyes saw a living room furnished with a certain stark simplicity. It held two lamps sitting on a bare floor. A piano, a hi-fi, a TV and one rocking chair. We call it the music room. If we want to sit down, we either go out in the garage or on the patio. This last place may lose its charm if winter comes.

Now that's what I call a surprise.

Ruth Volkening Returns To University as Bride

Returning to college this fall as Mr. and Mrs. are Ruth Diane Volkening, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herman F. Volkening of Schaumburg rd., Roselle, and James F. Clapper, son of the James I. Clappers of Sterling. The couple married August 19 in a double ring ceremony in Schaumburg. Rev. Sternberg officiated at the 5:30 o'clock service amid a setting of coral gladioli and white mums and stock.

"Lord, Who at Cana's Wedding Feast" and "The Lord's Prayer" were sung by Mr. Sodt, was accompanied by Mr. Luke at the organ.

Approaching the altar on the arm of her father, the bride wore a gown of white silk organza detailed with imported pean'dange lace. The gown was fashioned with a scoop neckline, fitted basque bodice and short sleeves of the lace with a full skirt that widened into a chapel train.

THE BODICE was detailed with the lace shaping the neckline and the same lace shaped an apron effect at the front and the panels at the back of the skirt. Pearls were also embroidered onto the neckline and the skirt.

Her fingertip veil was secured to a petal hat of sheer silk organza and she carried a cascade of white glamellias bordered with white baby mums and lily of the valley with ivy foliage.

A frosted gold dress of crystalite material was worn by the matron of honor. Mrs. Anthony Akgulian of Racine. The bridesmaid, Miss Susan Bennet of Tomah, Wis., was in frosted peach. Both were fashioned identically with scoop necklines and bell-shaped skirts. Their headpieces were rose shaped tulle forming a beehive effect.

THE ATTENDANTS' flowers were yellow glamellias outlined with white pompon mums and ivy foliage in a cascade arrangement.

A 7-year-old flower girl, Mary Ellen Piepenbrink of Bensenville, was also in the wedding party. Her waltz-length silk organza dress with tiered skirt was in aqua and she carried a basket of rose petals.

George Yezek of Mt. Pleasant, Pa., was best man to the groom and groomsman was John Levonen of Southfield, Mich. Arnold DeSandre of Joliet and the bride's brother, Roger Volkening, were ushers.

A BUFFET dinner was held at 7:30 in Bartlett fireman's hall. Mrs. Volkening greeted the 350 guests in a light blue embroidered silk organza sheath and Mrs. Clapper in a medium blue linen silk sheath. Both mothers wore corsages of picardy glamellias and white pompons.

Mr. Clapper and his bride honeymooned in the western states and will be at home at 1127 W. Lincoln, DeKalb, where they are students at Northern Illinois university. The new Mrs. Clapper was graduated from Palatine high school and is now a college senior majoring in elementary education.

Mr. Clapper is a junior at Northern majoring in psychology and secondary education. (SSD

The unit's style body, all winners of one or more styling competitions, will present the new fall style, plus an added feature, the "back to school" look for the young miss.

Tom Robinson, president of unit 47, invites members and all licensed cosmetologists to attend this meeting and program. (S

Check Sweater Before Washing

When you're shopping for a sweater, remember to find out whether the buttons, ribbons and other trim will withstand laundering. Otherwise you'll have troube in caring for it, reminds Esther Siemen, University of Illinois extension textiles and clothing specialist.

If the center front of the sweater is bound with ribbon, be sure that it is colorfast to both washing and light. If the ribbon is on the inside, any difference between ribbon and sweater colors will of course be less noticeable.

ELABORATE BUFFET received many admiring glances August 12 when Plum Grove club staged its Hawaiian holiday luau. Serving themselves at the exotic feast were Dr. and Mrs. A. G. Nielsen. Preceding the dinner, guests were served fantail shrimp, Rumaki and egg rolls during the cocktail hour.

WHOLE ROAST PIG was included in the elaborate menu when Plum Grove club held a Hawaiian Holiday luau at the new clubhouse in Plum Grove Estates. Menu also included cold whole salmon, barbecued ribs with plum sauce, chicken Waikiki in cocoanut shells, yams, pineapple and mandarin oranges, bananas and kumquats in pineapple shells and pineapple sundaes.

How to Care For Plug-in Appliances

Probe-type cords and thermostats for plug-in household appliances often need cleaning. But they won't take dunking, cautions Mrs. Eloise Rippie, University of Illinois home economist.

She suggests wiping the control with a damp cloth. But don't let water splash on it.

PROPER storage is also important to keep these controls in top shape. Store where they will not be jarred or banged; a box is perfect. Also, store only when they have cooled to room temperature.

Do not store either the appliance or the cords in the oven, even for a short time. It's easy to forget they are there and they may be permanently damaged when you turn on the oven. (SSD

Elk Grove Village Girl Wed in University Chapel

The chapel of the University of Maryland was the scene August 19 of a double ring ceremony in which Miss Betty Ruth Cavin, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Herschel Lynn Cavin, 785 Bonita, Elk Grove Village, became the bride of Wayne Handy Bethards, son of Mr. and Mrs. Earl H. Bethards of Salisbury, Md. Both graduates of the University of Maryland, Mr. and Mrs. Bethards will be residing in Salisbury after a week's honeymoon in New Yrk City.

The bridegroom has just completed six months of active duty with the national guard and his bride will be teaching 11th grade English in Salisbury.

The altar of the chapel was decorated with bases of all-white flowers for the 3 o'clock service, during which Mr. Cavin gave his daughter in marriage. Rev. J. H. Sando was the officiating clergyman.

THE BRIDE and her father approached the altar down a white carpeted aisle, preceded by six attendants, including a ring bearer and flower girl.

Maid of honor was the bride's sister, Miss Linda Cavin and bridesmaids were Miss Margaret Ann Bethards, sister of the groom, Miss Carl Isiminger of Cumberland, Md. and Miss Anne Calderwood of Chevy Chase, Md. All wore identical sheath gowns of jade organza over taffeta fashioned with empire bodices, low crescent necklines and brief sleeves. Satin contour cumberbunds encircled the waists of the afternoon length skirts and ended at the back in flowing panels.

Their flowers were colonial bouquets of purple gladioli.

THE BRIDE, carrying a bouquet of white glamellias with streamers, wore an ivory silk-faced peau de soie gown with fitted bodice and Japanese kabuki sleeves. The softly scooped neckline was accented by pearl and crystal embridery in a delicate design. A self-fabric sash tied in the back and fell into long streamers over the apple-shaped skirt which swept into a chapel train.

Her fingertip veil was of imported silk bridal illusion and was gathered to a pearl crown.

The 6 year-old flower girl, Mary Elizabeth Selby of Salisbury, wore white organdy with a street-length full skirt and carried a basket of flowers. Robert Campbell. 4, of Wheaton, Md., was the ring bearer.

LEE BREWINGTON of Salisbury was best man and ushers were William H. Walston of Salisbury and James Wood and Donald K. Fooks of Hyattsville, Md.

The service was followed by a reception for 200 guests in the Crystal room in Riverdale, Md., where a buffet dinner was served. Mrs. Cavin received in a purple silk sheath with short sleeves and overskirt. Mrs. Bethards chose a pink shantung sheath with short sleeves and apron skirt. Both mothers complemented their ensembles with corsages of white gardenias. (S

Dr. Roger P. Kennedy Takes Nurse as Bride

Sharing a career of helping the ill will be newlyweds, Dr. and Mrs. Roger Pope Kennedy, who were married August 26 in a double ring service in First Methodist Church of Ar l ington Heights. Mrs. Kennedy, the former Anita Kay Dean, daughter of Mrs. Gaylord Dean of Magnolia, Ill. is a nurse at the University of Illinois hospital, Chicago. Her bridegroom, son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenneth W. Kennedy, 511 S. Pine, Ar l i n gton Heights, and grandson of Mrs. G. W. Pope, 13 S. Chestnut, Arlington Heights, is a medical resident at the University of Illinois Research and Educational hospital.

Dr. Hughes B. Morris officiated at the service before a background of assorted white flowers.

THE BRIDE chose a white floor-length gown of pure silk organza over tulle and peau taffeta fashioned with a snugly molded bodice with scoop neckline featuring re-embroide r ed lace motifs sprinkled with tiny seed pearls. The bouffant skirt showed a repeat of the alencon lace motifs and flowed into a train. Her butterfly veil of pure silk illusion flowed from a circular crown of lily of the valley.

A single white orchid, surrounded by sprinkles of lily of the valley, made up her bridal bouquet.

Miss Nancy Dean of Magnolia was her sister's maid of honor and bridesmaids were Miss Suzanne Burke of Chicago and Mrs. Richard Balestri of Granv i lle. All wore identical gowns of white organza over moss green taffeta, with fitted bodices and bouffant skirts. They also wore small veiled pill box headpieces of moss green and moss green shoes. Their flowers were yellow fuji mums.

THE BRIDE'S mother chose a dark green sheath of embroidered lace with fitted cummerbund and a white orchid corsage. Mrs. Kennedy chose a mauve pink silk sheath w i th matching feather hat and shoes.

Dr. Robert Hamilton of Chicago was the bridegroom's best man while ushers were Dr. John Leedom and Henry Spille.

The 3 o'clock service was followed by a buffet reception at 4 p.m. in Kenilworth Inn, Lincolnwood, with 90 guests attending.

Dr. Kennedy took his bride north on a 2-week wedding trip and after September 10, t h ey will be at home at 809 S. Marshfield, Chicago.

The new Mrs. Kennedy was graduated from the Methodist hospital school of nursing and Dr. Kennedy was graduated from Lawrence college and the University of Illinois medical school. (Cmmunity Camera (S

HINTS TO HOMEOWNERS

by James Fizzell
Assistant Farm Advisor

Alert Homeowners
Dial Daily 392-3060

Late summer is one of the best times to renovate old lawns. If the lawn is seeded by early September, the fall growth plus the growth next spring will produce a turf thick enough to keep out crabgrass, and make it difficult for weeds to get started.

Probably the most important step in renovating a lawn is the removal of all weeds. If there are few weeds in the lawn, or if the lawn is quite small, the weeds can be pulled. For large or very weedy lawns, the chemical weed killers are almost a necessity. Broadleaved weeds such as dandelions, plantain, or chickweed can be killed with 2,4-D, 2,4,5-T or combinations of the two. Be sure to use these materials with care, as they will seriously injure or even kill broadleaved flowers, shrubs or vegetables. It is best to apply weed killers at a time when there is no wind so that there is no chance for the fumes to drift to desirable plants. The new dry forms of these materials now on the market considerably lessen the danger of damage.

CRABGRASS can be killed with disodium methyl arsenate, potassium cyanate, or certain o t h er compounds especially formulated for this purpose. Several treatments may be necessary.

Undesirable perennial grasses such as the tall fescues can be spot tr[illegible] with grass killers such as Dowpon; however, unless the entire lawn is to be killed, Dowpon must be used with care as it kills desirable as well as weedy grasses.

After the weeds have been killed, the lawn should be raked thoroughly to loosen the upper crust of soil and tear up the mat of dried grass. Low places in the lawn should be filled in with fine topsoil.

Ten days to two weeks after the last weed killer treatment, the lawn can be fertilized, and grub proofing materials applied. Fertilizer of 10-10-10, 10-8-6, or similar analysis should be applied at the rate of ten pounds per 1000 square feet of lawn. Lead arsenate, ten pounds 1000 square feet, or chlordane, one-quarter pound for the same area will control earthworms and grubs. Chlordane also controls ants, chiggers and webworms.

Seed with a grass suited to the location. In Northern Illinois, Kentucky bluegrass or its variety Merion blue is probably the best adapted grass for lawns. If the lawn is quite shady, it may be necessary to sow a mixture containing 25 per cent fine leaved fescue and 75 per cent bluegrass.

THE SEED should be sown at one-half the rate recommended for new lawns. Roll after seeding to smooth the surface and firm the seed into the soil. Water immediately after rolling, but wet only the upper inch of soil. When the soil is again dry, water once a day until two weeks after the seed has germinated. After two weeks, watering every day is no longer necessary, and more water can be applied at each watering. After the middle of October, there will probably be sufficient moisture in the soil so that watering will not be required.

The lawn should be cut when the old grass reaches a height of 2½ inches regardless of the height of the new grass.

Reminder: Farming Age Law

Illinois farmers hiring workers for harvesting the fall crop were reminded this week that the Fair Labor Standards Act sets a 16-year age minimum for the employment of children in agriculture during school hours.

"The Federal law provides children with a priceless commodity—time to go to school," says Earl F. Halverson, Regional Director of the U. S. Department of Labor's Wage and Hour and Public Contracts divisions, the agency which enforces the Act.

THE CHILD- labor provisions protect local youngsters and children of migratory workers alike, Halverson pointed out. There is only one exception to the rule prohibiting children under 16 from working in agriculture during school hours of the school district where the child lives while working, he added. The exception is for the farmer's child working on his parents' farm.

He also stated that children may lawfully work on farms before and after school hours, and on weekends and other days when there is no school.

"The farmer can easily make sure of the age of any young worker if he asks for an age certificate. A certificate showing the young person is old enough for the job serves as proof of age for purposes of the Act," Halverson said. These certificates can generally be obtained from local school officials.

THE CHILD-labor provisions apply to farmers who engage in interstate commerce or ship produce in interstate commerce or to dealers in the same State who ship the produce in interstate commerce.

Regional Director Halverson said persons who want more information about the application of the Act to children working on farms should get in touch with the Wage-Hour Offices at Room 1100, 105 West Adams St., Chicago 3, or Room 506, Myers Bldg., 101 South Fifth Street, Springfield, Illinois. (FM

Check Sewing Machine When Buying

When you're buying a new sewing machine, it will pay to see for yourself how it behaves.

Esther Siemsen, University of Illinois extension textiles and clothing specialist, points out some of the features to check.

Will the machine sew backwards? This is helpful in reinforcing seams. Does it have the kind of control, knee or foot, that you prefer? Does it run smoothly at all speeds and especially at recommended normal sewing speed?

MISS SIEMSEN recommends doing some sewing on the machine in the store to see whether you can operate it. A trial at home is also helpful, especially if the machine is complicated.

It's also wise to check the sewing machine light. It should be easy to reach and should throw light where it's needed most—on the needle. Also, be sure it is where it won't burn you when you make adjustments.

The kind of sewing you do most is the best guide in deciding which type of machine to buy. For straight sewing, a simple machine is adequate and more practical than a fancy-stitching one. On the other hand, if fancy sewing is your specialty, you may find use for a machine that does fancy stitching.

Another point worth checking is the service agreement. Is adequate service limits the usefulness of a machine.

Miss Siemsen also recommends buying a well-known brand from a reliable dealer. Buying a machine from a peddler is just inviting trouble.

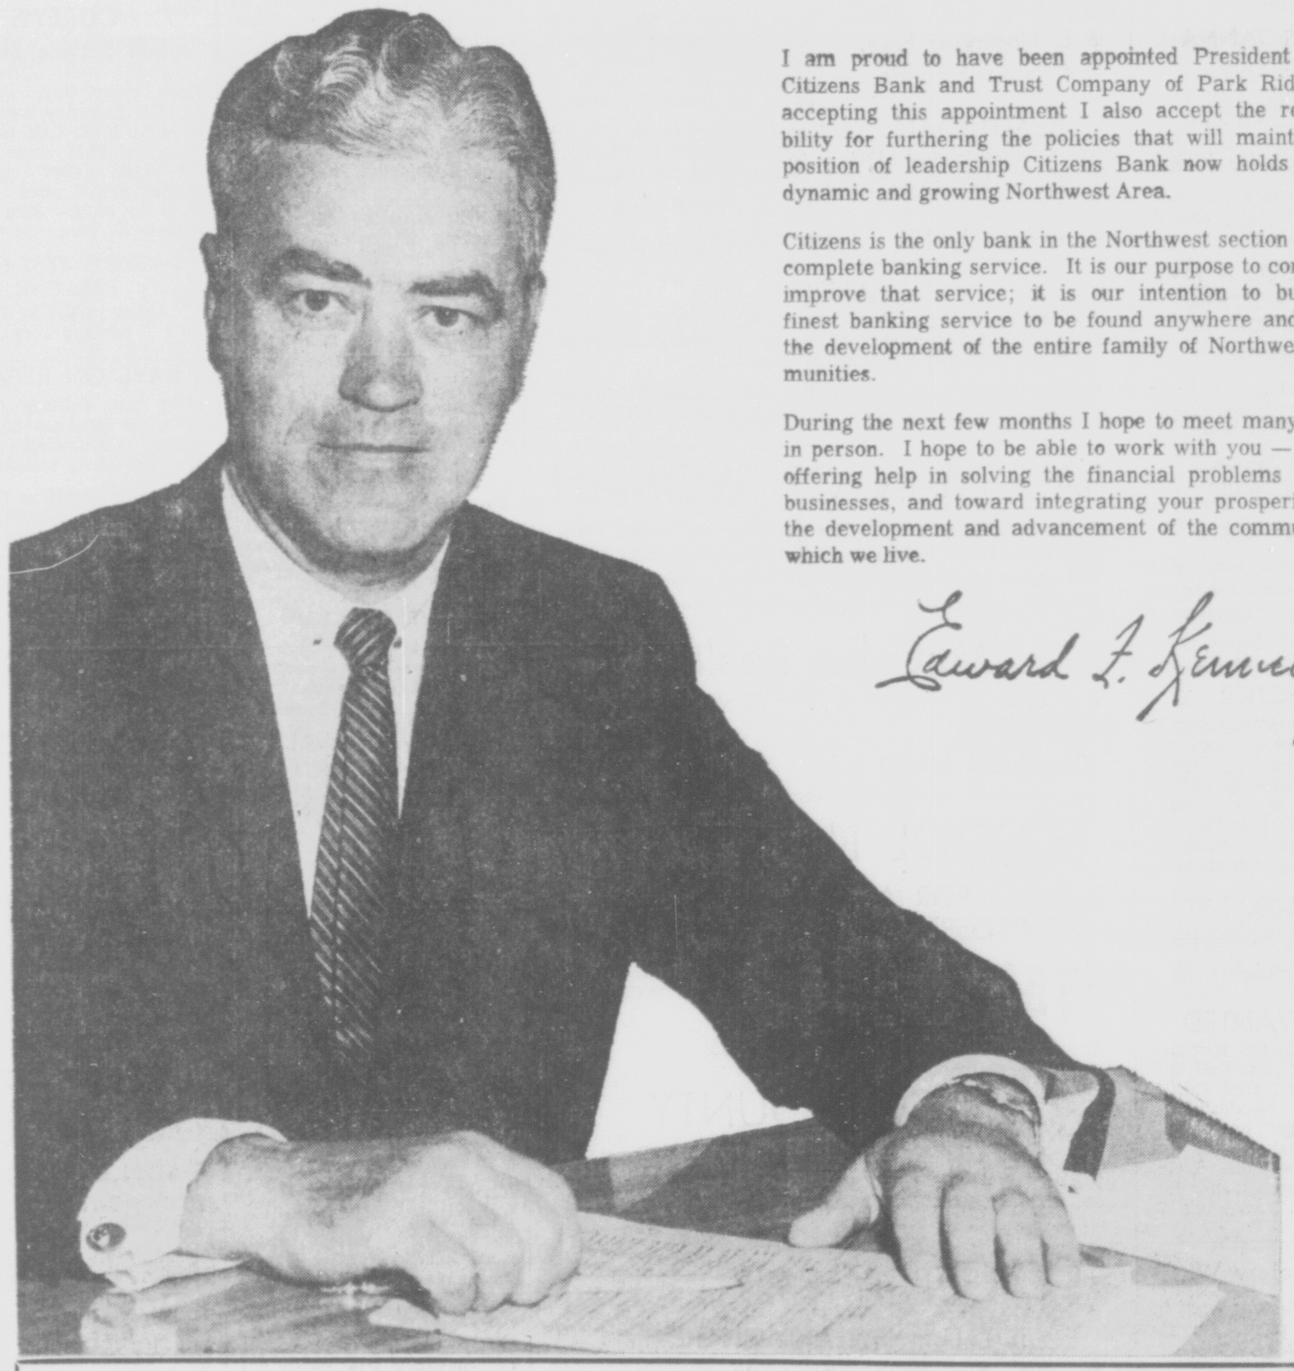
To the Customers and Friends of Citizens Bank



I am proud to have been appointed President of the Citizens Bank and Trust Company of Park Ridge. In accepting this appointment I also accept the responsibility for furthering the policies that will maintain the position of leadership Citizens Bank now holds in this dynamic and growing Northwest Area.

Citizens is the only bank in the Northwest section to offer complete banking service. It is our purpose to constantly improve that service; it is our intention to build the finest banking service to be found anywhere and aid in the development of the entire family of Northwest communities.

During the next few months I hope to meet many of you in person. I hope to be able to work with you — both in offering help in solving the financial problems of your businesses, and toward integrating your prosperity with the development and advancement of the community in which we live.

Edward F. Kennedy

Edward F. Kennedy has spent more than a quarter of a century in the banking business. After a short term with a loop bank, Mr. Kennedy joined the Suburban Trust and Savings Bank of Oak Park where he worked his way up to the office of president.

Mr. Kennedy was born, raised and educated in the Chicago area. In addition to his wide business experience, he has also found time to participate actively in civic and community enterprises. He is Treasurer of Thatcher Woods Council, Boy Scouts of America, he has been a member of the Oak Park Community Chest board; Chairman of the Oak Park March of Dimes, and a member of the Oak Park Parking and Traffic Commission.

For Man and Animal Alike

Bills Threaten Medical Progress: Professors

Two bills recently introduced in Congress, if passed, will seriously retard medical progress for both man and animals, University of Illinois veterinarians warn. Both bills rigidly control research work.

The Moulder bill would establish an agency for laboratory animal control headed by a commissioner whose only qualification would be that he be admitted to practice law before the United States Supreme Court. The bill would forbid experiments or tests on living animals without prior approval of a written project plan by the Secretary of Health, Education and Welfare.

The Griffiths bill would permit experimenting on verebrate animals, such as dogs, rats, birds, frogs, snakes and fish, only when no other "feasible and satisfactory methods" could be used to get the information.

"THESE BILLS are the most serious threat to biological research and teaching in many years," Dr. Norman Levine, U. of I. parasitologist, said. "The Moulder bill would be rediculous if it were not so dangerous. Millions of experimental animals are used each year — over 12 million mice alone. Imagine the paper work involved in getting permission to use them! And the Griffiths bill — well, you could spend a lifetime trying to prove that absolutely nothing existed that could substitute for a vertebrate animal in an experiment."

"Both bills claim that their objective is to insure the humane treatment of animals," Dr. Levine continued, "but they are not the way to do it."

One need only look at the advances in medical research to realize how dangerous these restrictive bills are. Every drug —including aspirin—was tested and every major operation was performed first on animals and then on man. Penicillin, blood transfusions, heart surgery, anesthesia or any other medical advance would not exist without animal experimentation. And although insulin was discovered years ago, each new batch must be tested on animals before being distributed for sale. Such routine processes would require tons of paper work and extra time if the Moulder bill were passed.

PETS OF ALL kinds have also benefitted from animal research. Vaccines against rabies, distemper, surgery for heart defects, blindness, cancer, diaphragmatic hernias and treatments and cures for numerous other diseases were first performed on research animals.

"Animals are essential for research," Dr . Levine emphasized. "And the dog is one of our most ideal subjects. Its anatomy and physiology closely resemble man's. It is an ideal size. And it is not a vegetarian like many other animals. Also, dogs suffer from many of the same diseases people have."

Stories about the "butcher" or "sadist" scientist could not be further from the truth. "No scientist or scientific laboratory has ever been found guilty in court of cruelty to animals, despite numerous efforts by antivivisectionists to discover or manufacture cases of cruelty," Dr. Carl Brandly, dean of the U. of I. College of Veterinary Medicine, said.

Veterinarians, physicians and biological scientists are dedicated to the alleviation of human and animal suffering They are as concerned as legislators and citizens about humane treatment of laboratory animals and have formed two national organizations devoted to the welfare of these animals.

LEGISLATION would not insure humane treatment of animals it would only cut down on the number used and thereby seriously hamper progress in both animal and human medicine.

"The choice the Moulder and Griffiths bills offer is whether to cut off our leg at the knee or the hip. But we are in a desperate race for national survival and to cut off even as much as a big toe would seriously interfere with our nation's ability to run that race," Dean Brandly said. (FM

Illinois Farmers Outlook

Report Milk Surplus Reappearing in 1961

by L. H. SIMERL

Surplus milk production almost disappeared last year. But surpluses have been increasing this year—in part at least because of the boosting of price-support levels.

The dairy marketing year begins April 1. In the first three months of this marketing year, the Commodity Credit corporation bought 127 million pounds of butter in order to support prices. This was 95 per cent more than had to be purchased in the same period a year before. During the same months the CCC purchased 21 million pounds of cheese in order to support prices. Less than one per cent of this amount had to be purchased in the same period a year earlier.

IN THE ENTIRE marketing year ended last March, the CCC had to buy only 154 million pounds of cheese.

The important point is that farmers had adjusted milk production very closely to the amount that could be sold at the prices prevailing in 1960. The boost in price support level this year disturbs this balance in two ways: (1) It eliminates some family purchases and (2) it encourages farmers to step up the production of milk.

In the first half of this year, milk production was estimated at 65.4 billion pounds, or about one per cent more than a year before. In the second half, it is expected to exceed year-before levels by a wider margin.

The milk-feed price ratio is more favorable than it has been in most recent years. This ratio was 1.37 in July. This means that 1.37 pounds of dairy concentrate ration was equal in value to one pound of milk. The 10-year average for the month is only 1.22. In other words, the price of milk is a little higher than average in relation to the price of feed.

ANOTHER factor that affects milk production is the relation of the price of milk to the price of beef cattle. Over the past two years the support level for milk used in manufacturing has been increased from $3.06 a hundred pounds to $3.40. In contrast, during the same time the price of Choice steers has declined from an average of $27.83 in 1959 to around $25 so far this year. This improvement in milk prices relative to beef prices slows the changeover of many farms from dairying to beef production. A considerable changeover is essential every year in order to offset the increased production by farmers who stay in the dairy business.

Government policy on feed-grain prices will also have some effect on the amount of milk farmers produce. If CCC sales of corn are large enough to keep the market price 20 cents below the support level, it will serve to encourage heavy feeding of dairy cows.

FORTUNATELY there are some factors working to slow the increase in milk production. One is the rise in costs of production items other than feed. Prices of equipment and machinery used on dairy farms have been inching upward almost every year.

The government's feed-grain program is another restraining factor. It may be helping some small dairymen out of business. It reduces the total output of feed and makes the farmer less dependent on the milk check.

Modern Agriculture

Animals Are Labeled Nature's Weathermen

By JACK SAMPIER

Animals are nature's weathermen! Observe their habits and you'll know when it's going to rain or whether the coming season will be mild or severe.

Reindeer huddle together before it rains (hence the name) and cattle sniff the air and stay near one another. Prior to a rain, robins sing; sea gulls scurry to the coast in flocks; roosters crow at unusual hours. Bees foretell a downpour by hovering near their hives in a restless, fretful manner. Spiders work industriously to strengthen their webs. Flies gather on household screen.

Adult male crickets serve as a thermometer in summer. The hotter the day, the faster the cricket chirps. Count the number of chirps in 15 seconds; add 40 and you'll know the temperature within a few degrees.

WINTER IS approaching when an animal's coat gets thicker; and ermine, weasel, polar bear and arctic fox start changing from dark to white. The caribou's hoof grows broader so it can walk over ice and snow. In the spring, bears come out of hibernation; peacocks strut; migrating birds return north and busy themselves with nest building.

Farm accidents telescope losses. On one Iowa farm last year, the farmer fell from the haymow, broke his leg and hurt his back. Medical costs were $180, but the additional losses as a result of the accident were far greater.

The year prior to the accident, this farmer had earned $13,450 from a well managed operation, but income dropped to only $6,780 last year.

A study of his farm records showed a huge loss in baby pigs because farrowing pens had not been set up in time. Dairy production dropped as a result of poor feeding. Field crop operations were poorly timed.

THE FARMER hobbled out to work before his leg had fully healed and had a setback at a crucial time for his farm operations. He was unable to hire enough help to handle farm work properly.

Thus, the $180 accident resulted in hit-or-miss farm management which caused a loss of $6,670 on the farm operation during the year.

If you're in average health, you'll see the doctor about five times a year, according to the Health Insurance Institute. Farmers see the doctors at the rate of 3.6 visits a year as compared with 4.5 visits for their city cousins.

Home calls by the doctor today account for a national average of 5.1 calls per year.

August seems to be the healthiest month of the year according to the Institute.

Insects Plague The Corn Crop

The corn crop, like the cotton crop, offers a tremendous opportunity for its insect enemies. Large acreages, continuous cropping, thicker planting and lush growth due to heavy fertilization all provide food and housing for hordes of insects on both of these crops. Poisoning cotton insects such as the boll weevil and the boll worm, has become one of the chief occupations of the cotton grower.

Insect treatment in corn to date has been sporadic rather than continuous. When a sudden infestation of some insect arises, treatment is used on corn, but it is not on a continuous planned schedule, as in many cotton areas.

THIS YEAR, a new insect menance which has attracted much attention is the corn rootworm. Since most of its damage occurs on the roots, the corn grower seldom sees it in its damaging state of a small, white, tunneling borer—½" to ¾" in length. Its damage is not apparent until corn blows down easily in late summer or early fall winds, due to the cutting off of supporting roots.

The corn rootworm has been around for a long time, but its particularly heavy infestation this year seems to come from a new strain resistant to aldrin and heptachlor—formerly successful chemical controls. Chief trouble spot has been in irrigated areas of southern Nebraska.

Continuous corn in the irrigated area in and near the Platte Valley has been heavily infested. Up to 50 rootworms to a stalk have been reported by DeKalb observers. Corn plants in such fields can be easily pulled from the soil.

IN MID-AUGUST, the adult beetle—a striped yellowish relative of the common spotted cucumber beetles — has been swarming in southern Nebraska. Half of the farmers there in some sections have been using aerial spray to kill the beetles. Spraying does two things: 1) reduces prospective parents of a 1962 infestation and 2) kills the beetles which feed on fresh corn silks, making for poorly pollinated ears.

The Nebraska rootworm is called "Western"; other variations are the Southern, which is the spotted cucumber beetle, and the Northern, the adult of which is a solid, yellowish green color. More difficulty may be expected in the future from this insect. (FM

Begin Crackdown Against Smugglers

A crackdown began this week on livestock smugglers bilking Illinois farmers out of hundreds of thousands of dollars.

Ralph S. Bradley, director of agriculture, said that violators are bringing feeder pigs into the state without verterinary permits or health certificates.

"OFF THE truck" selling by these unprincipled hucksters may be the reason for the recently reported loss of $80,000 in pigs from cholera in seven southwestern Illinois counties, says Dr. Roy A. Thompson, superintendent of livestock industry, in the agriculture department.

Bradley said a portion of the blame for the situation developing from these "roadside" sales lies with the farmers and livestock merchants who buy.

"The operators in these transactions." Bradley said, "are using every device to bilk the farmer, fake bills of sale and even spurious health certificates"

LIVESTOCK coming into the state must have a health certificate and permit from the Division of Livestock Industry and must undergo a 14-day quarantine and vaccinations.

"All farmers should ask for health papers on all livestock they purchase," Bradley warned. (Fm

Slate IAA Dedication Ceremony on Sept. 7

The welcome mat is out for Illinois farmers at the new Illinois Agricultural association home office building in Bloomington. Special dedication activities are slated for September 7.

The open house begins at 9 a.m. on the morning of "Farm Bureau Day" in Illinois — Thursday, September 7. Entertainment will start from the platform at 10:30 a.m. with a band concert by the Cerro Gordo high school band and will continue through the dedicatory ceremony which will start at 1:45 p.m. Music by Bloomington Barbershoppers and the noontime WGN "Country Fair" broadcast from the front of the building will entertain the 10,000 persons expected to attend this all-day event.

IAA PRESIDENT William J. Kuhfuss will conduct the dedication ceremonies. Charles B. Shuman, former IAA president, will deliver the dedicatory address. Shuman, American Farm Bureau Federation president, was IAA president from 1945 to 1954 when he left the IAA to assume leadership of the national organization. Shuman is a Sullivan livestock and grain farmer.

Besides the dedication ceremony, two other special events are planned for the afternoon program.

The time capsule placement containing information about Farm Bureau's early years — and information about recent accomplishments — will be a part of the service. It will be marked for opening in the year 2016, 100th anniversary of Farm Bureau in Illinois. A microfilmed copy of the August 1961 issue of the IAA RECORD will also be sealed in the capsule.

The time capsule is being donated by friends of Otto Steffey, IAA board member and president for more than 20 years, in memory to this Henderson county farm leader.

MONEY FOR this memorial fund came from County Farm Bureau and innumerable farmers who contributed to a memorial fund at the time of Mr. Steffey's death in 1958. Mrs. Steffey recently offered the money for a suitable memorial to all Farm Bureau members — past, present and the future — in her husband's name.

Another highlight will be the formal naming of the assembly room on the second floor near the main entrance in honor of Earl C. Smith. Mr. Smith was the sixth president of the IAA, serving as its head from 1926-1945. More than any other man, he built Farm Bureau, and plans to name this walnut-paneled room in his honor were made shortly before his death last June.

THE IAA dedication committee is completing arrangements with local county and state police to assure orderly traffic flow. Parking will be provided on the 55-acre site of the IAA building. Food will be available on the grounds.

County Farm Bureau presidents toured the building in early August and took part in a special ceremony symbolizing the unity of Farm Bureau throughout the state. The presidents brought small portions of soil from their county, and this soil was mixed and distributed on the flower garden at the north end of the courtyard in a special ceremony. (Fm

Down On The Farm

CARL F. MEES

with Your Farm Adviser

CIVILIZATION REACHES UPWARDS FROM the shoulders of agriculture. It began when one man consistently could grow more food and fiber than he needed himself. Thus, he helped to feed and clothe another who could become a craftsman or perform other services.

Ours was an agrarian nation when George Washington said: ". . . with reference either to individual or national welfare agriculture is of primary importance."

Ours was an industrial nation when Theodore Roosevelt declared: "The man who actually tills the soil is the man who is the foundation of our whole structure . . ."

Today, when one American farm worker feeds 26 people, and civilization is reaching for the planets, President Kennedy has said: "The interrelation between prosperity on the farm and economic health of the city has never been more apparent."

In no other country, and at no other time in our history, has agriculture provided so well for so many people as it does in the United States today. Agriculture is as vital as ever to the economy, well-being, and strength of the United States.

American agriculture also helps to undergird the free world. The matchless productivity of American farmland and efficiency of the American farmer are powerful forces for peace.

Agriculture is our biggest industry. It employs 7.1 million workers.

Agriculture creates millions of nonfarm jobs. It takes about 6 million people to supply farmers and another 10 million to store, transport, process, and merchandise the products of American agriculture.

The supermarket, the corner grocery, the restaurant, and our own kitchens usually are hundreds — sometimes thousands — of miles from the sources of our great variety of abundant, wholesome food.

Many foods reach our kitchens in new and appealing forms — as "ready mixes," as concentrated and dehydrated products, and as "heat-and-serve" dishes.

We have grown from a nation in which one of every four workers had to produce food, to a nation in which one farmer is efficiently producing food for twenty-six.

To get food from the one producer to the twenty-six consumers (including the farmer), we have created a vast, efficient system of marketing, storing, transporting, processing, wholesaling and retailing.

Ours is a very high level of living. Our children are taller, healthier than we were at the same age. They have a longer life expectancy. One important reason is that modern farm production and marketing give us a basic foundation for good health — nutritious, wholesome food in adequate amounts for a balanced diet. (Fm

The Big Three

The District of Columbia is run by a 3-man commission appointed by the President. Two are civilian residents of the district, the third is an army officer chosen from the Corps of Engineers.

This and That 4-H'ers Meet

Among the 14 present at the last meeting of the This and That 4-H club were a guest, Kathy Kimes, and Westen Buttles, a new member.

Talks were given by Sandy Church on "Flowers"; Karen Schmahl on "Rabbits"; and Bobby Schmahl on "Insects."

Caroline Kornfind and Linda and Jimmy Stark brought refreshments. (Fm

Hay Ride at Farm For This, That 4-H

Robert Pauling of Bloomingdale provided a tractor to take members of the This and That 4-H club for a recent hay ride at the nearby farm of the Tews family. Later in the evening refreshments were served the group by Nancy Tews. (Fm

Will Honor 4-H Club Citizens

The best 4-H citizens in the state and nation will soon be stepping up to claim well-deserved honors and the plaudits of their fellow 4-H'ers for having demonstrated praiseworthy participation in public affairs, civic welfare, community events and club responsibilities.

The 1961 award recipients will include a pair of national winners who will receive an expense-paid trip to the National 4-H Club Congress next fall, a $400 college scholarship and a handsome, engraved silver tray.

THE TOP-RATED girl and boy in the state receive a certificate of honor usually presented to them during a special 4-H recognition event, according to the 4-H Service Committee.

THE TWO national award award winners will be in line for one of 4-H's highest honors: being named to represent the more than 2.3 million 4-H members during National 4-H Club Week next March. (FM

Coeds Return to Stephens Campus

Five students from the Northwest area will be attending Stephens college in Columbia, Mo., this fall when the independent residiential college for women starts classes on September 18.

Before the fall terms begins, however, students who hold offices will arrive early to attend a two-day Student Leaders' Workshop on September 8-9. All students will arrive on campus by September 11. Registration will take place September 12-16.

Student leaders who have been invited to return early for the workshop include Dawn April Davis, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wilfred Elmer Davis, 555 Banbury, Arlington Heights.

MORE THAN 1700 women students from all parts of the globe will be in the classes at Stephens College this fall. The student body will have girls from 49 states and from 17 foreign countries or commonwealths. These include Belgium, Canada, England, France, Holland, Iran, Italy, Japan, Korea, Libya, Mexico, Puerto Rico, Thailand, Turkey, Uruguay, the Phillippine Islands, and Pakistan.

Accepted for admission as new students this fall are: Lynda Beth Eaton, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Richard C. Eaton, 420 We-Go Trail, Mt. Prospect; Penelope Jean Channer, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Fredrick Wyndham Channer, 1894 W. Stuart lane, Palatine; Georgia Ellen Goewey, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. G. E. Goewey, 542 Bristol lane, Arlington Heights.

FIRST STARTED in the 1960-61 school year, the Stephens College House Plan will be expanded this year to include three programs, two for juniors and one for seniors. The House Plan, made possible by a grant from the Ford Foundation's Fund for the Advancement of Education, is based on the assumption that learning and living are not two activities but one. Each House Plan is centered in a residence hall.

Junior students who will take part in the Junior House Plan include Gail Ruth Garvens, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Howard L. Garvens, 117 N. Dewey, Palatine. (CC

At Northwestern

America's drive for excellence in engineering and science must be paying off — at least if Northwestern's National High School institute in engineering this summer is any indication.

About 350 high school juniors applied for 96 openings at the institute which started July 2. Climax of the 5-week session arrived August 4, when diplomas were presented to the 96.

Among graduates from this locality were William J. Stull, 640 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights; and William R. Decherd, 146 S. Plum Grove, Palatine.

At Southern Illinois

A total of 558 students were candidates for degrees at Southern Illinois university summer commencement exercises in Carbondale August 11. The class, including 55 Southwestern campus candidates, was the largest summer graduating group in SIU history.

Exercises were conducted at McAndrew stadium, with Dr. Georgia Gantt Winn, professor of English at SIU, as commencement speaker. Verne Wilhelm Jr., 551 Clearmont dr., Elk Grove Village, was among those who received bachelor's degrees. (CC

At North Carolina

Donna Ann Johnson, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. E. L. Johnson, 311 S. Belmont, Arlington Heights, pre-registered this week in the general college program at the University of North Carolina, Chapel Hill.

Purpose of the pre-registration program is to enable students entering the university to take required placement tests in advance, select his subjects for the fall and to have the opportunity to consult officials regarding loans, scholarships, jobs, housing, and ROTC opportunities.

At Colorado State

The degree of master of arts was conferred upon Dayton Kieth Chase of Rolling Meadows at the summer quarter commencement of Colorado State College, Aug. 17.

Degrees were conferred upon 746 candidates — 49 candidates for the doctor of education degree, 3 for specialist in education, 438 for master of arts degree, 245 for the bachelor of arts (teacher preparation), and 11 for the bachelor of arts in liberal arts.

Chase received his bachelor of science degree from Mankato State College in Minnesota in 1956. He served two years with the U. S. Army and has taught in the Britt, Iowa, and Arlington Heights school systems. He received his master of arts degree in business education. Chase and his wife, Joyce, reside at 2609 Park street in Rolling Meadows.

At St. Anne's

Virginia Milligan, 515 S. I-Oka, Mt. Prospect, a registered X-ray technician of the American Registry of X-ray Technicians, has resumed her duties as instructor of X-ray physics at St. Anne's hospita, 4950 W. Thomas, Chicago.

She is employed in the offices of Dr. R. M. Cassidy, Oak Park, was former president of the Chicago Society of X-ray Technicians and now holds the Illinois State society presidency.

At Hillsdale

Among the students entering Hillsdale college September 17 for the liberal arts institution's 117th year of operation are Barbara Cooper, 532 E. Kenilworth; Elizabeth Manning, 31 W. Robertson; and Kay Rehusch, 384 E. Wilmette, all of Palatine.

Hillsdale, a liberal arts institution, stresses preparation for leadership through both learning and experience on and off campus. (CC

At Braidwood

Henry Potts, son of Mr. and Mrs. Carl Potts of Meacham rd., Palatine, is a student at the Greer Earthmoving school, Braidwod, Ill.

He is enrolled in course I, studying the operation and preventive maintenance of trucks, bulldozers, end loaders, and scrapers. Training began on August 14 and will continue for a period of five weeks.

At U. of Chicago

Charles F. Harding III, rt. 22, Long Grove, has been elected secretary of the University of Chicago Law school alumni association. (CC

At Academy

Cadet Terrance M. Drabant, son of Mr. and Mrs. Elmer Drabant, 339 W. Old Plum Grove rd., Palatine, has successfully completed seven weeks of basic cadet training at the United States Air Force Academy near Colorado Springs, Colo.

The class of 1965, of which he is a member, was formally accepted into the Cadet Wing at a parade and ceremony held August 17. They began their formal academic training along with the rest of the 2,200-man Cadet Wing when the Academy started its school year on August 21.

In Alaska

A/1C Robert A. Johnson, son of Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Johnson, 1604 W. Central rd., Arlington Heights, is now stationed in Alaska at a remote radar site on a one-year assignment.

Johnson is married to the former Carole Weinacht of Palatine. His address is: 708th ACW Squadron, APO 348, Seattle, Wash. (WUS

At Whitewater

Doreen Matara, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Michael T. Matara, Mount Prospect, will serve as student counselor to assist freshmen entering Whitewater State college this fall.

The student counselors, working under the direction of faculty advisors, will greet new students on their arrival at the Wisconsin college, escort them about the campus and assist them through Orientation Week activities.

Captain Is In Training For Marines

Marine Capt. Lawrence E. Dickerson, Jr., 1533 Ridge ave., Arlington Heights, is participating in annual field training with the 2nd Communication Support Battalion of Chicago at San Diego, Cal.

Dickerson, a naval gunfire officer, is receiving instruction on ammunition, weapons selection, and employment of naval guns and will spend several days on a destroyer firing missions on San Clemente Island, while in California.

Capt. Dickerson is a graduate of Northwestern university, where he was president of Alpha Delta Phi, social fraternity, and Pi Alpha Mu, professional fraternity. He enlisted in the Marines in 1950 and is a veteran of the Korean war.

In civilian life, he was recently appointed manager of the Charles A. Stevens and co. store in Hubbard Woods, Winnetka.

In North Atlantic

Serving aboard the anti-submarine warfare support aircraft carrier USS Essex, conducting a summer training cruise in the North Atlantic is Jack E. Griffith, fireman, USN, son of Mr. and Mrs. V. L. Griffith of 308 W. Center st., Itasca.

Operating out of Quonset Point, R.I., the Essex has visited New York City and Halifax, Nova Scotia, during the cruise.
